Ship Lines Face Hard Times

Passengers Must Take All Responsibility for Liquor Supply

Will Be Required to Order and Pay in Advance for Drinks

[BY RADIO AND EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

LONDON, June 6.—The American dry cordon is the result of a number of vicissitudes which are bringing hard times to both shipping lines and the public accordingly are taking every measure to cut the losses on the prohibition score to a minimum.

The companies themselves will avoid responsibility. Passengers sailing with the White Star line from Wednesday's voyages on the Adriatic and Baltic and for all subsequent westbound passages will be asked to pay in advance for wine and liquor they may order during the trip. Drinks so ordered will be taken from bond by the steward in charge of the cabin who will see that the passenger receives them.

[illegible] RESPONSIBLE

[illegible] from the officers' and crew supplies will be turned in to the official stores when the American line is reached and the passengers will have to dispose of whatever is left in their possession [illegible] the responsibility for any [illegible] on their part. DIRIGIBLE BURNS UP

Caught in Storm After Flight

Two of Crew Hurt When TC-1 Hits Steel Mooring Post at Dayton Field

Army Gas Bag Was Largest of Kind in Country; "Flivver" Crashes

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DAYTON (O.) June 6. — The United States air service dirigible TC-1 was destroyed by fire shortly after it moored at Wilbur Wright Field at 6 p.m. here tonight.

The ship, the largest of its kind in this country, was destroyed during a severe electrical storm. It came to Dayton late today from Scott Field, Illinois, on a test flight.

Sergts. Harry Barnes, Scott Field, and A. C. Maranville, Akron, representatives of the Goodyear Rubber Company, which built the ship, were injured when they jumped forty feet to the ground when the big bag caught fire.

CREW OF TEN MEN

Barnes's ankle was broken and his knee sprained. Maranville suffered a crushed ankle and a sprained arm. Both are in hospitals.

The ship was flown to Dayton by a crew of ten men, commanded by Lieut. Clyde Kunts.

Lieut. Kunts and other members of the crew left the ship shortly before the accident.

The ship had been moored to one of the steel towers when it was caught in the wind and swung around, coming in contact with an-

CHINESE CABINET QUITS

Financial Difficulties and Bandit Episode Drive Out Premier Chang; Captives Still Held

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PEKING, June 6.—The Chinese Cabinet of Premier Chang Shao-tseng, whose existence began only last January, tendered its resignation to President Li Yuan-hung today.

The reasons for the Cabinet's action were not made public, but it is understood the apparent cause was the refusal of President Li to accept recommendations in the matter of appointment of several local officials.

The national financial problem, which for some time has caused much worry to the present administration, is believed by those close to the situation to have been the impelling motive in the sudden intention of the Cabinet.

Premier Chang has announced his intention of leaving at once for Tien-Tsin.

FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES

The difficulties of the various Chinese cabinets have had mostly to do with the raising of sufficient finances to carry on the government and in attempting to settle the numerous difficulties of the tuchuns, or military governors, of the provinces. Recent defaults in the payment of inter-

NEW YORK POLICE OFFER AID IN FEDERAL DRY WAR

Spectacular Raids Are Followed by Arrest of Counterfeiters and Liquor Seizures

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Renewed activity was shown today by both Federal and police officials in their endeavors to keep New York dry in spite of the repeal of the State liquor enforcement law. Coming close on the heels of several spectacular raids by Federal operatives, in which thirteen counterfeiters were arrested and millions of bogus whisky labels and plates seized, was the pledge of police co-operation in the war on rum.

Corporation Counsel Nicholson announced late today that the police would aid the dry agents in the eforcement of the Volstead Act, just as they did before the Mullan-Gage law was enacted. This decision was reached at a conference between Federal and State officials.

The conference, which was held at the corporation counsel's office, was called to determine the status of the State and city authorities on the enforcement question in view of the repeal of the Mullan-Gage law. Among those present were Corporation Counsel Nicholson, Police Commissioner Enright and Col. William Hayward, United States District Attorney.

CANFIELD ABSENT

Prohibition Director Palmer Canfield, who had asked that the conference be held next week, was not present. It was said at his office that he is out of town. No representative of the State Attorney-General attended the meeting. "Commissioner Enright and Col.

CHICAGO SET FOR STREET CAR STRIKE

Labor Already on Hand to Take Trolley and Elevated Employees' Places

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 6.—A small army of strike-breakers is in Chicago it was learned today, waiting for the walk-out of platform men on surface and "L" lines.

No deal has been closed between company executives and these industrial adventurers or their self-appointed leaders, it was stated, but the deadlock over the wage dispute is considered so hopeless the men consider their employment a certainty. The leaders, it is said, are almost as numerous as the strike-breakers.

The company and the unions today stood pat on their original position, and spokesmen for each side were frank in admitting that the peace efforts of Mayor Dever seemed hopeless.

"We are hoping against hope," said President Quinlan of the carmen's union, "that the Mayor will be able to solve the affair.

"The men are firm in their stand for their demands. The company appears to be equally determined. It looks like a hopeless deadlock."

Ending of the present truce in the union strike plans is expected Saturday night, when the elevated trainmen's union meets. Should this branch of the international organization approve the taking of a strike vote, it is believed that Mr. Quinlan immediately will issue a call for a special meeting of his union to authorize a similar referendum.

Such action would bring about a strike the end of next week.

ALLIES PRESENT UNITED FRONT ON REPARATIONS

Germany Is Given to Understand Passive Resistance Must Cease Before Terms Are Considered

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BRUSSELS, June 6.—A solid and united allied front by France, Belgium and Great Britain and Italy on the question of German reparations, with France and Belgium agreed on a policy with regard to the Ruhr, appears to be forecast in consequence of a meeting here today between Premier Poincare of France and Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jaspar of Belgium.

A striking feature of the session, according to both the French and Belgians, was that a way was left open for Stanley Baldwin, the British Prime Minister, to propose a solution should it prove impossible to arrange a joint Allied reply to new proposals Germany is expected to make almost immediately on the question of reparations.

The French expressed willingness to meet any reasonable German plan in a spirit of conciliation and, aside from insisting that payment from Germany must be forthcoming before the French soldiers march out of the Ruhr, Poincare declared he was ready and willing to entertain settlement suggestions from friendly quarters. It is asserted that when the French Premier made this statement, Baldwin particularly was in his mind.

The French, with the Belgians supporting their view, still held out for a cessation of German passive resistance as an indefinite requirement before Germany's new offer is examined; but Poincare's attitude on the whole, nevertheless, is construed here as decidedly less uncompromising than heretofore. The two Allies, France and Belgium, again at today's meeting reaffirmed their decision to evacuate the Ruhr only as Germany has paid.

IN COMPLETE ACCORD

Grave fears had been voiced that the French and Belgian viewpoints would prove irreconcilable; but after a private talk of more than an hour between Poincare, Theunis and Jaspar, which was considered the most important feature of the day, it was announced officially that "an understanding has been reached." The meeting of the "board of directors of the Ruhr occupation company, limited," as the French Premier described today's session, proved to be a general discussion of the reparations question.

When the delegates met tonight at the French Embassy for dinner, Poincare and Jaspar decided that another meeting set for tonight was unnecessary. Poincare, therefore, will return to Paris about 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The new German note which some thought might arrive in Brussels today, failed to make its appearance. The Premiers, however, were enabled to outline their eventual reply.

BELGIANS SKEPTICAL

The Belgians, while skeptical as to the acceptability of Germany's new proposal, expressed the opinion that the offer should be examined and answered. As the note will be addressed to all the Allies, the Belgians were of the belief that it would afford an opportunity to restore the Allied front by a joint reply. Poincare assented to this.

The plans agreed on by the conferees to increase the effectiveness of the Ruhr occupation as a producer of returns, both in kind and in cash, included the creation of an international syndicate to exploit tobacco and alcohol monopolies in the occupied regions. This measure in the Belgian plan bears the notation, "must be submitted to Great Britain." It was accepted

KANSAS CITY IS CHOSEN

Gets 1924 Shrine Convention

Brooklyn Man Promoted to Be Imperial Potentate of Order

Los Angeles Delegation is Drawing Thousands to Headquarters

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Shriners in session here today selected Kansas City as their 1924 convention city, and elevated Conrad V. Dykeman of Brooklyn, to the post of Imperial Potentate, succeeding James S. McCandless of Honolulu.

Dykeman advanced from the office of Imperial Deputy Potentate, in accordance with the Imperial Council's custom, and all other members of the Imperial Divan, went up one step nearer the top. Clifford Ireland of Peoria, Ill., a former member of the House of Representatives was elected to the vacancy thus created for Imperial Outer Guard.

Imperial Potentate Dykeman's divan includes James E. Chandler of Kansas City, Imperial Deputy Potentate; James C. Burger of Denver, Imperial Chief Rabban; David W. Crosland of Montgomery, Ala., Assistant Chief Rabban; Clarence M. Dunbar of Providence, R. I., Imperial High Priest and Prophet; Frank C. Jones of Houston, Tex., Imperial Oriental Guide; Leo V. Youngworth of Los Angeles, Imperial First Ceremonial Master; Esten A. Fletcher of Rochester, N. Y., Imperial Second Ceremonial Master; Thomas J. Houston of Chicago, Imperial Marshal; Earl C. Mills of Des Moines, Imperial Captain of the Guards.

William S. Brown of Pittsburg and Benjamin W. Rowell of Boston, respectively, were re-elected Imperial Treasurer and Imperial Recorder. Sam P. Cochran of Dallas; Bishop Frederick W. Keator of Tacoma, and Arthur W. Chapman of Winnipeg, were elected members of the board of trustees of the Shriners' hospitals for crippled children, four of which have been completed, with six more projected.

WHITE HOUSE SERENADED

A number of temple bands serenaded President Harding, who is a Shriner, and Mrs. Harding during the day and presented a number of gifts. Mrs. Harding entertained thirty wives of visiting Shrine officials at luncheon, and later received a 199-pound selection of California fruits and flowers from Islam Temple of San Francisco.

Former President Wilson was serenaded at his home by the Greenville, S. C., patrol and exchanged greetings with the visitors.

Army, Navy, coast guard and air service exhibitions were held during the day for the benefit of the Shriners, a large number of whom were guests of Maj.-Gen. Lejeune, commandant of the marine corps, on a boat trip to the marine base at Quantico, Va.

The Southern Rowing Association held a regatta on the Potomac and a swimming meet, sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union, was held in the Tidal Basin, while a massed band concert, in which Army, Navy and marine bands took part, was held near the Washington Monument under the auspices of the Belleau Wood Memorial Association.

STILLMAN CASE GIRL IS PEEVED

Mrs. Talbert Asserts She is Not Enjoying Pestering by Reporters in Paris

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, June 6. — The slim, chestnut-haired Mrs. Joseph Talbert "had a rotten time in Paris," according to one of the few phrases which she vouchsafed this afternoon.

The widow who is prominently named in the new developments of the Stillman case, has been besieged for the last three weeks—the length of her Paris visit—by reporters and photographers. She is accompanied by Mrs. Black, a gray-haired woman, who asserts that she is Mrs. Talbert's mother.

The first impulse of Mrs. Talbert was to deny that she was the woman named as James Stillman's latest friend. She did so two weeks ago.

Afterward, acting on the advice of her Paris attorney, she stated that she knew Mr. Stillman, but she added that she was not connected with the case. Two detectives on duty in the hotel reception room present a cold front to visitors.

Mrs. Talbert has been shopping extensively although her costumes already are elegant enough to satisfy the most fastidious taste. Accompanied by Mrs. Black, she goes daily—always to the same destination—she says the dressmakers.

This afternoon during her daily encounter with photographers, she was equipped with an enormous umbrella as well as a thick veil and her belligerent mother.

"They spoiled by visit to Paris," she said waving vaguely to the group outside the hotel. "I have had a rotten time.

"The Stillman case? Why ask me? I don't know anything and I would not say so if I did."

"AGED MAN AND A SIREN"

King's Counselor Applies This Term to Richard Croker and Wife in Will Contest Case

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

DUBLIN, June 6.—At the continuation today of the trial of the Croker will case, the attorneys for Mrs. Bula E. Croker, widow of the testator, rested their case, and an attack on it was opened on behalf of Richard Croker, Jr., by James Lardner, King's counsellor, who once was a prominent member of the Irish party in the House of Commons. Mr. Lardner replaces Sergt. Sullivan, who was obliged to return to London.

Mr. Lardner, in outlining the case, said it was that of "an aged man living with a siren;" that Mr. Croker was completely dominated by her, and led by her into quarreling with all his children and stripping himself of and handing to the "siren" every scrap of his property. The lawyer said it had been made clear that when Mr. Croker made his last will, he had definitely parted with his Palm Beach and Irish properties, as well as his cash and bonds, and that he had no property whatever to leave, except such as might accidentally have been overlooked or might result from pending litigation in the United States. Counsel estimated the money Mr. Croker gave to his family at $500,000, and said his wife, Mrs. Bula Croker, got $3,000,000.

William Jellett, King's counselor, in opening the case for Mrs. Ethel C. White of Cedarhurst, N. Y., daughter of the late Mr. Croker, asserted that he intended to prove by witnesses that in 1911 and 1912 Mrs. Bula Croker was at Northhampton, Mass., and was introduced to various persons she named by Guy Marone, as Marone's wife; that she told some of them she was an Indian princess, and that she gave recitals.

Counsel for Mrs. Croker flatly and in detail denied all these allegations. Her counsel said the case would turn on which set of witnesses the jury would believe. The case is likely to last several days more.

COBB'S DAUGHTER TO WED NEW PERSEYITE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The engagement of Miss Elizabeth Cobb, daughter of Irvin S. Cobb, author, to Frank Michler Chapman, Jr., of Englewood, N. J., was announced today. Miss Cobb until recently was a member of the editorial staff of The Bookman. Chapman is the son of Dr. Frank Chapman, curator of the Department of Ornithology of the Museum of Natural History.

Two Stockings, Shoes, Step-in and One Dress

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 6. — Modest or immodest?—that is the question. Fashion having decreed that the mode for girls and young women this summer shall consist of just six articles of clothing, there are those who declare it is immodest and those who say it isn't.

The six pieces—two shoes, two stockings, a step-in and — and a dress. Count 'em, just six . . . no—ah, undershirt, no corset, no bloomers, no underskirt —just six and the shoes and stockings 66 2-3 per cent of the six.

Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, vice-president of the Parent-Teacher Association, is not much alarmed. She takes a more liberal view. "It is not so bad as all that," she says. "The modern girl is well dressed when she is dressed sensibly, modestly and fashionably. Our grandmothers thought it was shocking if they didn't have six starched petticoats on at once; but the modern girl is athletic — she doesn't want a lot of clothes."

Ten Relatives Named in Suit for Alienation

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) June 6.—Mrs. Amber Allis, former English actress and wife of Gilbert Allis, today filed in Circuit Court a $250,000 alienation of affections suit against ten wealthy Milwaukee society folk, all members of or related to the Allis family.

The complaint charges that the defendants harbored a dislike for her, which was continued with relentless activity; that they sought to prejudice her husband's mind against her and alienate his affections; by coaxing and threats of disassociation, by depriving him of his interests in the various Allis trust funds and by pressing him socially and financially caused him to neglect and fail to support her with the purpose of driving her to procure a divorce.

Doctors Not to Disturb Bullet in Man's Brain

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, June 6.—Leslie McCaleb, 28 years of age, who at 10 years of age was shot in the head, still carries the bullet, surgeons announced today after taking X-Ray pictures of the man's head.

It has been revealed that his fainting spells are due not to the bullet but to splinters of bone which were carried into the brain by the bullet. These will be removed by the surgeons, who believe the patient's health will be restored. The bullet, they find, will not cause trouble if it is not disturbed.

McCaleb's case is regarded as one of the most remarkable in surgical annals. He served through the war and is said to have been normal until recently.

FOURTEEN MEN SAVED AFTER BARGE IS SUNK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, June 6.—Fourteen men were rescued late this afternoon after they had been thrown into the harbor when the Clyde Liner Norfolk, outward bound, crashed into a barge used in place of the Broadway-Locust point ferry and the tug Solicitor was towing it.

Both the tug and the barge foundered almost immediately after the crash. Other tugs and small craft dashed to the aid of the men floundering helplessly in the water and succeeded in rescuing all.

WOOD WILL IGNORE BOARD OF CONTROL

The Board of Control notified all departments such conservation must be made. Wood holds the board has no jurisdiction over allocation of funds over the budget.

HERO OF GARRISON FINISH FAMILIAR TURF FIGURE

Meteoric Rise and Fall of Noted Jockeys Offers Moral for Followers of Ponies

BY RAYMOND G. CARROLL
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—A secretary entered the office of a brusque business man in the Lower Broadway district this morning. "Mr. Garrison is on the telephone, sir," he announced after deftly dropping a quantity of opened mail into its usual place on the glass rider of the flat-top mahogany desk.

"Who?" gruffly demanded the business man.

"Mr. Garrison, sir," repeated the unruffled secretary adding: "Says he knew you in the good old days."

The business man scowled and knit his brows, then gave it up and shook the telephone receiver from its hook. As he listened his face softened, and there came into meld that restful expression which only can be sculptured by pleasant memories. Soon he was laughing, and just before he hung up the receiver was heard to say; "All right Snapper, you can get me in the grandstand at Belmont Park."

GREAT RACE RECALLED

Thirty years ago "Snapper" Garrison was regarded as the greatest jockey on the American turf. His whirlwind on Montana when he won the Suburban in 1893 is still remembered by all the old-timers.

Montana was owned by the late Marcus Daly, the Butte millionaire mining man and father-in-law of Judge James W. Gerard, formerly American Ambassador to Berlin. The Daly horse-breeding establishment on the Bitter Root River was the best of its kind. Mr. Daly had secured Garrison to ride Montana, named in honor of the State where his treasures were located.

When the horses were sent away by the starter in the great eastern classic Garrison somehow failed to keep his mount up in the front division, and when the field turned into the home-stretch Montana was so far out of the race that no one gave him a chance to even be in the money. But here was where Garrison displayed his wonderful riding qualities.

THE GARRISON FINISH

He set to work on his mount and in all the years that have since elapsed there has never been such another finish. The "Snapper" fairly lifted his mount from the ground and carried him in his lap, a great exhibition of horsemanship, winning safely over Lamplighter and Major Domo, such a climax that even today in recounting an unusually brilliant effort on the part of an athlete, it is spoken and written of as a "Garrison finish."

Daly, "the copper king," won $110,000 on that race and he tossed the $10,000 to "Snapper" as a present for his gameness. Three years before, Garrison had won the Suburban on Raceland, owned by August Belmont, father of the living banker, Belmont, of that name. The year after the Montana victory "Snapper" took the American Derby in Chicago with Boundless in another stirring finish.

FAME SHORT-LIVED

Like that of the sleek-coated thoroughbred he bestrides, the career of the average jockey is decidedly ephemeral. Flashing on the horizon of the turfworld apparently from nowhere, he leaps to the zenith of his fame, and, after shining there for a few years plunges downward like a shooting star, to be swallowed in the blackness of obscurity.

Some jockeys there are who are willing to heed the advice of their mentors, who save their money and become owners. Others become trainers for the stable for which they were accustomed to ride. But the vast majority of the little lads who in the days of their fame earned annually a king's ransom disappear utterly from view.

"Do you knew," said our business man of lower Broadway, "I have not seen a horse race for years, but I am going out this afternoon just to have a talk with Snapper, game little Snapper, about Ike Murphy, who on Salvador beat him by a nose on Tenny at Sheepshead Bay in 1890. I saw that race, and it was the best horse that won, not the best jockey.

"These were the grand times for the jockeys—I knew 'em all. There was Tod Sloan, Danny Maher, the Reiff brothers, O'Neill, Skeets Martin, Winnie O'Connor, Sims, Fred Taral, Soup Perkins, Willie Martin, Coburn, Dave Nicol, McIntyre, Buttrelf and Guy Burns. Yip! but they were hotsey-totsies!"

"And Snapper, now?" we asked.

"Tells me that he still keeps abreast, clocks the ponies himself at the early morning tryouts, makes his own handicaps, and has the wise information," said the business man, opening his best box of cigars, then concluding with a touch of sadness: "'Garrison's Finish,' and not exactly a Garrison finish."

Among hotel folk the Waldorf-Astoria is regarded as a sort of "mother hen" that has sent many chicks into the world of hotels. The majority who received their hotel training under the spreading wings of Mrs. Waldorf-Astoria attained the rank of assistant managers before they went forth to successful other fields.

Halsey R. Manwaring of the Palace, San Francisco, and James Woods, operating the Biltmore in Los Angeles, are from this same alma mater, also W. H. Barse of the Hamilton in Washington, John Hobby of the Crown in Providence, Alfred S. Amer of the St. Charles in New Orleans, and John Doyle and William J. Quinn, respectively, with the Stafford and Belvedere of Baltimore. George Gazeley of the Bailey Country Club and A. J. Cougian of the Au Sable Club come in the same category.

The Waldorf section of the old landmark at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street is four years older than the Astoria section, which was erected in 1897. Much that stands today for good hotel service owes its origin to the late George C. Boldt, the first proprietor of what fell upon both sides of the hyphen. The late Viscount Astor of England and the late Col. John Jacob Aster built the dual hostelry for Mr. Boldt.

Roy Caruthers, who now operates the old establishment is planning a reunion of the Boldt alumni; it would be a pleasing shock to see them all in their old jobs, just for a day.

BID FOR CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Los Angeles delegates to the imperial council of the Shriners here today made formal application to have the 1923 Shriners convention held in Los Angeles. This date was selected because in that year Leo Youngworth, who was today elected Imperial Ceremonial Master will become the Imperial Potentate of the order.

Today the El Malaikah Shriners visited Mount Vernon and other points of interest in and around Washington and then appeared in the grand night parade in the dress of Spanish grandees. After the parade they put on a show at the Spanish Gardens headquarters of the temple in the Washington Hotel, which was the talk of all Washington. Fourteen members of the temple have been practising Spanish dancing and put on a remarkable demonstration in costume.

Shriners from every spot in America today registered in even greater numbers than ever at the Los Angeles headquarters and the distribution of oranges and souvenir booklets of the Southern California beauty spots increased in intensity and at times all the corridors leading to the headquarters were blocked with Shriners and their friends waiting for a chance to learn of the land of promise and prosperity.

other steel post. The bag was highly charged with electricity, and the connection with the two steel towers caused the explosion and fire, it is believed.

The TC-1 was of the same size as the C-2 which was destroyed by fire at San Antonio, Tex., last year after completing a transcontinental flight.

Lightning struck another hangar at Wright Field tonight, but little damage was caused.

The TC-1 finished its trial test flight over Scott Field on April 7, last, and was accepted by the government. On its trip to Wright Field, it passed over Dayton, at 5:30, flying low, went to the field, circled and was moored, only a short time before it was destroyed.

"FLIVVER" PLANE CRASHES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PAULSBORO (N. J.) June 6.—Georges Barbot, who left Garden City L. I., in an attempt to fly his "flivver" airplane to Washington, D. C., was caught in a strong gust of wind while passing over here, and crashed into a large oak tree near Mantua Creek, before he could get the machine under control.

Barbot with Lieut. Francis B. Valentine as a pilot in a larger plane, stopped at Pine Valley shortly before 1 p.m., after having come from Garden City without mishap. Valentine, however, in making a landing, stripped his landing gear, and was unable to continue the trip.

Barbot, a few minutes later, took the air without the larger machine to guide him.

He ascended to a height of about 10,000 feet, and was gliding downward when a strong westerly wind seized the tiny machine and tossed it into a sideslip. The Frenchman was unable to right the machine as the motor had stalled and he was only about 300 feet from the ground.

The left wing caught in the branches of the tree and the plane slid gently to the ground. Barbot escaped without a scratch.

The plane was not badly damaged. As soon as a new wing is put in place Barbot plans to make the attempt again.

"RAIL PLANE" TESTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—N. J. Nordman of Flushing, L. I., and builder of a motorless "rail plane"—a new departure in soaring devices—gave his machine its second test this afternoon. The first flight was made last Saturday. The plane sailed for 1000 feet today, but, owing to poor atmospheric conditions, the test did not fully come up to the inventor's hopes, which encompass the establishment of a new glider record.

Nordman explained tonight that lack of a suitable elevation from which to conduct experimental flights has hampered seriously fair tests for his invention so far, but he expects to beat the world's record when such a field and proper wind conditions are available.

DISABLED VETERAN FOUND DYING BY GAS

MOTHER OF GEORGE BABAD ASSERTS HE HAD BEEN DESPONDENT

George Babad, 27 years of age, talented violinist and disabled war veteran, was found unconscious in a gas-filled room by his mother last night at their home at 1542 East Van Ness street, Graham Station. Although he was still alive when found he died at the General Hospital four hours later.

According to his mother, Mrs. Rose Babad, the veteran had been despondent for some time, owing to his inability to make a living with his violin lessons.

CALIFORNIA ART GIFT DEDICATED

Prominent Persons Present at Paris Ceremony

Collection for San Francisco Palace is Rare

Works Are Gifts of French Republic and People

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 6.—The exhibition of works of art donated by the French government and private individuals and which will form a part of the permanent collection in the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, now being completed in San Francisco, was yesterday inaugurated in the historic Legion of Honor building on the banks of the Seine.

Leon Berard, Minister of Public Instruction, opened the exercises which were attended by Minister Herrick, prominent members of the American colony and by many notables of France, including Marshal and Mme. Joffre, Marshal Foch, Gen. Dubail, Grand Chancellor of the Legion of Honor, and others.

The California palace—the Golden Gate Edition of the original palace of the Legion—was donated by Adolph Spreckles and his wife, Alma De Bretteville Spreckles, under the patronage of President Harding, President Millerand and other leading American and French officials.

Expressing thanks for the collection, Minister Herrick recalled an act by France which would be long warmly remembered among Californians. Few people, he said, realised that France, immediately after receiving her first stunning blow from Germany at the beginning of the war, nevertheless had appropriated money for her participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The collection contains eleven sculptures by Rodin, seventy-nine pieces of sculpture by Arthur Putnam the noted California artist, a marble copy of Winged Victory in the Louvre, a series of gobelin tapestries designed by the late Jean Paul Laurens, and many other rare art specimens.

Monroe Exhibit Half Dollar Is Given Harding

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Harding was today presented with the first of the Monroe Doctrine centennial silver half dollars just received from the mint. This action is preliminary to the Motion-Picture Exposition celebrating this centennial in Los Angeles from July 2 to August 6. The presentation took place on the south portico of the White House in the presence of Mrs. Harding and a few invited guests.

Miss Anna Case, well-known concert singer and motion-picture star, presented to President Harding the coin which was struck by the San Francisco mint.

Miss Case was designated to present this coin to the President by Walter J. Reynolds, president of the Monroe Doctrine Centennial Motion-Picture Exposition, and was accompanied to the Capitol by Frederick H. Elliott of New York, eastern representative of the exposition and formerly executive secretary of the National Association of the Motion-Picture Industry, Inc.

The centennial and exposition has the indorsement of every branch of the motion-picture industry including the important producers and distributors and plans are under way for beginning a big drive by all the companies for making the Los Angeles undertaking the biggest thing of its kind ever presented.

The half-dollars are already in great demand and applications have been made for the major part of the allotment. One firm of New York coin dealers has sent in an order for 10,000.

INTERNAL DISSENSION IN HONDURAS DENIED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TEGUCIGALPA (Honduras) June 6.—Contrary to reports circulated abroad of internal difficulties in Honduras, the country is enjoying complete quiet. Grave concern, however, is felt in consequence of the presidential campaign. A conference recently was conducted between President Guitteres and the four candidates for the post under the auspices of the American Minister, with the object of agreeing on one candidate. It was found impossible to reconcile the situation and trouble is expected before the elections in October.

CHANG CABINET HAS RESIGNED

est on national loans has caused much comment both in China and abroad.

Premier Chang, formerly Minister of War, was appointed Acting Premier last December, succeeding Wang Chung-Hui, and resigned later, only to be reappointed the first of the year. Chang's appointment was approved by Gen. Tsao Kun, the North China military leader.

In addition to the question of finances Premier Chang and his Cabinet recently have been disturbed by the Shantung bandit episode.

NEGOTIATIONS DRAGGING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The State Department announced late today it had received a cablegram from Jacob Gould Schurman, American Minister at Peking, which said "there was no definite indication of how long it would be before Americans and others still held by Chinese bandits are released."

Minister Schurman reported that "harmony appears to have been restored to the bandit camp and the captives are not suffering in health though they are getting somewhat low in spirit."

He also said the international commission headed by Brig.-Gen. Connor left Peking for Lincheng last Friday, accompanied by Representative Wainwright of New York, former assistant Secretary of War, who had arrived in Peking the day previous.

Wainwright, the department was informed, returned to Peking at noon today in advance of the commission and reported as follows:

"That the representative of the Governor of the province of Shantung and the bandits appear to have arrived at an agreement by which every bandit who has a rifle or a pistol will be enlisted in the army.

"That the counting of the arms and the preparation of a muster roll, or enlistment, is proceeding.

"That the bandits are not satisfied with the guarantee of the government as to their pay, but will be satisfied if Roy Anderson, an American citizen, whom they seem to trust absolutely, will guarantee that they will receive their pay for three years, which is the term of enlistment."

Today's communication was the first the department had received from Minister Schurman in several days.

Noted Film Star Back Home From Work in Europe

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6. — Among the passengers on the R.M.S. Olympic, which docked this morning, was Miss Lillian Gish.

Miss Gish has been in Italy for the past seven months at work on the filming of F. Marion Crawford's novel, "The White Sister," for Inspiration Pictures. About 200,000 feet of film were shot, and considerable cutting and editing will be necessary before it will be ready for its Broadway premiere next fall.

In the party with Miss Gish were Mr. C. H. Duell, president of the Inspiration Pictures Corporation; George Hobart, writer; Ronald Colman, leading man, and Mrs. Colman; Mr. and Mrs. William Ritchey; Gale Kane, who played a leading part; Mme. Juliette La Violette, also of the cast, and Mrs. M. Kratsch.

CIVILIZATION THREATENED

Secretary Weeks Tells Church Conference That He Fears Results of World War

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Representatives of church and welfare organizations called into conference here today by the War Department in connection with the moral and religious training to be given in the Army were told by Secretary Weeks that civilization was no longer "as staple a quantity as it was before the war."

"Nothing will hold mankind better together or be of as much benefit to men of all nations," Mr. Weeks added, "as religion.

"I feel personally, as all men must do, who have passed the meridian life, a growing inclination toward religion and religious life. I speak in the broadest sense, of course. I am fearful about the results that have come and are coming from the late war. The civilization of the world is threatened.

"We wish to instill true religion into the hearts of our young men. There are difficulties. We know these in many cases and are prepared to meet them. I am confident, however, that this conference will assist us to improve our influence.

"I want you men to appreciate that the War Department is thoroughly alive to the necessity of upbuilding, physically, mentally, morally and religiously, those ever whom it exercises control and will lend every effort to that end."

Mr. Weeks said the Army could provide military training itself, but needed aid to make better citizens of soldiers "in every way than they would be if they had not come to us for military training."

"We want to surround them with the best influences," he continued, "so that they may continue to develop and improve and take their places in their home communities among the most respected citizens."

ELKS HERD TO VALLEY PICNIC

Wide Section Represented at San Joaquin Gathering

Tulare Water Case, on File Six Years, Delayed Further

Search for Lindsay Veteran Who Recently Vanished

VISALIA, June 6.—Oakland, San Francisco, Pasadena, San Diego, Riverside and valley lodges, besides nine other States other than California were represented at the annual San Joaquin Valley Elks' picnic at Mooney Grove. Every lodge from Modesto to Bakersfield furnished representatives in a crowd estimated at 5000.

A series of athletic sports including a tug-o-war, baseball game, races, etc., filled the morning program. A basket lunch under the spreading oaks was a special feature. Addresses were made by R. C. Benbought, San Diego, president of the California Elks' Association, and Harry M. Tichner, Pasadena, member of the Grand Lodge.

Porterville won the silver loving cup in the tug-o-war for the third consecutive year, against teams from Bakersfield and Visalia, and adds the trophy to her collection. She was also victorious in the baseball game, winning the cup for the first year in that event.

Free ice cream and soft drinks were popular with the merry crowd, huge stacks of cases and containers being proof of the crowd's thirst. Machines blowing up toy balloons could not keep pace with the demands of youthful "Bills." The picnic was regarded by the committee in charge as the most successful yet undertaken by the valley lodges.

TRIAL DELAYED

Further delay in the hearing of the famous water case of the Tulare Irrigation District against the Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District will probably be necessitated by the serious illness of Judge Sloss, chief counsel for the defense, according to word received from San Francisco. Judge Stephens of Los Angeles, sitting in the case, and counsel have been in the Bay City for some weeks taking depositions of witnesses for the defense.

This expert testimony was expected to be concluded in another week and argument started. Judge Sloss has been in direct charge of this testimony.

This suit is one of the most noted irrigation cases ever on trial in California. It was filed six years ago.

FIX TRIAD DATE

Trial of Daniel E. Collins of Fresno, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death, February 26, of Lewis Hawks of Hanford, has been set for the 12th inst. before a jury on two counts. The second count is for driving while intoxicated. Superior Judge Allen denied motion for the defendant to postpone the trial.

SERVE VENISON

Venison is distinctly out of season, but patients at the Tulare County Health Center here were treated to that epicurean dish. A motorist ran into a deer near the postoffice at Kaweah, knocked it down and broke its neck. Fearful of what action might ensue, the motorist made no effort to aid the animal. The deer was found in a dying condition by rangers, who killed it and gave the meat to the County Hospital.

VETERAN DISAPPEARS

LINDSAY, June 6.—Search is being made over California for Russell Stoddard, 31 years of age, veteran of the World War, who was employed in a local packing-house until about three weeks ago, when he mysteriously disappeared.

His wife declares that Stoddard was discharged from the Army as a psychopathic casual, the result of influenza. He is a native of Colorado, where he formerly served for a number of years in the Colorado militia before joining the Regular Army at the outbreak of the war. Stoddard is 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighs 128 pounds, has blue eyes and brown hair.

CLOTHING TO BE MADE IN THIS CITY

Large Manufacturing Company Will Employ Hundreds of Persons

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, June 6.—Plans for the establishment at Los Angeles of the first large clothing manufacturing concern in the West were announced for the first time by Herbert Schaffner, one of the large clothing manufacturers of the nation, during a visit here today.

The new concern, which has been conducting a small plant in the south for the past seven months as an experiment, will be capitalized for several million dollars, will have hundreds of employees and will have an output that will bring into Los Angeles many millions a year, Schaffner said.

Details of the concern, which will have the backing of Los Angeles business men, will be announced upon Schaffner's return to Los Angeles tomorrow. He left for the southern city, where he has been living for nearly a year, late tonight.

The new concern will attempt to obtain the great bulk of California business, which is said to amount to more than $13,000,000 annually, the visitor said.

It will permit California retailers to have a four-day service on buying their goods to the time of delivery; it will permit dealers to make frequent trips to the factories to purchase new garments; it will keep millions of dollars of California money at home, and it will cause thousands of persons to be employed here in a new industry.

is the plan to be pursued, it was authoritatively announced today.

"Just what the procedure is when the first liner reaches the territorial limits, will, of course, be watched with the greatest interest and doubtless will determine many points on which we are now not quite clear," said a White Star official. "Our New York office is in a position to know much better than we on the east line to be followed on eastbound trips, so they are dealing with that question."

BUSINESS IS BAD

Shipping officials here for the most part have abundant complaints of business conditions in general. "We put freight rates down," wailed a White Star executive, "but there is no great volume of freight moving anywhere today. The unsettled conditions on the continent and the return to high prices throughout Europe are keeping Americans at home; American immigration restrictions are keeping out many who would like to seek new homes in the United States and those not subject to immigration laws have been too poor to travel—even the boom now on in America is cutting our receipts, for Americans are too busy making money to come abroad—and now the prohibition regulations add new worries.

"We lost a million dollars last year, and the prospects certainly are not brightening."

ASSERTED HUSBAND SLAYERS IN CHICAGO MAY FACE FINAL PENALTY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 6.—Two nattily dressed young women strode into Judge Hopkins's courtroom today and were escorted to the defendants' chairs by two watchful deputy sheriffs. Near by stood Assistant State's Attorney Peden questioning a panel of veniremen.

"Have you any conscientious scruples against, inflicting the death penalty in a proper case?" he asked.

Each time the words were repeated the two women stirred in their chairs.

The women are Mrs. Anna McGinnis, 24 years of age, and her sister, Myra Pioch. They are charged with the murder of Michael McGinnis, husband of the former, who was shot to death in his home. The State contends that Mrs. McGinnis killed her husband during a quarrel started when he accused her of infidelity.

A few feet away from the couple sat Charles J. Shade and Francis S. Meek, the men who are accused of complicity in the murder, it being asserted they aided in bringing McGinnis to his wife by stories of her affection for another man. The men were seized by police in the yard of the home after the shooting.

Prosecutor Peden announced he will ask the death penalty for all four defendants. More than a dozen men were excused by both sides during the day when they expressed prejudice against the death penalty.

WARRANT OUT FOR CULT HEAD

Dr. Benjamin Purnell Sought by Sheriff

Home of David Colony is Searched in Vain

Abandonment of Girl Basis of Complaint

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) June 6.—Armed with a warrant for "King" Benjamin Purnell, charging him with a statutory offense upon a fifteen-year-old girl, George C. Bridgeford, Berrien county Sheriff, and eleven deputies raided Shiloh, Purnell's residence at the House of David colony tonight, seeking the self-styled cult leader. Purnell was not found at Shiloh, or any other building in the colony.

GIRL COMPLAINANT

The warrant, which was signed yesterday by Judge Charles E. Wilson of the Berrien County Circuit Court, was issued on complaint of Gladys Bamford Rubel of Detroit, once an inmate of Shiloh, the charges that Purnell assaulted her over a period of three years, from the time she was 13 years of age.

Service of the warrant was withheld until today to give Fred Bridgeman an opportunity to spirit Purnell at some of the various places where it is supposed he may be hiding.

SEARCH IN VAIN

The Sheriff and his aides searched 100 or more rooms of the main and adjoining structures, known as "Benjamin's House," and Shiloh, which is connected with Benjamin's House by an inclosed passage.

Mrs. Rubel went to Niles, Mich., home of Judge White, last Saturday from Detroit at the suggestion of Judge Harry E. Dingeman, who is conducting the one-man grand jury investigation into the activities of the colony. Judge White was asked to issue the warrant to forestall any question of the validity of the warrant if it were issued outside of Berrien county.

One specific charge made by Mrs. Rubel places the date of the asserted assault as October 1, 1918, which comes within the six-year period of the statute of limitations.

REPORT GEDDES TO QUIT DENIED

Offer to Chamberlain Mere Gesture to Aid Party

Baldwin Sought to Isolate Coalition Leader

Choice of Outsiders Leaves Diplomats Ruffled

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

LONDON, June 6.—Those best qualified to know are merely amused by the reported offer of the Washington Embassy to Austen Chamberlain. If Ambassador Geddes is desirous of retiring he has succeeded in concealing the fact from those to whom he would have to apply for his release, officials of the Foreign Office declared today.

Mr. Chamberlain received the tender of an ambassadorial post, but it is believed to have been Paris and not Washington. The offer was made then only as an expedient to remove the troublesome leader of the coalition Conservatives, now out of the government, from the scene of action.

Premier Baldwin's tender is regarded as a flirtatious gesture intended to further the cause of Conservative party unity. It failed, but its significance is apparent. The intention of the new government is to go outside the ranks of the diplomatic service to find incumbents for the more important embassies—a departure from tradition which, in the case of the Washington post, began with Lord Bryce.

This practice is disgruntling diplomatists who have served long apprenticeships in unattractive corners of the world in the hope of falling heir to the Washington, Paris, Berlin or Rome posts. As Stanley Baldwin has given early indication that his will be a strictly business administration, there is little hope entertained of his reversing the policy pursued in recent years should the time come to name Sir Auckland Geddes's successor.

WASHINGTON PLAN UP AT MEXICO CITY

Many Obstacles to Peace Removed at International Commission Sessions

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, June 6.—A settlement of the differences between the United States and Mexico on a basis of Washington's recognition of the southern republic is now before the International Commission in session here.

Previous conferences removed great stumbling blocks to a solution of the difficulties. In addition to the manner of payment for expropriated lands, the commissioners are now considering finally the settlement of the international debt, the return of the railways to their stockholders, and payment of indemnities for losses suffered during the revolution and since due to revolutionary activities.

Minister of Finance De la Huerta was added to the commission in the capacity of a consulting expert because he was the special representative of the Mexican government in the arrangement for the payment of the Mexican foreign debt before the International Bankers' Commission in New York. Senor De la Huerta has been conferring with President Obregon for three days and it is stated that the President has given him full particulars regarding Mexico's stand on most of the questions still likely to come before the commission.

As Mexico has convinced the American commissioners of its ability to make payment for land taken from foreigners, Senor De la Huerta's constant contact with the Mexican commissioners is considered imperative.

It is reported semi-officially that President Obregon at first intended to appoint Senor De la Huerta as one of the Mexican commissioners, but this was not possible when the United States appointed as the American commissioners men not connected with government circles.

TRANSPORT MEN PLAN WAR CHECK

German Workers Propose Stopping of Munitions Shipments at Frontiers

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

BERLIN, June 6.—The transportations workers' organizations have embarked on an ambitious scheme of preventing further wars by instituting labor control under international auspices of munitions shipments, with the aim of stopping all movements of war material which may threaten international peace.

A conference of representatives of the International Transport Workers' Federation and the Communist Transport Unions in Berlin has just decided to form an international committee of action composed of representatives from all the important munitions factories, railroad centers, harbors and railroad frontier points.

The committee and its representatives will be expected to keep an eye on all munitions movements by sea or railroads and put an embargo on them when it is deemed necessary. It will be recalled that such control of munitions shipments was attempted in England, France and Germany during the Russo-Polish war in 1920 and materially hampered Poland's munitions supply.

CHICAGO'S COUNCIL PRAISES GOV. SMITH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 6. — Chicago's City Council voted 31 to 13 today to compliment Gov. Al Smith of New York on the "fearlessness, courage and patriotism which he showed in signing the Prohibition enforcement repeal act" and by the same vote went on record in favor of the repeal of the Illinois search and seizure act.

Despite the more than 2-to-1 vote, the resolution, introduced by Alderman Coughlin, did not clear the Council rule requiring thirty-four votes to suspend the rules. It was therefore sent to the Judiciary Committee, but the vote indicated clearly that it will pass easily when it gets out of committee. Then only a majority vote will be required.

It was the first time the new City Council has voted on the damp question, and leading wets and drys were present.

DIVORCE CASES DROP IN JAPAN

Government Figures Show Large Decrease

Tendency to Late Marriages Given Credit

Girl Brides and Boy Husbands Thing of Past

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, June 6.—A remarkable decrease in the number of divorces in Japan is disclosed in figures for the last thirty-six years submitted by the Bureau of Social Works of the Home Department. Between 1888 and 1920, the total number of marriages increased by 308,409 in the first year to 542,279 in 1920. The number of divorces dropped from 112,294 in 1888 to 55,830 in 1920. "Recent investigations show that the decrease in the number of divorces is due, in large measure, to the cessation of youthful marriages. The marriage of Japanese boys and girls between 15 and 20 years of age is fast becoming a thing of the past. The ages of between 20 and 25 are most popular among women for matrimony while men seem to prefer not to embark on the matrimonial ocean until they have passed 30.

The general tendency toward late marriages, according to the Bureau of Social Works of the Home Office, is due in large part to the change in the social order and the advancement of education. Social requirements also have been increasing, while the greater difficulty in making a livelihood has caused parents to delay match-making for their sons and daughters. At the same time various social organizations have been instructing the people of the dangers attendant on early marriages when youth is susceptible to outside influences and its judgment is by no means accurate.

"The decrease in matrimonial failures should not be interpreted entirely as due to enlightenment and education," reads a portion of the report, "for there still is a large number of women who adhere to the old moral conception. They fear social criticism and submit to the most trying and most disgraceful family conditions rather than break away from their tyrannical husbands."

The investigations of the Bureau of Social Works also show that bigamy and concubinage have slightly increased in Japan, but few divorces are based on these grounds.

GIRL WINS SUM FROM DOCTOR IN LOVE SUIT

AMOROUS PASSAGES IN NOTES FEATURE OF TRIAD IN OMAHA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Awarded $50,000, the amount she asked from Dr. Carl Connell for breach of promise today, Miss Violet Johnstone of Brooklyn arrives here tomorrow from Omaha, where the suit was tried. The case will probably be appealed, the doctor's attorneys said.

Edward B. Levy, her counsel, said that it took him more than three years to get a lawyer in Omaha who would fight the case against Dr. Connell because the latter's father, who defended him, was said to have had the reputation of being impossible to beat in Omaha law courts.

The correspondence which, Levy said, was written by Dr. Connell, had many love passages. The letters addressed her as his "Wonder Girl" "My Dear Sweet Violet" and sent many kisses but none of the letters touched on the subject of marriage.

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR SIX SLAYINGS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 6. — Two death penalties were affirmed today by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. One was the case against Roy Mitchell, negro, McLennan county, and the other Ewell Morris from Victoria. Mitchell was found guilty of six murders at or near Waco and sentenced to death in each case. The decision was rendered in connection with the murder of Mrs. Ethel Denecamp.

Columbus's Reward

The discovery of America, according to documents found in the archives of Genoa, cost a little more than $7000. The fleet of Columbus was the value of about $3000, while the salary of the admiral amounted to $300 a year. The two captains who accompanied the expedition received a salary of $200, and the members of the crew were paid at the rate of $2.50 a month each. Columbus evidently got nothing for his share of the job.

TOURIST LOSS HITS BERLIN

Double Prices and Passport Difficulties Working to Disadvantage of Germany

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

BERLIN, June 6.—Although the double-price system, the passport unpleasantries and other indignities have influenced a majority of American tourists wisely to give Berlin a wide berth, some visitors have arrived. Tourist agencies with eyes on the dollar-spenders flocking toward Paris brand the season as the most disappointing on record. They are taking steps in an attempt to alleviate the trials of foreign guests.

The American Chamber of Commerce announces that it is prepared to assist Americans entangled in the passport red tape.

The provinces also are hanging up the welcome sign, but it has "if you let us string you" written on the other side.

Bavaria, which some time ago said it wanted no parasites, has now invited tourists to visit there, but says nothing about any removal of the extortionate hotel taxes or the general system of charging Americans three to twenty-five times the German price of admission to museums and the like. Despite protests, Berlin's 85 per cent hotel tax on tourists still stands, consequently there are many vacant rooms at a season that usually fills them with well-paying guests.

Among Philadelphians registered here are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loeny, the Misses Anne and Jane Williams, and Miss Esther B. Rivella.

YOUTHS SEEKING ROOMS GET DIAMONDS FROM LANDLADY

Three young men who asked to see rooms at the house of Mrs. O. Murray, 313 West Ninth street, last night forced her to get under a bed in one of the rooms while they escaped with more than $1000 worth of jewelry, according to her report to police.

Mrs. Murray said one of the men pointed a pistol at her to enforce his demands.

The loot consisted of one 2½-carat diamond ring, valued at $1000, a ring worth $150 and another valued at $60, she told police. Mrs. Murray's husband was in another part of the house and did not see the men. Detectives Murray and Wilson are investigating.

PRUNE GROWERS AT PEACE AGAIN

Three-Year Discord Ended at Meeting Yesterday

Expelled Members Are Now to Be Reinstated

Court Action is Terminated on Voting Board

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN JOSE, June 6. — Three years' discord in the ranks of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, which reached a climax with the resignations last month of H. G. Coykendall, general manager, and Mrs. R. G. Wallace, sales manager, after they had been charged with corruption by Judge J. R. Welch of San Jose, appears to be ended as the result of action taken at an all-day session of the voting board of the association here today.

In response to a general demand in this vicinity, the voting board restored Judge Welch to membership on the board, from which he was expelled March 28, recommended to the board of directors that the seven members expelled at the same time be reinstated and pledged itself to devise a plan to give members more equitable representation on the voting board and to permit the election of one-third of the thirty-nine members of the board every year. At present the voting board members are elected for a term of seven years.

MEMBERS RESIGN

Following this action, thirteen of the fifteen members of the voting board, representing the eighth district, tendered their resignations. The two remaining members, Martin J. Madison of Hayward and J. C. Shinn of Niles declined to resign on the ground that in the following election Alameda county might lose its representation on the board.

The eighth district, embracing Santa Clara, Alameda, Contra Costa and San Mateo counties elects sixteen members to the board. The sixteenth chair has been vacant for some time, due to the death of a member.

Ballots in the primary election to replace members who resigned will be mailed the 12th inst., and ballots for the final election, the 23rd inst.

COMMITTEE NAMED

On the committee to revise the plan of representation on the board and to arrange for annual elections are the following:

J. R. Welch, San Jose; U. W. Brown, Colusa; A. R. Thomas, Ukiah; P. Bussman, Windsor, and William Pearse, Hemet.

Judge Welch and James Mills of Hamilton City, named at a mass meeting of eighth district members last night as two members of a committee of three to canvass the field for a new general manager, today named Henry Wheatley of Napa as the third member of the committee.

Today's action automatically terminates Judge Welch's court action instituted to effect the reinstatement on the voting board.

PRIEST IS BITTEN BY LARGE RATTLESNAKE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, June 6. — Rev. Father E. O. Lawrence, assistant pastor of the Holy Rosary Church at Antioch, is in a serious condition in a hospital here as the result of a rattlesnake bite. Father Lawrence, who is a collector of reptiles, was bitten after he had picked up a five-foot rattlesnake in the hills near Antioch. It was necessary for companions to carry him to the church rectory. He was later removed to the hospital.

Ambassador Child Obtains Treasure for Autograph Book; New Netherlands Minister Creates Favorable Impression

BY THE OBSERVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Richard Washburn Child, who is a devoted collector of autographs has just apprised friends in Washington that he has added to his collection what he considers a chef d'oeuvre. Mr. Child, now Ambassador to Rome, is not the type of autograph hunter who besieges and harasses an important personage with a request that he sign on a dotted line in an autograph book. He delights, however, in collecting autographs to acquire a note, recipe or something of that sort that the great personage has written and signed. His latest treasure is a railroad pass and the letter of refusal with which it was returned. Italian railroads are state owned but the government is accustomed to issuing annual free transportation to the prelates of the Roman Catholic Church. The director of railroads in an absent-minded moment made out a pass for Cardinal Achille Ratti of Milan and sent it through the mail. A few days later he received a missive from the Vatican returning the pass with a note from Pope Pius XI, formerly Cardinal Ratti, expressing his regret that since he was now the "prisoner of the Vatican" it would be impossible for him to take advantage of the courtesy which the director of railroads had extended. The pass and the documentary evidence in the case were presented to Mr. Child by an Italian official who knew of his love for such things.

Two of the closest personal, professional and political friends in Washington are A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, former Attorney-General, and Charles C. Carlin of Virginia, one-time member of Congress. Palmer and Carlin are law partners. Carlin was Palmer's convention manager at San Francisco in 1920. Yet, when it comes to playing golf they travel in different directions. Palmer plays at the Chevy Chase Club. Carlin prefers the Washington Golf and Country Club, where his partner usually is Robert T. Scott, also a member of the Palmer legal firm, who served as private secretary to Mr. Palmer when in the Department of Justice. Whether it is due to the fact that the Chevy Chase course is much easier than the sporty club in the Virginia hills or simply a preference for the social features of Chevy Chase may not be stated, but it is a fact that the two men who travel so much together in other lines, part company when they start out for a round of golf.

The Netherlands has sent to the United States in Jonkheer D. A. De Graeff one of its most experienced and talented diplomats. Washington knew very little of the Dutch Minister when he came here but without any effort on his part—really in spite of his retiring turn of mind—he has made a most favorable impression in official and diplomatic circles. Dr. De Graeff was in Java and the Dutch East Indies for twenty-five years. He was Minister of The Netherlands in Tokio for three years before coming to Washington, so that he has a fine background for the Far Eastern problems with which his government is so interested.

The failure of Congress to act on the several thousand private bills which provided for the bestowal of war trophies on different communities is proving embarrassing to the War Department. Some 100,000 guns ranging from 55-millimeter weapons to service rifles are still awaiting distribution and with constant disposal of War Department property storage space is at a premium. These trophies were virtually the only things that the United States acquired of a physical nature from the war. The intention of the War Department was to make them available to communities or societies which desired some souvenir of the conflict. Congressional authority was needed for their distribution, however, and Congress never has been able to agree on any method of parcelling out the trophies. Most of the bills which were introduced provided for the presentation of a German cannon to different cities. The cannons received by the United States are only a small part of the total. It was estimated at one time that in order to fill the requests made in all the bills it would have been necessary to renew the war so that the German gunmakers could increase their production. The War Department hopes now to frame a general measure for introduction at the next session which will provide for the disposition of the white elephant for which it is now caring.

An unusual visitor to Washington is the Rev. K. Imai, now a Baptist evangelist, who for many years was a Buddhist priest and who rose to the rank of associate priest in that religion before he became converted to Christianity. Rev. Mr. Imai is in the United States on the invitation of the Japanese Ministers' Association of California, which called him from his charge in Hawaii several months ago for a trip through this country. The Japanese evangelist began his training for the Buddhist priesthood while still a young man. It was after he had become an associate bishop that he first attended Christian missionary services in his native land. The result was that he took up the study of the Bible seriously, and some twenty years ago entered the Baptist Seminary at Yokohama. After his graduation he remained for several years in Japan, where his sermons and revival campaign attracted wide notice. He went later to Hawaii, and it is his intention to return to the Territory after he has studied religious methods in this country thoroughly.

Just as members of the Grand Army of the Republic are passing away all over the country, so are they passing from the service of the government, where many of the veterans have served long and honorably. Striking evidence of this has just been given through the removal of six Civil War veterans from the Bureau of Pensions. They are the last to be removed as employees of the division which the veterans always considered peculiarly their own. Washington Gardner, Commissioner of Pensions, is now the only one of the boys of 1861-65 still connected with this branch of the government. All of the men placed on the retirement list are at least 70 years of age, the statutory period when civil-service retirement may be avoided only by special two-year extensions. Their service with the Bureau of Pensions ranges from twenty-one to thirty years. As veterans and retired civil-service employees they will draw annuities approximating $100 a month.

CLERK GETS LETTER FROM JESSICA BROWN'S EX-HUSBAND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 6.—City Clerk Cruse today received a letter from Jessica Brown's former husband, Cyril D. Reinhard, congratulating him on his action in refusing to issue a marriage license to his former wife and the Earl of Northesk. Reinhard used stationery of the Steinen Yard Corporation of Long Island City. The letter read:

"I am agreeably surprised that money and notoriety cannot always suborn justice and right in New York. Mrs. Reinhard, ever since she left my bed and board, has known my address and where she could reach me at any time. Of this I am assured because I have communicated with her at various times by registered letters sent to her in care of her mother in Buffalo. Her alleged divorce could then have only been obtained through fraud and perjury. I wish to thank you as an official and a man for the stand you have taken."

ARMY MEN ARE GUESTS AT SALINAS

Military Reservation is Inspected by Officers Who Will Command Camp

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SALINAS, June 6.—Eighteen of the military officers who will be in command of the National Guard encampment at Gigling the latter part of July were guests of the Rotary and Exchange clubs yesterday at a luncheon in the Hotel Jeffry. Following the luncheon the members accompanied the officers on a tour of inspection, making a complete survey of the military reservation.

The party found preparations well under way to care for the 3000 guardsmen. Numerous suggestions were made by the clubmen in regard to means to better the conveniences for the militia.

James F. Pollard was chairman of the luncheon. Judge Bardin made the address of welcome. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Floraine G. Thompson, wife of Capt. Thompson of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry. Mrs. Thompson will assist the womens' clubs of Salinas and the entertainment committees.

Talks were made by the following officers: Col. L. J. Morrow, Col. D. P. Barrows, Col. Jenkins, Maj. Lynch and Tdjt. Gen. Borree.

Col. Morrow stated the encampment will be the first reunion of the Fortieth Division veterans since the World War, and that a large number of veterans outside of the militia will be on hand.

Announcement was made by Gen. Borree that a Y.M.C.A. camp will be established at the encampment with Arthur Pearson, secretary at Salinas, in charge. The "Y" hut will be provided with a reading and a writing room, phonograph and other features, it was stated.

Other talks included an explanation of the various features of the camp work being done to improve the roads and facilities at the camp.

The visiting officers were: Col. L. J. Morrow, Adjt.-Gen. Borree, Col. D. P. Barrows, Maj. Gen. Leon French, Maj. H. Callander, Capt. J. Clark Thompson, Capt. B. Mestridge, Capt. H. C. Newton, Maj. A. J. Eddy, Maj. J. A. Rogers, Lieut. J. V. Fitzgerald, Lieut. C. E. Stafford, Col. J. Jenkins, Capt. E. V. Orr, Capt. D. A. Daly, Capt. S. Cook and Lieut. J. Huppel.

Pays Huge Fine for His Part in Oil Fraud Case

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) June 6.—Walter Marks, defendant in the Gen. Lee oil trial, who was fined $15,000 by presiding Judge Bledsoe this morning, late today paid his fine and was released.

Phillip Goldstein, Nathan Sang and M. Hirsch, after being held in the United States Marshal's office all day, were remanded to jail for the night. They will be given further opportunities tomorrow to pay their fines of $10,000 each, it was announced.

Dist.-Atty. Zweifel said an arrangement had been made whereby if these three defendants will pay half their fines now they will be allowed to make bond to pay the other half in ninety days.

Why this is your year to come to Royal Cords

1. The New Sprayed Rubber —the first absolutely pure rubber, produced by a new scientific process from the rubber latex. Positively uniform in quality. Acid-free, and uncontaminated with smoke residues or foreign matter of any kind.
2. The New Web Cord—for the first time a rubber-webbed cord structure without cross tie-threads. Impregnated through and through with pure rubber by direct soaking in the latex itself. Not to be confused with the practice of using chemical solutions employing naphtha solvents.
3. The New Flat-Band Method of Building Cord Tires—a method ensuring the positive length, angle, tension and strength of each cord. Making a uniform tire equalized throughout in resiliency and resistance to wear.

UP to now, the car-owner has never had much definite physical information about tires to guide him in investing his tire money.

Today the publication of the three U. S. Rubber discoveries has raised definite scientific tests of tire money's worth applicable to all tires:—

Is the tread made of Sprayed Rubber, acid-free and uniform in quality? Or isn't it?

Is the carcass built of Web Cord, the new rubber-webbed cord structure, free from cross tie-threads? Or isn't it?

Is it Flat-Band Built, each cord positive in length, angle, tension and strength? Or isn't it?

Tire-buyers by the thousands are making good use of these test questions. This is demonstrated by two things:—

The number of new users of Royal Cords. A million new users in 1923 seems likely.

The complete stocks of U. S. Royal Cords in the stores of legitimate tire dealers. Unqualified support of the three U. S. Rubber discoveries by the permanent element of the retail tire trade.

IRISH AND DUTCH ARE SURPRISES

Both Exhibit Unexpected Strength in Early Play for Davis Cup

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The old saying about the Irish and the Dutch not amounting to much evidently had no reference to tennis, especially Davis Cup tennis, for the unexpected strength of the teams from Holland and Ireland has been the outstanding feature of the early play in the European zone.

This is the first year that the Irish have entered as a separate team in international tennis but already they have advanced to the second round, upsetting the dope and defeating India in a keenly-fought struggle, three matches to two. The Irish face the French squad, European favorites, in the second round of play and it is expected that Erin's entry will give the Frenchmen very tough competition. The French had a hard time downing the strong Danish team in the first round, four games to one.

Holland is the first to enter the third round in the European zone, having advanced to the second round on a bye and then eliminating Italy, taking three straight matches to decide the tie.

In the lower half of the European zone the British Isles team, which defeated Belgium in the first round, will meet Spain for the right to meet Holland in the semifinal. Spain advanced to the second round on a forfeit from Rumania yesterday.

As there are but four entries in the American zone, play on this side will be of short duration. Both contests have been scheduled for simultaneous dates. Japan meets Canada at Montreal and Hawaii clashes with Australia at Orange, N. J., on July 26, 27 and 28.

Jockey Donoghue Will Wear Golden Spurs

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

EPSOM DOWNS, June 6.—Jockey Steve Donoghue became a heroic figure in British racing history today when, for the third year in succession, he rode to victory in the greatest of all horse races—the Derby. This time the lithe leader of British jockeys was mounted on Papyrus, the precious 3-year-old possession of an Irish tenant farmer, whose name, curiously enough, is Barney Irish.

Papyrus, in racing over the horseshoe-shaped turf of the Derby mile and a half course ahead of eighteen other thoroughbreds, lifted his owner, a man of rather small means, to a place of wealth and renown and gave to Donoghue the supreme position among the jockeys of the world, and a record unsurpassed by any rider since man began the sport of horse racing.

By winning three derbies in a row, Donoghue gains possession of the Golden Spurs, which the Jockey Club long ago offered for this achievement. Papyrus was

State's Attorney-General Warns Authorities About the Big Battle

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HELENA (Mont.) June 6.—"If the local authorities at Shelby continue to indicate that they are either unable or unwilling to enforce the law, there shall be no match between Dempsey and Gibbons there on July 4," was the statement made in a telephone message from Atty.-Gen. W. D. Rankin to the authorities in Shelby this afternoon.

Reports of lawlessness at Shelby in connection with the activities preceding the heavyweight championship fight set for July 4, prompted the Attorney-General to issue sharp instructions to Shelby authorities declaring that if the pro-

Miss Collett Wins Eastern Golf Tourney

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Winning from a large field, Miss Glenna Collett, national champion, won the eastern championship today at the Whitemarsh Country Club by turning in a score of 88 for the final eighteen holes. The Providence girl played against the cream of the East, and for the total fifty-four holes she turned in a score of 248.

Miss Collett's play throughout the tournament was steady and brilliant. At all times she was master of the field and proved that her playing was by no means on the decline, as a recent report stated. Miss Collett, by her win here today, has been made a favorite for winning the women's national tournament to be held soon.

Jack McAuliffe Ruled Off by Michigan Commission

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Dave Shade, the Californian, who never was anything more than a persistent challenger for the welterweight title, is now world's champion in that division, if you believe the New York State Athletic Commission. The license committee of the commission today decided to vacate Mickey Walker's title because the Elizabeth boxer failed to defend it within six months after wigning the honor, as required by the rules of the commission. This is not the first time a title has changed hands in New York without a contest.

The commission claimed Walker's title null and void in a curt statement which explains that Shade succeeds to the title by virtue of the fact that he challenged Walker and the latter failed to accept within the required period of six months.

In addition, Walker and his manager, Jack Bulger, were suspended indefinitely.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) June 6.—Jack McAuliffe, local heavyweight was declared suspended, and fined $200 by Charles A. Campau, State Boxing Commissioner, because of the poor showing he is reported to have made against Martin O'Grady of Los Angeles here Monday night. Campau intimated that if McAuliffe did not come to him to explain his "poor showing against O'Grady" the suspension might not be lifted in time for McAuliffe to meet Floyd Johnson in the East.

Shelbyites All Agog Over Arrival Today of Gibbons on Scene of July Fourth Titular Clash

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) June 5.—The preparations for the Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight gambol for the world's fistic championship approached something of a climax today as word was received of the pending arrival on the scene of battle of the challenger. When Gibbons arrives in Shelby tomorrow nothing remains but the final preparations before the big squabble.

Champion Dempsey today again featured the little fellows in his workout, scrambling around the arena in his training quarters with Joe Benjamin, Billy Wells and Lee Moore, the heaviest of them a welterweight. As yesterday, the champion showed an excess of speed and apparently is in the finest of condition already.

WILD COMBAT

All the scrapping in the Dempsey camp is not confined to the arena, according to the camp hangers-on, who report a wild combat last night between Jerry, the champ's prize bulldog, and Lobo, a young gray wolf presented to Dempsey yesterday. Lobo removed the bulldog's belligerency and part of his paw with a well executed snip of his scissor-like jaws.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Seattle Siwashes lived up to their recent advance notices by scalping Vernon, 7 to 6, in the opening game of the series. There was an abundance of bushwacking on both sides, Elmer Reiger and Harry ardner, who started, were waylaid en route. Gardner was as puzzling as an Indian trail until the eighth, hen he was driven to cover with a four-run sortie. Elmer Jacobs stopped the doings.

JOCKEY HAYES ON LAST RIDE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Jockey Frank Hayes, 22, will make his last ride tomorrow but it will not be on a thoroughbred—it will be to Holy Cross Cemetery in a hearse. The Brooklyn lad, whose brief racing career was abruptly curtailed when he dropped dead of heart failure Monday, just after winning his first race, will be buried tomorrow from St. Paull's Roman Catholic Church.

Frankie died with his boots on and will be buried in them, as well as in the remainder of his jockey silk uniform. Six fellow jockeys will be his pallbearers.

Hayes dropped dead after his mount, Sweet Kiss, galloped across the finish line yards ahead of the favorite, Gimme.

RECORD ENTRY FOR MEET

CHICAGO, June 6.—With more nominations still in the mails entries from forty-eight universities and colleges representing twenty-three States have been received for the third annual track and field games of the national collegiate A.A.U., to be held on Stagg Field, the 15th and 16th inst. This number already exceeds the entry of last year.

Important changes have been made in the rules of the meet. Last year five places counted in the scoring, but this year the sixth man will have an influence on the team's standing. The scoring this year will be 5 for the first, 4 for the second, 3 for third, 2 for fourth and 1 for fifth and ½ for sixth.

There will be team and individual prizes for the six places. First and second winners will be awarded gold medals, the third will get a silver medal and the others will get other medals.

Another important change is in the entries. This year there is no limit in the number of men who may compete for their universities, although expenses of only ten men will be paid. Last year entries were limited to ten men to a team. The university of California sent fourteen men to the meet, but only ten were allowed to compete.

This year full teams are being sent by Michigan, Illinois, Stanford, the University of Washington, Notre Dame, Oregon, Pennsylvania State, Texas, the University of Southern California and Kansas.

Nelson and Wolgast to Head Lyceum Boxing Bouts

"OLD-TIMERS" TO HAVE NIGHT

Bat Nelson Will Entertain at the Lyceum

Ad Wolgast to Be in Ring With Former Rival

Boxing Fans Have Treat in Store Saturday

BY ED O'MALLEY

"Old-timer's night" at the Lyceum Theater next Saturday evening promises to be a knock-out for fistic fans. Manager Dick Donald will dish up not only a succulent mess of bouts but will also dish up one of the world's greatest ring masters, Battling Nelson. The Battler will arrive here Saturday morning from Bakersfield and will be the guest of George Lammerson, old-time lightweight boxer.

Bat will be introduced to the fans with his former rival and conqueror, Ad Wolgast. As an added attraction, Nelson will strip to the buff and go two rounds with Phil Salvador. It is said that the Battler can still put up a nifty article of boxing and will wade into Phil for keeps.

Among the members of the Old-Timers' Club that will lend their frolic presence to the occasion will be Uncle Tom McCarey, Charley Eyton, De Witt Van Court, Beany Walker, Tommy Ryan, Jim Jeffries, Billy Papke, Harry Burns, George Blake and a few other live ones. A number of years have passed since the foregoing galaxy of Fistiana's devotees has assembled under one roof. The reunion should be a gala occasion and one long to be remembered in local sporting circles.

Apart from these attractions, Manager Donald will present a six-bout card, the feature of which will be a slashing clash between Young Datto and Tommy Richards. Tommy is a big favorite in the local field and is sure to draw a packed house. Festivities are scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock and may the better man win.

YORKSHIRE WOMAN WINS A FORTUNE ON ENGLISH DERBY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, June 6.—A little sweepstakes ticket, combined with the Derby luck, has placed a fortune of £32,000 in the lap of a Yorkshire woman mill worker, Mrs. Nellie Ford, who drew Papyrus in the Odey Club's 80,000 sweepstakes, in which more than 200,000 players had taken a chance. Mrs. Ford is described as a hard-working woman who has spent most of her life working in a mill in order to help support her large family. Yesterday she was offered £3,000 for her chance, but refused, as she had a dream that fortune awaited her.

The second prize of £16,000, and the third of £8000, were won by two men of moderate means. Several others have been lifted from penury to easy street by the luck of drawing winning horses in the numerous other sweepstakes held in England.

A London man won £12,000 in the meat dealers' sweepstakes of which he announces he will give one-third to a fund being raised to aid the city hospitals. A young stenographer is better off by £10,000 by winning the prize offered in the Cork Hospital draw, and a street cleaner won a like sum in another draw.

The Calcutta and London stock exchange sweepstakes have not yet been announced. The former is worth about £30,000 and the latter £25,000. It is estimated a quarter of a million pounds sterling has been won in the big public sweepstakes, while huge sums have changed hands through those conducted on a smaller basis.

purchased by Mr. Irish as a yearling for a relatively small sum.

LEADS IN STRETCH

Donoghue did not lead until the last stretch. He let his horse ahead only after the quarter mile post had been passed. This gave Papyrus the inside track around the turn in the huge grassy horseshoe, but the Earl of Derby's Pharos raced right by his side around the bend and almost to the end. Fifty yards from the finish, Papyrus had a half length to the good and he responded nobly to Donoghue's urging, and stretched this margin to a full length as he flashed passed the finish. The time was 2:38.

One length behind came Pharos, owned by Lord Derby, whose ancestors established the great race. M. Goculda's Parth was third, a half-length behind Pharos, and Doric, owned by Anthony De Rothschild, was fourth. The others were stretched out for a long distance. It was remarked that in what many consider a dangerous age Safety First finished last.

SETS PRECEDENT

In the century and a half since the Derby came into being no other man has ever won it three times successively. Papyrus was the fifth horse Donoghue has ridden to victory in this classic. He captured his first Derby with Pommern in 1915, and won again with Gay Crusader in 1917; Humorist in 1921, and Captain Cuttle in 1922.

Only two other jockeys of the hundreds who have ridden derbies have won that race five times. A hundred years ago Robinson did it, and his feat remained unequaled until Fred Archer piloted five Derby winners in the years between 1877 and 1886. But neither of them won three times successively; they won their spurs, but not the golden spurs.

Several hundred thousand spectators cheered the jockey as he, sitting on his steaming mount, led the procession back to the paddock. There, surrounded by men and women arrayed in all the glory of Derby Day, the owner received the purse, the jockey a wealth of praise and the horse the admiration of the multitude which his great victory merited.

AMERICANS FAIL

The time for the race was more than three seconds slower than the Derby record established in 1920 by Spion Kop, who carried the American jockey, O'Neill, over the course in 2:34 1-5 seconds. Today America played a somewhat minor role, The American jockey, Archibald, on the heavily played Town Guard, finished thirteenth, while Fox Hall Keene's Topboot was sixteenth.

As usual the Derby drew uncounted thousands from all parts of the country and other countries. The Prince of Wales was there and so were paupers and every kind and condition of man, woman and child. Inside the horseshoe track were enough people to fill two or three vale bowls.

PORTLAND (Or.) June 6.—Sweeping denial of reports of lawlessness in Shelby, Mont., were made by Mayor James A. Johnson of that city, who is here today with Mike Collins of Minneapolis, one of the promoters of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight. Neither took seriously a report from Helena of a threat to prevent the holding of the championship fight at Shelby, July 4.

"Shelby is no worse in regard to liquor than any other city," said Mayor Johnson to the Associated Press. "I will say that conditions are as good there as in any of the Western cities. There is drinking everywhere, but there is no especial lawlessness in this respect in Shelby."

Stockton Ring Marvel Makes His Debut Here

Young Carpentier, a 128-pound boxer, who has been a sensation in Stockton and other northern rings, will make his debut at the American Legion Hollywood arena tomorrow night. Matchmaker Frank Crowley has selected Willie O'Brien as the most likely opponent to give the northerner a tough tussle.

Frankie McCann and Young Dick Hoppe are training hard for a real scrap in the main event. Both are very evenly matched and should put up a whale of a battle.

Pack McMullen, the 126-pounder who has startled the fans with his wonderful fistic performances, is slated to meet Joe Medino in the special event. Other bouts follow:

Young Farrell vs. Ashton Donza, 116 pounds; Frankie Demari vs. Bud Manning, 116 pounds; Sailor Jones vs. Frankie Kress, 140 pounds, and Sailor Lyla vs. Young Lopez, 122 pounds.

MISS COLLETT WINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Beneath a broiling sun that unsteadied her a trifle, Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., national champion, today won the Eastern Golf Association's women's championship. Her grand total for the fifty-four holes of medal play was 248, placing her six strokes ahead of Miss Alexa Stirling, former national champion, who played from North Hempstead, L. I.

Though Miss Collett turned in a card of 85, her big lead amassed during the first two days' play enabled her to win over Miss Stirling, who negotiated the course today in 84.

Miss Collett's total included a record-breaking 78 on Monday, an 82 yesterday and an 85 today. Rated in national rankings as plus two, her net total of strokes was 250. Miss Stirling's three rounds were made in 82, 88, 84—254, but as she is rated as plus one, her net total was 245.

Mrs. D. C. Hurd of Meriot finished third with a grand total of 267. She had cards of 91, 90, 86.

PREXY McCARTHY SEEKS DEPOSITIONS

Attorney Raymond Benjamin, representing the Seattle baseball club in the McCarthy-Wrigley imbroglio, and who is in Los Angeles at present, has received word that Prexy McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League has asked the courts for power to have depositions taken in the case. The league prexy will seek depositions from President Patrick, Charles Lockhardt, Wade Killefer, William Wrigley, Jr., Western Union Telegraph Company, Postal Telegraph Company and others in his effort to prove his claim that Mr. Wrigley bought the Seattle club. These depositions are asked to be taken in Los Angeles June 14. According to Attorney Benjamin, all the persons of who depositions are asked, are perfectly willing to give them. He also says that when these depositions are taken they will show the baseball world that McCarthy's charges are absolutely unfounded.

FISHING REPORTED GOOD IN KERN RIVER

Word was received yesterday by Ed Duskin, tackle expert of the B. H. Dyas Company, from Grover C. Conner, saying that the Kern River is falling rapidly and that the water is very clear. The fish are taking to flies greedily.

In a report from Bass Lake at the Pines, it is learned that fishing is not so good. A few catches of bass from two to five pounds are being caught and trout are taking flies. The lake is up to the high-water mark and with warm weather due at the lake fishing should improve materially.

During the last week tuna have been biting well in Catalina waters, writes in A. E. Eaton of Avalon. To date fourteen tuna have been caught. One fish weighed 114 pounds. With warm weather coming, tuna and albicore fishing will be better.

SILVA AND NOLAN IN HARBOR GO TONIGHT

Teddy Silva and Frankie Nolan of San Francisco will square off in the main event at Chief Petty Officers' Club at the harbor tonight.

The other feature attraction will see Jimmy Hackley of the U.S.S. Procyon, and Ted Seidman of San Francisco, milling at 126 pounds.

Other bouts follow:

Steve Biss and Red Uhlan, 155 pounds. Sailor Constantine and Sailor Johnny Lyles, 125 pounds. Sailor Reaume and Ted Merry, 135 pounds. Sailor Foster and Dutch Meyers, 145 pounds. Pete Wagner and Young Diaz, 112 pounds.

SIWASH TRIBE 'SCALPS TIGERS

wide to first. This planted Ping on third and he promptly grew into a run when Flaskamper beat out a roller to Crane. Hannah took third on the play, and Truck was tagged for trying to park at the plate out of hours when Jimmy Welsh snapped up Reiger's roller and snapped to Yaryan. Gorman forced Reiger and Chadbourne was counted out at first on a grounder to the box.

Siwashes surged around the reservation for two runs in the third. Gardner had been retired when Reiger spiashed a spitter off Lane. Rowher rapped a single to right, and Brick Eldred with a centerfield swat, sent Lane in with the tieing run. Rowher was held at second, but took third while Welsh was forcing Eldred, making him look like a brick under hydraulic pressure. Rowher and Welsh, with true Siwash sagacity, then sneaked over a double steal. Hannah fired through to Gorman, and Serapiron shot right back but not quite in time to get Rowher crossing the Delaware.

STAGE MASSACRE

Siwashes gave life-like reproduction in seventh of certain well-known massacre with Elmer Reiger occupying heroic but unhappy role of Gen. Custer. Four runs in this round impressed all with the uncertainties of a pitcher's life in the wild and all-wool West.

Rowher started the racket with a center-field triple, and Eldred ruffled the ouiji board with a double. This mysterious rapping of double on board stood for run. Welsh grounded to Gorman. Orr walked, and Flaskamper made a pretty catch of Crane's short fly. Reiger wiped the ball off on Baldwin's blouse. That is, Elmer expectorated on the ball and then bounded it off the batter, dry-cleaning the wet missile. This filled the woods with Indian runners. Yaryan propelled a single through short. Eldred and Orr counted on the hit. Gardner laid one down the first base line. Reiger fielded the ball, and then hit Gardner in the back with it. Elmer did this just to show that he could shoot them on the wing just as accurately as when they are standing still at the plate. Baldwin scored on the misplay. Lane, ninth in line, grounded.

Reiger was lifted for pinch-hitter in the same inning, and Roy Gilder went in to stalk the Siwasher from the mound in the eighth. A double by Welsh and Orr's single gave Seattle one in this round.

This gave painted visitors a six-run lead, which looked fat, but was made to look like a hard winter in the same inning, when Essick's men routed Gardner. In short, in this round Vernon performed the unique feat of apparently knocking both the Seattle pitcher and catcher out of the box. Rod Murphy singled, and was forced by High. Smith doubled Hughie to third. Bodie with a certen-field shot, registered both High and Smith. It was only a single, but very intensive. Hannah, with a two-bagger, put Bodie on third. Flaskhamper singled to center, Bodie and Hannah piling over the pan. It looked as though Eldred could have stopped Truck at the plate, but he held the ball, and in so doing held Flaskamper at first. Licker was sent in to bat for Gilder. Gardner was here derricked, and Yaryan turned in his tools at the same time. Yam and Gardner are inseparable and indissoluble. They were replaced by Jacobs and Tobin. High popped to Baldwin, and Jacobs whiffed Gorman. This ended the impending rout, and left the Siwashes sitting on top by two runs.

Murphy's double and singles by High and Bodie netted a run in ninth, and almost knocked the visitors off the perch. But with two on Lane camped under Hannah's long fly for final out. Score:

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

Can a player improve his game by practice off the golf course?

Answered by
LAURIE AYTON

Always a consistent place-winner in the big tournaments—National open, Metropolitan open, Western open and sectional tournaments. Famed for his accuracy and steadiness under fire.

—He certainly can. Indoor golf schools and driving into a net are two good ways. What I consider the best and simplest method, however, is one which I use myself, and which I call the mirror method. It consists in standing before a mirror and practicing the swing for the drive and practicing putting. In doing this, the eyes should be focused on some particular point of the image reflected in the mirror and each point should be practiced until no flaws can be detected in the mirror image. This mirror practice is especially good because the player is not so intent on trying to hit the ball for the last yard of distance and therefore pays more attention to form. Get the proper form and results will follow quickly.

GOLF STANCE IMPORTANT

Walter Hagen Says That Solid Footing Makes a Good Foundation for Better Game

BY WALTER HAGEN,
British Open Champion
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright 1923, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

GLASGOW, June 6.—Not long ago I made the assertion that foot work in golf constituted a very large percentage of the game. Without a comfortable and solid stance it would be difficult to accomplish much in the way of hitting the ball properly.

The stance is important in every shot that we make and consequently it varies according to what is required, just as the stance of the boxer varies according to the blow he is going to strike or to the defense of his opponent's blows.

I would suggest that every golfer learn to play golf by standing with the feet fairly well apart for the drive. Just how far apart his heels should be depends on the length of his legs so I will not specify any distance. If the feet are well apart there is less chance of swaying and the temptation to hit too soon—that is, to get the body into the shot before the hands have brought the club head to its proper place—is minimized.

CURE FOR SLICING

Everyone should know by a little practice when the stance feels comfortable. Most golfers are inclined, however, to put the feet a trifle too close together. Try to remember this the next time you address that ball. I would suggest that a sure cure for slicing would be to spread the feet more than usual, as we all know slicing is caused by pulling the hands in instead of letting them go out after the ball.

There are three distinct types of stances. If golfers are interested in my own stance I will explain it in detail.

I stand with my feet pretty well apart and with the left drawn back about three inches from the line of flight. This is what is known as the open stance and is used by a great many well-known players. Hutchison, Vardon, Barnes, Mitchell, Sarazen and others stand this way, but all of us differ a little in the distance the left foot is placed from the line of flight.

Duncan and Chick Evans stand with their feet on a line in what we call the square stance. Duncan is emphatic in saying that this is the best and only way to hit a golf ball. Evans has found it satisfactory. Many other good golfers use this stance.

Francis Ouimet differs from most well-known players: he draws the right foot back an inch or two from the line just as I draw the left back. This is what we might term the closed stance from want of a better word. Nearly all good players use this stance when they wish to hook the ball as it is easier to send the clubhead into the ball from this position.

In all three stances the width between the feet is just the same.

If one made a chart of the feet and the position of the club on the ground, it would show that the ball is in practically the same position in relation to the toes. The ball and the two feet would form almost a triangle. At least, the distance from each toe to the ball would be the same.

CORRECT POSITION

When Ouimet takes his stance the ball appears to be teed almost opposite the right heel, while in my own case the ball is about opposite the left heel. With Duncan and Evans the ball is about in the center.

No golfer ever made any success out of the game by playing on his toes. When a player is off form one of the most common faults is for him to rise on his toes. I have seen photographs of players at the finish of the swing standing on both toes. This is wrong. The correct way is to stand with the weight well distributed on the ball of the foot and the heel. The left heel rises a little at the top of the swing to accommodate the pivot while the right foot is resting on the toe at the finish and the left foot is flat on the ground. If you will observe the photographs of well-known players at the finish of the swing you will see that this is true.

When taking the stance, the ball should be teed at a position a club length away from the left knee. Take the stance and stand erect with the hands down. This will give one an idea where to tee the ball. Some golfers lean over quite a bit while others stand straighter. The explanation of that belongs to a discussion of the upright and the flat swing.

BUMPER TALKS

My Kingdom For A Horse

Was it Washington who said that he collided with an iceberg while crossing the Delaware, or was it a remark made by Von Hindenburg on the retreat from San Mihiel? My memory for history isn't much. But anyhow, whoever said it, he couldn't have needed a horse a bit more than I need a couple of hundred ideas for Bumper Talks. I've written over two hundred of these little ads now, and, try as hard as I may, I haven't been able to find any more funny stories or occurrences that I could twist into an ad. Maybe some of my readers could help me. Any little suggestion acceptable. You send it in and I'll try to twist it around as I can say at the end "Buy Stewart Autoguards. They really do protect a car." That's all that really counts, anyhow.

Electrical Heat Treatment gets you out of a Scrape

ARE your whiskers a trouble? Does it hurt your skin when you give yourself a close shave? If so, change to GEM Double Life Blades.

They are electrically heat-treated by a new method that seems to alter the very structure of the steel—at any rate it permits a new perfection of cutting edge, smooth even under powerful miscroscopes. This is our challenge:—

If Gem Blades don't lessen the time and trouble of shaving, and give you better shaves, without pulling your beard or scraping your skin, we will refund your money. Liberal as this offer sounds, we are really taking no chances—we know what Gem Blades can do.

Prep Baseball Squads Meet in Three Games Tomorrow

JEFFERSON AND LINCOLN CLASH

Two Nines Battle to Retain Chance for Title

Franklin High Field Scene of Fast Struggle

Poly-L.A. High Game to Decide Championship

While the L. A. High-Poly game, the feature tilt of the last round of play in the City League, has been postponed until Tuesday, three prep contests will be on tomorrow, one of which will have bearing on the championship.

In tomorrow's battles Jefferson and Lincoln will clash on the Franklin High diamond, and in the feature of the day Manual entertains Hollywood and Pasadena tackles Long Beach on the Jackrabbits' grounds.

The Jeff-Lincoln squabble should be fast and furious all the way, as the victor will have a chance for the pennant. However, the championship will not be decided until after the Poly-L. A. game, which will be held Tuesday. There are four ways which the prep race can terminate, namely:

Should Lincoln defeat Jefferson and L. A. High trim Poly, the Pioneers will get the title, as they downed the Rail-splitters earlier in the season.

Should Lincoln defeat Jefferson and Poly trim L. A. High, Lincoln will take the championship.

Should Jefferson defeat Lincoln and Poly down L. A. High, Jefferson will annex the pennant.

Should Jefferson defeat Lincoln and L. A. High down Poly Jefferson and L. A. High will be tied for the title and a playoff game will be necessary to decide the championship.

Coach Frank Malotte will probably start his ace hurler, Milt Nolan, against Jefferson, while Coach Lopez will use probably Greenfield on the mound. Neither squad has shown much hitting power to date, and the game tomorrow should be a hurling duel. Manual is favored to down Hollywood, while Pasadena, because of its splendid showing against Jefferson, should down Long Beach.

SEALS THUMP THREE DUCK HURLERS; WIN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—San Francisco hit three Portland pitchers hard today and won an easy victory, 9 to 3. Schrpeder was taken out in the first when Mulligan, Walsh and Ellison doubled in succession after two were down, scoring two runs. San Francisco got two more off Eckert in the second and were never headed thereafter. Pillette finished the game after Eckert was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

Manager Middleton of Portland was fined $25 for his outbreak yesterday, when he protested a called ball and was ejected from the game by Umpire Carroll, according to an announcement by President William H. McCarthy.

BASEBALL BUG BITES YOSEMITE VALLEYITES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAMP CURRY (Yosemite) June 6.—The baseball bug has bitten the Yosemite Valley, and anyone visiting the far-famed valley for the balance of the season may look forward to witnessing some interesting contests of the national pastime. Several nines are organized for the summer, and the formation of a four-club league is now going on, and it is expected that actual competition will be started within the next week or two. The four teams to be entered in this league will be Camp Curry, Yosemite Lodge, Wawona, and United States Government employees.

University of Washington (Seattle) nine plays Yale at New Haven June 13 and Boston College in Boston June 14.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The first home run of the long major league career of Urban Faber, veteran Chicago pitcher, aided Chicago in winning its first game of the year from New York today, the score being 4 to 1. Faber had the better of Pennock, the local left-hander, in a twirling duel, which was decided when Faber broke a 1-1 tie score in the seventh inning with a home run, which bounded into a left-field box. Chicago then made two additional runs in the ninth. The defeat was the first suffered by Pennock since he came to New York. He previously had won six straight. Score:

PERTICA SHIPPED TO TEXAS LEAGUE CLUB

Word has been received here that Bill Pertica, former Angel twirler, has been sent to the Houston (Tex.) League club by the St. Louis Cardinals. Pertica was with the Cardinals two years, but was unable to win in major company so Branch Rickey shipped him to his Texas League club.

SUDS' COMEBACK IS SENSATIONAL

Recovery of the Seattle club from its early season slump is easily one of the sensations of the present race.

Manager Harry Wolverton, very optimistic regarding his prospects last spring, naturally was disappointed over the team's poor getaway. However, he did not believe his earlier judgment could have been wholly at fault, and contended that the club eventually would show improvement.

The Siwashes in yesterday's game showed hardly championship form, but they looked 50 per cent better than the club of a month ago. Baldwin at third base has helped, while most of the pitchers have braced.

Vean Gregg, veteran southpaw, has turned in some good games, while Gardner, Blake, Jacobs and Plummer have been pitching winning ball.

Jimmy Welsh, who went in at first when Doc Johnson was hit on the head with a pitched ball, has been playing a good all-around game. He is a fine fielder, fast and hits well. Wolverton believed Welsh is to be a second Harry Heilmann.

President Charles Lockard would strengthen the club were it possible, but Red Killefer, after an extended scouting trip through the small minors, failed to find any prospect good enough to step into a class A race in full swing. Anyway, a lot of ball clubs meeting Seattle will know that they have been in a ball game. The fans like to see a club fighting a successful uphill battle.

Down Solons on Prough's Muff in Ninth; Ed Finney Sprains Ankle

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, June 6.—Bill Prough's beautiful muff of Mollwitz's toss to first, allowing Babe Twombly to score from second with the winning run in the ninth inning, gave Marty King and his ornery Angels their second straight win over the Solons here today.

As an extra added attraction Umpire Ed Finney moved either too slow or too fast for his ankle and after trying desperately to get himself together, Finney landed in a dugout and sprained his ankle. For his acrobatic stunt Finney was given the day off and Paul Fittery finished the game as an ump. Fittery pulled a rotten decision on Gelvin that robbed the Angels

LEAGUE SESSION TO BEGIN TODAY

Southwest Body Lists River Experts on Program

Former Officials Attending Only as Observers

Addresses on Indian Affairs Will Be Heard

BY CHARLES P. HAYDEN,
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA BARBARA, June 6.—A conference called by the League of the Southwest will open here tomorrow morning for a three-day session. Because of the refusal of five Governors to attend or to send representatives and because of the turbulent closing of the last meeting of the league in Riverside in December, 1921, there is much speculation here tonight as to the status of the meeting. Secretary Arnold Kruckman says it is an open conference under the auspices of the league to which representatives of organizations throughout the Southwest are welcome whether or not they are members of the league.

The meeting will differ from other league conventions held in the last ten years in that State executives and various government and State engineers hitherto on the program will be absent. It is indicated that the attendance will be much smaller than at the Riverside and Los Angeles meetings so far as active participants are concerned. It appears, however, that there will be a considerable number of observers, among them men who were formerly active in league affairs. Some of these may be drawn into participation before the meeting closes. There will be no business session.

ANGELENO PRESIDING

That utterance of significance and value may be expected during the sessions is indicated by the fact that among the speakers are L. Ward Bannister of Denver, Dr. Robert Sibley of San Francisco and other men who are familiar with the complex phases of the Colorado River development project. None of the members of Secretary Hoover's Colorado River Commission appear on the program. For this reason Mr. Bannister's eloquent address before the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in December, 1921, was received with great enthusiasm at that time because of his forceful presentation of the benefits to be derived from Colorado River development.

Harry H. Merrick, now of Los Angeles and formerly president of the Mississippi Valley Association, will preside at the conference. Mr. Merrick is vice-president of the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Tidewater Association and has been interested in river development for many years.

SWING TO SPEAK

Among the speakers scheduled on tomorrow's program are Dr. Horace Porter of Riverside, W. G. Clark of New York, George H. Maxwell of Phoenix, Walter V. Woehlke, editor of Sunset Magazine, and Armando Santa Cruz, Jr., here as the representative of President Obregon of Mexico. Dr. Sibley has recently made a tour of the Southwest and will present the result of his observations as to the hydroelectric possibilities. Mr. Clark will speak on the Boulder Canyon dam project.

Congressman Swing will speak tomorrow or Friday and at some time during the conference there will be several addresses on Indian affairs. Among the latter speakers will be William Jennings Bryan, Jr., Mrs. H. A. Atwood, Mr. Woehlke and Superintendent Frank H. Conser of Sherman Institute.

ACCIDENT COMMISSION FORCE TO BE REDUCED

FIVE EMPLOYEES TO BE LET OUT AT OFFICE IN LOS ANGELES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Closing of the branch offices in Fresno, San Diego and Eureka, and the diminishing of the force employed in San Francisco and Los Angeles, together with the abandonment of certain departments, were announced today by Will J. French, chairman of the industrial Accident Commission, effective July 1.

The curtailment is the result, according to French, of a reduction in the budget allowed the commission of $275,054 from the amount granted it for the last two-year period. Some fifty-five employees out of a total working force of 150 are to be dropped. Of this number five are in the Los Angeles office, four at Fresno, one each at Eureka and San Diego, and the remainder at the head office here.

The rehabilitation and welfare departments are to be discontinued entirely, French said. The safety department will be the hardest hit of those remaining, twenty-four inspectors, clerks and stenographers being dropped.

MAY RESUME ECONOMIC COUNCIL OF CATHOLICS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, June 6.—The bishops of the Roman Catholic Church on the American continent, will soon receive a circular letter from the Papal Secretary of State, asking their opinion on the proposal to resume the ecumenical council, which was interrupted in 1870. Some of the European bishops have already expressed their approval of the plan. Owing to the near approach of the holy year (1923) it is hoped to be able to inaugurate the council before the end of that year, the council continuing during 1924.

PEACE PACT DELAYS VEX TWO ALLIES

Slowness of Negotiations at Lausanne Worries Both French and English

BY JOHN STEELE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
[Copyright, 1923, by the Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 6.—Both the British and French governments are becoming exceedingly worried over the slowness of the Near East peace negotiations at Lausanne, which threatens to involve them in heavy expense for the prolonged maintenance of garrisons at Constantinople and the straits.

Both governments are anxious to withdraw their troops as soon as possible for the sake of economy, and the British forces already have been warned by the War Office to be prepared to evacuate at the shortest notice. The evacuation cannot take place, however, before the treaty is concluded and is ratified by the British, French and Turkish governments, and the French Chamber, whose consent is necessary for ratification, rises in about a week and does not meet again until November.

In Great Britain the government can ratify a treaty, and Angora presumably will be able to do so quickly, but the French delay may compel the retention of British troops at Constantinople as well as French.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6.—The Turks have announced that the exchange of realty of Allied subjects has been suspended until peace had been ratified. American realty will not change hands until the present pourparlers have been completed.

WILL DEDICATE PLUNGE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, June 6.—The local Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from the Redlands organization asking that this city send a bevy of bathing girls to participate in the opening of the new municipal plunge there next Saturday. The telegram states that aquatic stars, including Marie Curtis, Buddy Smith, Duke Kahanamoku and others, will take part in the celebration, and with addition of local beauties, will make a gala day for Redlands.

LINKING OF TWO ROADS PLANNED

Promoters Ask Right of Way on Phoenix Street

Line Would Give Rock Island New Coast Opening

Connection With Santa Fe is Declared Purpose

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, June 6.—Application today was made to the Phoenix City Commission for a right of way across the city on Madison street for the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railroad, an enterprise now ten years old, which proposes linking the Rock Island-El Paso and Southwestern Railway system with the Santa Fe at this point, thus securing an alternative Rock Island opening to Los Angeles and the Coast. The line now ends at Tucson, where there is connection only with the Southern Pacific.

There is strong denial that the Southwestern is to be considered as owner of the new 124-mile road proposed. It has been promoted by James S. Douglas, president of the United Verde Extension Mine, president of several Arizona banks and brother of Walter Douglas, who is at the head of the Phelps Dodge interests that own the Southwestern system and a large part of the Rock Island stock.

PROPERTY ACQUIRED

Mr. Douglas states that with him is associated George E. Tener and that they have spent $475,000 in acquisition of property in the southern part of Phoenix and on the survey from Tucson. A part of the property is to be used for depot purposes, apparently without intention to join in the new union depot with the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific branches.

Mr. Douglas also has had several surveys made for a railroad from near Jerome, from the extension smelter town of Clemenceau, to Mesa, down the Verde River. For years he has been attacking freight charges on the Arizona roads. He stated today that the other railroads have Phoenix well pocketed, and that his proposition is one that may lead to securing for the city the long-desired main-line railroad.

FRANCHISE OPPOSED

Strong opposition locally is expressed by business men to the plan for using Madison street, which parallels at two blocks' distance the city's main business thoroughfare. The other railroads use Jackson street, a block farther south, and the new depot is a block still farther south.

Mr. Douglas stated belief that he could hardly expect to get any freight along Jackson street, where the other railroads own spurs to the many warehouses. He intimated that the Madison-street franchise is essential to securing the line, and that if it were granted "dirt would fly by Christmas."

The application for entry was not unexpected, and the State Corporation Commission already had advised the other railroads that provision must be made for accommodation in the new depot for any third railway system that might materialize.

The Douglas application has been taken under advisement by the City Commission, with assurance that it would be granted if any street south of Madison had been named.

SILKWORTH REPORTED READY TO QUIT POST

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Close friends of W. S. Silkworth, president of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, said today they were reliably informed that he would resign within a month. His reported decision to withdraw was made on account of attacks on him and the exchange as an outgrowth of investigation of defunct brokerage houses. Silkworth declined to discuss the report. Silkworth, it was said, did not wish to resign at present, while he was under fire in investigations of the brokerage houses.

CALIFORNIA ALMOND CROP TO SET RECORD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—An early survey indicates that the almond crop in California this season will be the heaviest in history, an increase of 25 per cent being in sight, it was announced today by the California Almond Growers' Exchange. The exchange has called a meeting for this city for next Friday to consider the question of closing the membership rolls for the 1923 season.

Inexpensive Method of Reducing Dangerous Swollen Veins at Home

Doctor's Recent Discovery, Also Heals Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles, Abscesses and Open Sores in a Few Days.

The world progresses. Today ailments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start this today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil besides being one of the most powerful of antiseptics, capable of destroying the most pernicious germs and the poisons caused by them, is also a marvelous healing agent.

One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruptions to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, wens or goitre, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, boils, abscesses or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you.

GOLDEN HARVEST DENIED BY NEW YORK WAITERS

Garcon Who Gets $30 in Tips and $10 in Wages Weekly Considered Among the Fortunate

BY RAYMOND G. CARROLL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Enough to keep the wolf from the door for two of the seven days of the week. That is his pay for a week's work, he uncomplainingly told me this morning. It is the maximum pay of the 50,000 other waiters in the metropolitan district with a falling minimum, for already the growing tendency of hotel and restaurant proprietors is to pay no wages whatever to waiters. The outlook of a waiter is decidedly drab.

"How are you making out?" the boss asked a waiter last week in one of the all-night eateries of New York.

"Pretty fair," replied the waiter aiming to please his employer. "I guess I am knocking out in tips about $30 to $40 a week."

"So you are making out 'pretty fair, ?'" said the boss. "Well, henceforth and hereafter you get no salary. That weekly pay envelope containing $10—why you might as well forget it from now on."

"I don't get it any more?" faltered the waiter.

"You don't," said the boss, "and what's more you are lucky I don't take a percentage of your tips."

The waiter sadly held his peace for well he knew what was back of the "percentage" threat, and what had happened in the check rooms of the big New York hotels and restaurants; where the privilege to collect tips for stored hats, coats and wraps has been standardized and "framed out" at large sums per annum to parasites not connected with the management. One of these parasites pays $25,000 a year for the right to do to a proprietor's guests what the proprietor would not dare directly to do himself, namely, grab the lion's share of what is a gift to an individual. He gets the share, however, by permitting a concessionaire to collect it.

Waiters have been wondering how long before this new check-room system would be extended into the restaurants and the public fooled by the announcement of increased "wages" paid to the waiters, who would be called upon as the check-room girls now are, to surrender all of their tips.

"If it takes all of your $12.50 weekly wage to run your home for just two days' where do you get 'the necessary' for the remaining five days of the week?" We asked our favorite waiter, for any research made into the waiter problem is a finger on the raw nerve of a great city's extortion and symbolizes other gold-digging activities hidden in the depths of the metropolitan whirlpool.

"From you and the other patrons," he frankly answered, but quickly added: "You must know that this hotel pays the highest waiter wages in New York. Those on our room-service duty get $13.50 weekly. Most of the other hotels and restaurants pay only $10 and some only $8. In the average business the best wages are paid in those establishments that do the best class business. Not in the hotel and restaurant line—there the better the guests the lower the wages, on the principle that a wealthy patron will do better for a waiter than one in medium circumstances."

Which brings the whole subject down to this—for the sustenance for five days of each week every New York waiter is a Lazarus, and lucky is he if not for a larger amount. Like the beggars of olden days, gathered at the city's gates for the alms of the strangers, our waiters of the modern Babylon are forced to look to the strangers to toss them enough coins to keep them and feed them; they and their families, for nine months out of the twelve months of a year.

Waiters as a rule are intensely domestic. They not only insist upon having a home, no matter how humble, but they do go in for large families. Those whom we know average from two to five children each. A bachelor waiter is almost an unknown quantity in the big town.

One waiter we know, who lives in a tiny flat outside the pale of the aristocratic Sutton Place development on the Mid-East Side, has a wife who has painted the walls of their home so beautifully that Miss Anne Morgan and Miss Elsie DeWolfe called to admire the work and praise it. Any number have have told us of possessing radio sets which they built themselves.

Until the last year or so waiters generally have been living on the mid-west side, from Fourteenth street to Seventy-second street, in three-room and five-room flats, that cost from $30 to $40 a month. But there has been an active building transformation going on. Manhattan is demolishing the old and replacing with the new at the rate of 500 structures a year—and the remaining flats to be had over there are held at from $45 to $60 a month.

In the Bronx small flats once could be rented at $40, but the monthly minimum is now $50. Long Island offers flats at from $40 to $60. Only the cities and towns along the west side of the Hudson offer flats at $30, which explains the great number of waiters who tell you they live in New Jersey.

Do hotels and restaurants supply the special clothing demanded to be worn by waiters? No. Each must buy his own. He requires two pairs of black trousers, two black jackets and a dozen shirts a year. With the laundry cost added, this clothing item consumes $100 of the $500 to $600 yearly wages received.

"My tips vary in size and frequency," said a veteran in one of the best Broadway restaurants. "That generous patron who occasionally brightened the night by tossing us a $5 bill vanished with the arrival of prohibition. The average man tips 25 cents and the average woman 10 cents. Very few figure out 10 per cent of the total of the check. If there are two quarters, three dimes and two nickels on the change tray, as like as not the customer will pick up everything except one nickel and one dime. Generosity only comes in spots, and is largely a matter of who is looking on. If a waiter makes $45 a week—$25 in tips and $10 in wages—he considers himself self mighty lucky."

Only last week a train carrying hotel and restaurant proprietors left the Grand Central Station that was called the "billion-dollar hotel special," from the fact that men aboard operated properties worth that sum.

People who come to New York complain of the high prices charged for food and bed. The waiters do not get much of it, and if the strangers stopped tipping them they would actually starve; a gift from the public to waiters conservatively estimated is more than $60,000,000 a year, exclusive of similar large sums donated to bell boys, maids, floor clerks, check boys, check girls, porters and other low-paid supernumeraries of ye metropolitan inns and restaurants.

Chicago Police Expect Arrest in Tesmer Killing After Finding Picture on Suspect

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 6.—Capture of the slinker girl slayer of Richard Tesmer, wealthy insurance man, drew perceptibly nearer tonight as police discovered the picture of a girl which tallied with the murderer's description among the effects of a man suspect arrested for asserted complicity in the crime.

Police records today showed that the killing of Tesmer last night was the first time in history that a hold-up victim ever has been killed by a girl bandit. There have been many female bandits apprehended in the last few years, but never before has one actually pulled the trigger to kill her victim.

IDENTIFIES PHOTOGRAPH

The insurance man's widow, who witnessed the killing, today identified the photograph, and police say they expect to have the girl in custody tonight.

With the identification of the photograph, police began grilling Irving Schlig, 20 years of age, in whose possession the photograph was found, and who has steadfastly refused to tell who the girl is or how he obtained her likeness.

Finding of a check, stolen from Mrs. Tesmer, together with a taxi-cab receipt covering the distance from where the stolen Tesmer car was abandoned to the point where it was found, was also considered a live clew by police.

DETAILS OF KILLING

The story of the murder and hold-up has been pieced together by the narrative of the prostrated Mrs. Tesmer and her daughter, who heard the shot and rushed to a window in time to see her mother fall unconscious over the body of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Tesmer returned to their home about 11:30 o'clock last night and prepared to put their automobile in the garage at the rear of the apartment. As Mr. Tesmer opened the doors of the garage, he and his wife were confronted by a girl and man, both armed with revolvers.

After all valuables had been taken, the bandits endeavored to make Mrs. Tesmer give up her wedding ring. The girl ended the discussion by shooting Mr. Tesmer through the forehead. The couple then leaped into the Tesmer car and dashed away.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. PAUL, June 6.—Pure bred live stock valued at more than $100,000 will travel in a special car over the Northern Pacific Railway on a demonstration tour through the Northwest. The trip is being taken to show the farmers of the Northwest that success is to be attained through dairying. The herd will leave Duluth June 20.

After watching a wolf's den closely for several weeks, Bob Woods of the Little Pine territory north of Crosby, caught the mother wolf away and captured five cubs. Several cubs have been sold as pets at $6 each.

Several hundred acres of timberland between Ironton and Barrows were burned over last week but the fires have about played themselves out. A ten-mile stretch of meadow and cut-over lands along the Little Pinenorth of Ironton, also has been burning but the fire is now under control.

DETROIT

DETROIT, June 6.—The sawmill of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company plant at Kipling, yesterday ceased operation indefinitely, because of loss by forest fires of thousands of cords of wood cut and piled ready for shipment from Alger county. All wood now available at the Kipling plant is being rushed to Marquette in an effort to keep the company's plant there in operation.

One of Escanaba's earliest settlers, Peter Harring, 88 years of age, died at his home there. He came from a lineage that reached advanced ages, his mother being 100 years old when she died. She was born in the house where Gen. Lafayette made his headquarters during the Revolutionary Wa. Mr. Harring's grandmother lived 92 years, his grandfather 90.

AKRON

AKRON (O.) June 6.—An announcement was made that the Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, bishop of Cleveland, had acquired ownership, for the diocese, of the Kubler property on North Hill, adjoining the entrance to the viaduct, and that a charity hospital to cost $500,000 would be built in the near future.

The 17-year locusts have made their appearance in Ross county, according to District Entomologist A. E. Miller at Chillicothe. Considerable damage has resulted, he said, as a result of the pests using tender twigs for hatching grounds.

Efforts are to be made by Akron Shriners who are attending the national Shrine convention at Washington this week, to obtain a Shrine tmple for Akron. According to Shrine officials, Akron is the second largest city in the United States without a Shrine temple.

MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, June 6.—After two weeks of drouth, Winnebago county was visited by a $1,000,000 rain last night when heavy thunderstorms deluged that section of the Fox River Valley. Crops, struggling up through ground parched by the heat and long dry spell, took a new lease of life. Farmers say the rain spelled the difference between success or failure of their crops.

Plans were announced this week for the addition of five stories to the Citizens National Bank Building at Appleton, making it the tallest building in the city. It is expected the cost of the addition will approximate $300,000.

Left for dead twenty minutes after a bolt of lightning struck the barn in which he was at work, Lucian Smith was brought back to life through artificial respiration, applied by his father, and is now out of danger. The youth was cold and apparently lifeless when he was found, the father, Alfred Smith, declared. The Smiths live near Elkhorn.

Judge Edward W. Murray, one of the oldest residents of Phillips and Price county Judge for twenty-eight years died at a Chippewa Falls hospital. He was 80 years old, and a veteran of the Civil War.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, June 6.—A "dollar dropping" rain spread a half-inch of moisture fairly generally throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas yesterday, breaking up a four-day run of excessive heat, ending a drouth which in places had continued for two weeks and prevented the imminent drying up of the young plants of grain and hay, and tiding over the crops to later rains.

The carpenters' strike is virtually over and will be a closed incident before the end of the week, according to C. A. Gunn, secretary of the Builders' Exchange. Mr. Gunn said the contractors were paying 87½ cents while J. R. Bjorklund, secretary of the carpenters' union, declared that three contractors had agreed to the $1 an hour scale demanded by the strikers and that 2500 men are working at this new scale.

Faced with a record of eleven killed and several hundred injured in Minneapolis motor accidents in 1923 so far, County Attorney Olson yesterday announce a campaign against reckless motorists. Mr. Olson said he would treat speeding and reckless driving "just as an epidemic of crime."

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—A new high temperature record for the year was established yesterday when the mercury rose to 86 degrees at 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon.

Five frame buildings containing live stock and equipment valued at $50,000, burned yesterday at the Schwartz dairy, Sixty-third street and Allason Road. Carl Schwartz, manager of the dairy, suffered burns on the head and hands in fighting the flames. The dairy is owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Castle.

DENVER

DENVER, June 6.—Dr. H. R. Harper, chancellor of the University of Denver, will sail June 23 from New York for an all-summer tour of Europe as a member of the Sherwood Eddy party of American educators and churchmen. James H. Causey, Denver investment banker, will accompany him on the trip as the other Denver representative in the distinguished party.

The Denver National Bank will erect a $1,000,000 twelve-story building on the northwest corner of Seventeenth and Curtis streets this fall.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, June 6.—William S. Palmer, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Independence since its organization three years ago, is planning to go into the banking business in Los Angeles. He will sever his connections with the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank June 15, and he and his family will leave soon after for California.

With the arrival yesterday of the first big batch of harvest hands, C. H. Stinson, county agent at Pratt, Kan., declared that it was too early for men to come to the harvest fields for work unless they were prepared to finance themselves for three or four weeks.

DES MOINES

DES MOINES, June 6.—For the first time in fifteen years Red Oak is to celebrate the Fourth of July, the celebration being sponsored by the local post of the American Legion.

Squatters, who have made their homes on the parkings and roadways of unused city streets in sparsely settled portions of the city, are doomed to be evicted before the onward march of Sioux City improvements, Councilman E. C. Wesley declared at a meeting of the Council. There are a number of such "squatters" who have constructed rude shacks in the streets and lived in them for many years, he said.

OMAHA

OMAHA, June 6.—One and a half million young fish are to be sent out to the rivers and lakes in Nebraska within the next few days from the fish hatcheries at Alliance and Dankelman, it is announced by George Koster, State Fish and Game Warden.

The Burlington railroad is doing much work along the river at Nebraska City, protecting company property. A large force of men are at work on the east side of the river doing rip-rap work and another large body of men is working a few miles south of Nebraska City, where the river has been cutting the west bank.

RATIFICATION OF NAVAL ACCORDS TO BE ASKED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 6. — The government's intention to ask Parliament to ratify the Washington naval accords without formal reservations was put into effect today. Georges Leygues, president of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Deputies, admitted that Premier Poincare had decided to withdraw the ratifying bill now before the commission and substitute a straightforward ratification. Any reservations, he said would take the form of comments inserted in various commissions' reports. As the new bill must be examined by several commissions and several reports on it be prepared, actual ratification of the accords may be delayed many weeks.

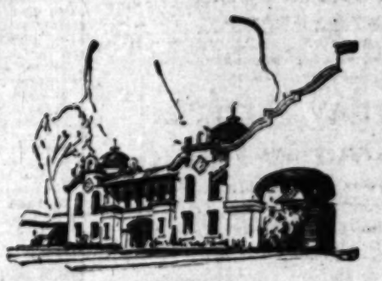
ALHAMBRA

Where Schools Infuse Culture Into Every-day Living



BETWEEN the city of today and the city of tomorrow stands the school, the keystone to the arch of civilization. In its schools a city not only prophesies its future but gives unerring evidence of its present civilization.

If one thing more than another points to the glorious future of California, it is the fact that its citizens have taxed themselves more for schools than have the citizens of any other state in the Union.

If one thing more than another stands out as significant in the elementary schools of California, it is the fact that they have passed beyond the stage of being mere prison houses for compulsory academic routine and have become modernly equipped social and industrial institutions of service where adults as well as children find pleasurable occupation in doing the things that make them better citizens.

Beautiful buildings stimulating civic pride, auditoriums that form a social center for community gatherings, well-equipped machine and wood-working shops where children and grown-ups may make the things they need and find pleasure in the development of their craft, school farms and gardens in which to learn the science of the soil and practice the gentle art of gardening, and recreation grounds for the use of the entire community—are all features that give pre-eminence to California schools.

In all of these, Alhambra's schools today may be found among those of the first rank, and in some respects they make just claims to superiority.

From the very outset Alhambra was destined to be a great school city, first, because it is a city of homes, and second, because the attitude of the residents was early made evident in the setting aside of school lands. It is doubtful if many other cities can lay claim to an average of five acres for its grammar school grounds and fifteen acres in the center of the city for its high school campus. While the land has no educational importance as such, it is significant as indicative of the attitude of the citizens in providing amply for growth.

In Alhambra today there are eight large grammar school buildings, all of the most modern construction, modernly equipped. In the High School campus there are six departmental buildings and a $350,000 central building now under course of construction, to house among other things an auditorium equipped with a practical theatre stage and seating accommodations for over two thousand people. Plans are being perfected to have this stage open in the rear upon an open air plaza that will accommodate an audience of from fifteen to twenty thousand. Thus ample provisions will be made for the Dramatic and Musical Departments of the school to become vital social factors in the community.

The Dramatic Department, under the guidance of an instructor experienced in the theatre, is utilizing to the utmost the educational value of the drama in teaching the students' right manners and speech and giving them an appreciation of life and beauty through the most vital of educational processes—that by which, in the interpretation of the writings of great men, they assume the manners, articulate the speech and memorize the thoughts that combine to make up a cultivated human being.

The Music Department, under the guidance of musicians, teaches its students the finer harmonies of life by the surest and shortest method of play, providing them with all of the instruments of their own 40-piece orchestra, except those that are intimately personal.

The Commerce building impresses one more as a successful business house than as a school. Here one may see in one room 50 embryo stenographers all busily occupied. The Sewing Department has its own building; the other household arts, another building equipped with a model apartment all furnished and ready to move into. The great machine shops and gymnasium complete the picture.

If Alhambra's present has much to commend it, Alhambra's future has more. It is yours to share with us.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española, y para beneficio de los lectores americanos del Times que estudien esa lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Un conocimiento práctico del español es de grandísima utilidad en este país, especialmente en el suroeste; como lo demuestra el hecho de que en Los Angeles solamente hay más de 15,000 personas que estudian ese idioma con profesores oficiales o particulares. Para esos estudiantes será un buen ejercicio leer todos los días esta sección, donde encontrarán las palabras y frases más usuales del lenguaje español.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, junio 6.—Después de conferenciar con el Presidente Harding, el Senador Watson ha predicho que la plataforma del partido republicano, el año próximo, va a hacer a un lado el problema de la prohibición, refiriéndose quizá a él tan sólo para declararse en favor de la vigencia de esa ley.

En su cuadragésima nona sesion anual, los nobles del Templo Mistico han elegido su Directiva para 1924. En ella están incluidos el ex-Diputado Clifford Ireland, de Peoria, y Thomas F. Houston, de Chicago.

Los negocios postales siguen demostrando grandes utilidades, con Chicago a la cabeza.

Está Bien la Situación Financiera

CHICAGO, junio 6.—Ha desaparecido el infamiento, y el crédito es completamente sano, según declaró hoy en su informe menusual, J. H. Tregoe, Secretario y Tesorero de la Asociación Nacional de Hombres de Crédito.

Harding Hablará en la Conferencia del Pabellón Nacional.

INDIANAPOLIS, junio 6.—Según se anunció hoy en el cuartel general nacional de la Legión Americana, ha aceptado el Presidente Harding la invitación para hablar en Washington ante la Conferencia del Pabellón Nacional, que tendrá lugar los días 14 y 15 de junio, bajo los auspicios de la Comisión de Americanismo Nacional de la citada Legión.

Asegurador Asesinado en Chicago

CHICAGO, junio 6.—Richard C. Tesmer, funcionario de una compañía de seguros, fué matado de un tiro por un bandido femenino, al resistir los esfuerzos de la malhechora y de un acompañante de ésta, que le atracaron al bajar de su auto con la Sra. Tesmer, y disponerse a entrar con ella a su casa.

Obregón Satisfecho de sus Delegados

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, junio 6.—El Presidente Obregon está enteramente satisfecho de la labor realizada en la conferencia del reconocimiento por los miembros mejicanos, según declaración hecha hoy. En dicha declaración se desmentían las noticias de que Adolfo de la Huerta, Ministro de Hacienda, había sido nombrado miembro de la comisión.

En opinión del ejecutivo, "los Sres. Roa y Ross han interpretado fielmente la alta misión que se les ha encomendado." La semana pasada hubo noticias extraoficiales de que el Sr. Ross había solicitado ser relevado de su puesto, pues le parecía que iban a ser fútiles las negociaciones.

NOTAS LOCALES

Dos Vapuleadores Irán a Dar a la Cárcel

La víctima dió ayer tarde los nombres de dos miembros de la cuadrilla de enmascarados que quiso vengar el reciente y brutal atentado contra Astrea Joly, secuestrando a Frank Sanceri, uno de los sospechosis de dicho atentado, atándolel a un poste en la cima de Lookout Mountain, azotándole con ramales de cable, y abandonándole allí para que pereciera. Dijo Sanceri que conocía bien a los dos hombres, pues habían mostrado mucho interés en el caso, y que podía identificarlos fácilmente. Por momentos se esperaba anoche la detención de estos individuos.

"Este hombre ha pagado con su vida!" Tal era el letrero que estaba prendido al cuerpo de Sanceri. Pero, aunque sus asaltantes le abandonaron en el poste creyéndole muerto, en la madrugada bajó la víctima desde la cumbre de la montaña y narró uno de los más extraños episodios de horror que se hayan conocido en la historia de la policía de esta ciudad.

Dimite Woolwine, y Es Nombrado Keyes

Thomas Lee Woolwine, el petrel de las tormentas en el campo político del condado y del Estado, terminó ayer su carrera de gran espectáculo como Fiscal de este condado, entregando su renuncia a la Junta de "Supervisors." Fué aceptada por este alto cuerpo, e inmediata y unánimemente fué designado Fiscal Asa Keyes, Primer Teniente Fiscal, y empleado en la Fiscalía desde hace 20 años. No ha sido una sorpresa el nombramiento del Sr. Keyes, pues frecuentemente se la ha mencionado como el sucesor lógico del Sr. Woolwine. En tanto que este último estaba limpiando el bufete que ha usado por más de ocho años, el Sr. Keyes tomaba posesión de su cargo de Fiscal.

El Sr. Woolwine da como motivo para su dimisión el hecho de que las fatigas excesivas del puesto han agotado de tal modo sus fuerzas, que ya no se sentía capaz de seguir consagrando a sus deberes oficiales la vigorosa atención que le ha caracterizado durante su incumbencia en el cargo que hoy renuncia. Manifestó que, bajo la dirección de un médico, va a tomarse un largo descanso. Le asegura su facultativo que, si se cuida y sigue las instrucciones médicas, podrá dentro de razonable plazo reanudar la práctica de su profesión de abogado.

Las Elecciones de Ayer

Los resultados completos que a última hora de ayer se recibieron de todas las secciones de la ciudad, excepto tres, confirmaron los del voto incompleto de la noche del martes, e hicieron ver que toda la plantilla del Consejo de Educación que había sido propuesta por el comité de las escuelas de ciudadanos, fué elegida: seis de los actuales munícipes fueron reelectos, siendo los nuevos, Miles S. Gregory, Edwin Baker y Boyle Workman. Perdieron la votación los $35,000,000 para honos de energía eléctrica, al paso que las otras cinco emisiones de bonos fueron votadas.

DEPORTES

Golf

FILADELFIA, junio 6.—Venciendo a numerosas contrincantes, la Srita. Glenna Collett, campeón nacional, se ganó hoy el campeonato oriental en el Club Campestre de Whitemarsh, apuntándose una anotación de 88 para los dieciocho agujeros finales. La muchacha de Providence jugó contra la flor y nata del Este, y realizó en 248 golpes el total de cincuenta y cuatro agujeros.

Pista

CLAREMONT, junio 6.—El Colegio de Pomona estará representado en el encuentro de pista de la Asociación Atlética Interescolar Nacional, que se celebrara en Chicago los días 15 y 16 del corriente, por Charles Lagge, el as corresdor de obstáculos de California.

Tennis

NUEVA YORK, junio 6.—El viejo dicho de que no valen gran cosa los irlandeses y los holandeses no se aplica evidentemente al tennis, particularmente al de la Copa Davis, pues la inesperada fuerza de los equipos de Holanda e Irlanda ha sido el rasgo saliente de la primera parte del juego en la zona europea.

Pugilato

NUEVA YORK, junio 6.—Ya hay nuevo campeón mundial peso welter, pues Mickey Walker, el muchacho de Jersey que le ganó a Jack Britton una decisión en quince asaltos, ha sido suspendido por la Comisión de Nueva York, debido a que no aceptó un reto de Dave Shade, púgil de San Francisco.

Baseball

Los Siwashes de Seattle han confirmado sus pretensiones derrotando a Vernon por 7 a 6 en el primer partido de la serie.

VIRGINIA GIRL WINS CONTEST ON BEAUTY

BREWSTER COMPETITION END WITH SUCCESSOR TO CORLISS PALMER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—A fresh "American beauty" has bloomed in Eugene V. Brewster's garden of loveliness. It was Corliss Palmer, Georgia "peach," who won the first fame and fortune contest conducted by the publisher in his search for feminine perfection.

Miss Florine Findlay de Hart of Bristol, Va., just sweet sixteen, has been chosen from thousands of lovely entrants in the latest Brewster beauty contest, as the fairest of the fair.

Corliss Palmer's flaming beauty is the Cleopatra type, the new winner's loveliness is like that of Helen of Troy.

Asked for the expert judgment of a specialist (Miss Palmer writes beauty articles for Brewster's Magazine) on the new "American Beauty's" charms, she replied, with indifference:

"I haven't been much interested in the contest, and I've only seen one or two pictures of Miss De Hart. I hardly know what she looks like."

A Fly's Life

It was found at the Pasteur Institute that the longest life of a fly is about rixty-two days, so that at least three generations are required to span the winter months. Strangely enough, flies which feed on nothing but sugar never lay eggs. Some form of meat or animal food is necessary for them.

HER SKIN IS A SIGHT! TELL HER OF POSLAM

Bess: "You KNOW I can't go to the dance tomorrow. Just look at these pimples. I'm a sight!"

Maud: "Nonsense, dear! All you have to do is to put a dab of Poslam on each pimple tonight and again tomorrow morning. They will be gone before Bob calls for you."

Bess: "Where can I get Poslam?"

Maud: "Why, every drug store has it! But I always keep a box in my toilet case. You can use that this time. I use Poslam Soap, too. That has the Poslam medication and really keeps my complexion splendidly healthy."

Poslam stops itching and heals eczema, too. For trial sample, send 10c to POSLAM, 243 W. 47th St., New York.—[Advertisement.

Question: How many persons afflicted with tuberculosis attained success in given lines?

J. T. F.

Answer: According to Jacobson, the following notables are among those who have suffered from the disease: Cicero, Milton, Samuel Butler, Pope, Shelley, Hood, Keats, Elizabeth B. Browning, Francis Thompson, Goethe, Schiller, Moliere, Richelieu, Merimee, Thoreau, Calvin, Descartes, Locke, Kant, Spinoza, Mozart, Chopin, Paganini, Beaumont, Samuel Johnson, Sterne, De Quincy, Scott, Jane Austen, Charlotte and Emily Bronte, Stevenson, Balzac, Voltaire, Rousseau, Washington Irving, Hawthorne, Gibbon, Kingsley, Ruskin, Emerson, Cardinal Manning, Raphael, Watteau, Bastien LaPage, Marie Bashkirtseff, Cecil Rhodes and Laennec, and also a large number of present-day physicians who, after developing the disease, became tuberculosis experts, like Edward L. Trudeau, Lawrence F. Flick, H. R. M. Landis, Lawrason Brown, A. M. Forster, Joseph Price, Estes Nichols and E. S. Bullock.

Q.: Can blasted rock be used for masonry work? J. M. L.

A.: It may be used if in large pieces and sound-proof. It would be necessary to tap the rock to discover whether it were cracked or sound.

Q.: Will splitting a crow's tongue make the bird talk?

W. O. M.

A.: The Department of Agriculture says that there is no merit in the practice of splitting a crow's tongue to make the bird talk. The only practical way that a bird may be encouraged to talk is to confine it in a quiet room and upon entering that room say one word. By repeating this practice the bird will learn the word. You can gradually increase its vocabulary.

Q.: What is put between the fenders of an automobile body to keep the fenders from rattling and squeaking? J. M.

A.: Most of the later models have a leather strip four inches wide, which has a large cord or rope running through the center. This cord is oil soaked and the leather is folded over it. When it is placed between the fenders it maintains a lubrication which prevents the fenders from squeaking.

Q.: How should logs be treated that are to be used with the bark on? M. W.

A.: In such cases merely wash the logs with creosote.

For a Common Cause

LOS ANGELES, May 28. — [To the Editor of The Times:] Those who say the Orange and Green cannot be united are mistaken. The recent by-election in West Belfast demonstrates this. The official Craig candidate was the grand master of the Belfast Orangemen who stood on a platform of Sunday closing of saloons and other restrictions—and was looked upon as a sure winner. But the candidate of the liquor interests, posing as an Independent, captured half of the Orange vote and a large part of the Sinn Fein vote, and was elected by a large majority.

Signs and Safety

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why are the red signs, "Keep to the Right," on Sundays always out of sight? Or standing on the sidewalk near until a week day shall appear? And why on holidays no sight of warning words, "Keep to the Right?"

Is it because (a little jest) they think those guardians need a rest, or do mad folks on Sunday need more license for their awful speed?

'Tis often worth your life, I sow, to board a car on Sunday now; 'tis more than worth your life, I claim, upon some streets that I could name, on Sunday when peace fills the air, and you to church would fain repair.

Peace fills the air, but in your heart such thrills of awful terror start, that you declare no more you'll roam on Sunday, but stay safe at home.

Those staunch red signs! When one is nigh, the rushing autos I defy. With mute but patient voice they say, "Keep to the right, I guard the way." To all the speed-mad crowd they speak, "I stand here to protect the weak. If every one will do his part, safety will rule this crowded mart." Then let those watchmen for us speak on Sunday as on all the week, and help to make each holiday more safe and sane for good L. A.

For shattered lives what can atone? Let all days have a "safety zone."

ELIZABETH TULLY.

Deplores Bickering

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Noticing by your issue of the 3rd inst. that science and religion are to join hands tempts a comment. True science is always co-operative. True religion being a legitimate branch of science, must be in harmony therewith. The moral law is just as much a law of cause and effect as any law of nature.

In true science honest doubt is neither a sin nor disgrace. When there is a mistake in the findings of science there is humble and patient effort made to correct it and to discover the truth. But in what is asserted to be religion the reverse is true. The spirit that arbitrarily assorted the ancient writings and decided which should be called sacred, destroying all others; the spirit that conspired to destroy Socrates and Jesus of Nazareth; which, later put to death John Huss, Geordano Bruno, Michael Servetus and persecuted Galileo and others, is still in evidence, and we have grave doubts about this spirit acceding to the scientific spirit of co-operation in searching for the truth and common grounds of agreement.

There is still too much of a tendency to oppose new truth with all available means of persecution. True there is not imprisonment nor burning men alive because of their beliefs, and that in itself is a great advance. But there is insiduous, perricious persecution in various forms, dippant ridicule being among the most popular and plausible.

Some philosopher has said that those who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones, yet the offensive missiles generally issue from the most untenable positions, if the truth were known. This fact is certainly manifest in the attitude of some of the people calling themselves Fundamentalists, and, judging by a few of the intemperate and uncalled-for attacks we have heard from them we may expect quite a time to elapse before they are ready to present an open mind for the reception of truths "not dreamed of in their philosophy."

JOHN R. YOUNG.

Just Thoughtlessness

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:) It isn't that people are bad at heart Mr. Welsh; it is because they don't think. If an appeal for consideration could have reached them right there in that car, I am sure everyone, men and women alike, would have risen and offered the maimed soldier their seat.

If only humanity could be made to reflect seriously on life, on themselves, on their fellow-men, much, much misery could be averted.

Preachers talked in the past and now talk themselves hoarse about the "ethics of life" but what apparent good does it do? The people sit and listen and, forget, seemingly. There is so much talk about the subconscious mind; let us hope that it will, as they say it does, store up all those higher teachings and that later in a grander and fuller day, the fruit will come forth in a greater and nobler humanity.

S. WATERMAN.

Shy on Culture

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read D. E. Walsh's letter in Monday's issue and can quite understand how he felt at such a slight being shown to a disabled soldier. When I first came to this country the thing that struck me most was the boorishness and lack of courtesy in the men. I was told I expected too much, it would take generations before the average citizen would acquire even the veneer of a gentleman. D. E. Walsh alludes to the attitude of the women of France toward the fallen soldiers. These women are human and made of flesh and blood and, thank God! have not yet become so absorbed in dollar worship that nothing else counts. There are plenty of men and women in Los Angeles who can listen to or see the greatest suffering and take no further interest beyond saying: "That is too bad" (their stock phrase.)

H. LORAIN.

Like Their New Home

WHITTIER, June 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In the article by the Rt. Hon. Sir Gilbert Parker, Bart., in your paper of today's edition, discussing the British control of Palestine, among other matters he puts the question: "Is there a Jew making a living in London, or New York, or Paris, or any other city, going to Palestine to be a farmer?" Yes, Hon. Sir Gilbert Parker, there was and there is.

While in Naples, Italy, in the fall of 1920 at the Parker Hotel, I came in contact with a group of several Jews waiting for transportation to Palestine. One of them, Mr. S. Samelson, who had been a clothing dealer in New York City, earning a very good living there, a younge married man, and his wife were bound for the Colony Hedera (Chedero) Jaffa, Palestine, to settle on a farm there. The young people have corresponded with me subsequently. They have described the fierce pogrom of the following summer; how they defended themselves against the attack of thousands of Arabs, being finally rescued by the English airplanes. Mr. Samelson likes his present occupation and means to stay at it. And he is not the only one of the party.

It is evident that Mr. Parker did not have the right information.

Hoping that you will find this worth publication, I am,

P. W. RUDICH.

Wonderful Imagination

CHINO, June 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I think that A. C. Doyle uses a wonderful imagination. He refers to talking in horns, table tipping, slate writing, etc., as proof of spirit life after death. Those tricks have been exposed over and over. He refers to the ectoplasm. A medium a few years ago called the "soul stuff" "soother." He also seems to build great faith on the camera. Is there anything on earth more tricky than the camera? We all know those things are not reliable; then why do so many take those common tricks so seriously? Is it because Mr. Doyle is helping advertise them with his wonderful imagination? They always assume that a person who disagrees with their ideas is ignorant or dishonest. Why do they always claim that things they can't understand are preferred by spirits of dead ones? I have seen things performed by men on Main street, Los Angeles, that, in my mind, far surpass the so-called spirit manifestation.

Mr. Doyle claims that dogs, horses, etc., exist in the spirit world. Then I suppose we will also have fleas, bedbugs, chiggers, snakes, etc., or will Mr. Doyle choose not to have them? Do we remember the picture of a woman lying dead (or sleeping) in a picture of a forest near Los Angeles? Only a short time ago I had my picture taken; when developed there was a fairly plain body and face of another person across my breast, yet my picture could be plainly seen right through the picture across my breast. Could Mr. Doyle imagine anything but spirit manifestation in such a picture? Some mediums run their fakes for years and then are exposed, although their tricks were silly; they fooled thousands.

TO RESIGN AS HEAD OF CONTROL BOARD

CHAIRMAN DANIELS DECLARES INTENTION TO QUIT JULY 1

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, June 6. — Gilbert B. Daniels, chairman of the State Board of Control, formerly announced today that he would forward to Gov. Richardson his resignation from the board, to become effective July 1. Mr. Daniels some time ago stated his intention of touring Europe with Mrs. Daniels.

Gossip at the capitol was lively today in connection with the naming of a successor to Chairman Daniels. At the time Gov. Richardson appointed George Radcliff of Sacramento to the Board of Control, it was understood that Radcliff would succeed to the chairmanship upon the resignation of Daniels, who had agreed to remain on the board until after the session of the Legislature.

W. F. Mixon of Woodland, secretary of the State Highway Commission; H. Stanley Benedict of Los Angeles, former member of the board, and later appointed by former Gov. Stephens to the State Railroad Commission, and Harry S. Maddox of Sacramento, former State Market Director, were mentioned as being in the race for the vacancy.

MILLION RETAILERS MERELY STRUGGLING

ROGER BABSON SAYS MASS OF MERCHANTS MAKE SMALL PROFIT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, June 6.—Several hundred thousand retail merchants in this country would be better off as bricklayers and plasterers than to continue their present business, Roger W. Babson told the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World today.

"There are 1,540,000 retailers in the United States today," he said, "and 100,000 of them are doing a profitable business and 400,000 more are doing a fair business; but 1,000,000 of these retailers are barely struggling along. A large portion operate at a loss. Those who are not operating at a loss are merely getting day wages and small day wages at best."

A closer and saner co-operation of the churches with the newspapers and the use of members who are publishers, editors and advertising experts in church publicity, was urged by the Rev. J. T. Brabner Smith, Chicago, in an address.

ADVENTISTS GATHER FOR COLORADO MEET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) June 6.—With delegates present from all parts of the United States and Canada and a number of foreign countries, the World's Educational and Missionary convention of the Seventh-Day Adventists opened here last night and today began all-day sessions. Chairman W. E. Howell of Washington, D. C., states the convention is by far the largest ever conducted by the denomination. Greetings were read at today's meetings from the Far East, Europe, Australia and Africa. The program calls for five separate sessions a day.

ESPEE BOOSTS WAGES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) June 6.—A general wage increase of 2 to 5 cents an hour for skilled mechanics and reclassification of mechanics' work is announced by the Southern Pacific lines. The graduated rates of pay apply to the Southern Pacific in Texas and Louisiana and are effective as of the 1st inst.

The ABYSMAL BRUTE

by JACK LONDON

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS: In answer to a letter from Pat Glendon, a retired fighter, Sam Stubener, promoter of fistic carnivals, journeys into the Northwest disheartened to pass judgment on what Pat tells him is a future heavyweight champion. The "future champion" is Pat's own son, a 220-pound glove artist with a background of 22 years lived in the open. In a four-round try-out young Pat lives up to advance notices and a contract is signed. In the city young Pat has little trouble in disposing of a trio of third-rate mitters and he comes to be known to the followers of the sport as One-Punch Glendon.

Pat smiled politely. He was little interested in what he was called. He had certain work cut out which he must do ere he could win back to his mountains, and he was phlegmatically doing it, that was all.

"It won't do," his manager continued, with an ominous shake of the head. "You can't go on putting your men out so quickly. You must give them more time."

"I'm here to fight, ain't I?" Pat demanded in surprise.

Again Stubener shook his head.

"It's this way, Pat. You've got to be big and generous in the fighting game. Don't get all the other fighters sore. And it's not fair to the audience. They want a run for their money. Besides, no one will fight you. They'll be scared out. And you can't draw crowds with ten-second fights. I leave it to you. Would you pay a dollar, or five, to see a ten-second fight?"

Pat was convinced, and he promised to give future audiences the requisite run for their money, though he stated that, personally, he preferred going fishing to witnessing a hundred rounds of fighting.

And still, Pat had got practically nowhere in the game. The local sports laughed when his name was mentioned. It called to mind funny fights and Rough-Kelly's remark about the roof. Nobody knew how Pat could fight. They had never seen him. Where was his wind, his stamina, his ability to mix it with rough customers through long grueling contests? He had demonstrated nothing but the possession of a lucky punch and a depressing proclivity for flukes.

So it was that his fourth match was arranged with Pete Sosso, a Portuguese fighter from Butchertown, known only for the amazing tricks he played in the ring. Pat did not train for the fight. Instead he made a flying and sorrowful trip to the mountains to bury his father. Old Pat had known well the condition of his heart, and it had stopped suddenly on him.

Young Pat arrived back in San Francisco with so close a margin of time that he changed into his fighting togs directly from his traveling suit, and even then the audience was kept waiting ten minutes.

"Remember, give him a chance," Stubener cautioned him as he climbed through the ropes. "Play with him, but do it seriously. Let him go ten or twelve rounds, then get him."

Pat obeyed instructions, and, though it would have been easy enough to put Sosso out, so tricky was he that to stand up to him and not put him out kept his hands full. It was a pretty exhibition, and the audience was delighted. Sosso's whirlwind attacks, wild feints, retreats and rushes, required all Pat's science to protect himself, and even then he did not escape unscathed.

Stubener praised him in the minute rests, and all would have gone well, had not Sosso, in the fourth round, played one of his most spectacular tricks. Pat, in a mix-up, had landed a hook to Sosso's jaw, when to his amazement the latter dropped his hands and reeled backward, eyes rolling, legs bending and giving, in a high state of grogginess. Pat could not understand. It had not been a knockout blow and yet there was his man, all ready to fall to the mat. Pat dropped his own hands and wonderingly watched his reeling opponent. Sosso staggered away, almost fell, recovered, and staggered obliquely and blindly forward again.

For the first and last time in his fighting career, Pat was caught off his guard. He actually stepped aside to let the reeling man go by. Still reeling, Sosso suddenly loosed his right. Pat received it full on his jaw with an impact that rattled all his teeth. A great roar of delight went up from the audience. But Pat did not hear. He saw only Sosso before him, grinning and defiant, and not the least bit groggy. Pat was hurt by the blow, but vastly more outraged by the trick. All the wrath that his father ever had surged up in him. He shook his head as if to get rid of the shock of the blow and steadied himself before his man. It all occurred in the next second. With a feint that drew his opponent, Pat fetched his left to the solar plexus, almost at the same instant whipping his right across to the jaw. The latter blow landed on Sosso's mouth ere his falling body struck the floor. The club doctors worked half an hour to bring him to. After that they put eleven stitches in his mouth and packed him off in an ambulance.

"I'm sorry," Pat told his manager, "I'm afraid I lost my temper. I'll never do it again in the ring. Dad always cautioned me about it. He said it had made him lose more than one battle. I didn't know I could lose my temper that way, but now that I know I'll keep it in control."

And Stubener believed him. He was coming to the stage where he could believe anything about his young charge.

"You don't need to get angry," he said, "you're so thoroughly the master of your man at any stage."

"At any inch or second of the fight," Pat affirmed.

"And you can put them out any time you want."

"Sure I can. I don't want to boast. But I just seem to possess the ability. My eyes show me the opening that my skill knows how to make, and time and distance are second nature to me. Dad called it a gift, but I thought he was blarneying me. Now that I've been up against these men, I guess he was right. He said I had the mind and muscle correlation."

"At any inch or second of the fight," Stubener repeated musingly.

Pat nodded, and Stubener, absolutely believed him, caught a vision of a golden future that should have fetched old Pat out of his grave.

"Well, don't forget, we've got to give the crowd a run for its money," he said. "We'll fix it up between us how many rounds a fight should go. Now your next bout will be with the Flying Dutchman. Suppose you let it run the full 15 and put him out in the last round. That will give you a chance to make a showing as well."

"All right, Sam," was the answer.

"It will be a test for you," Stubener warned. "You may fail to put him out in that last round."

"Watch me," Pat paused to put weight to his promise, and picked up a volume of Longfellow. "If I don't I'll never read poetry again, and that's going some."

"You bet it is," his manager proclaimed jubilantly, "though what you see in such stuff is beyond me."

Pat sighed, but did not reply. In all his life he had found but one person who cared for poetry, and that had been the red-haired school teacher who scared him off into the woods.

V.

"Where are you going?" Stubener demanded in surprise, looking at his watch.

Pat, with his hand on the door-knob, paused and turned around.

"To the Academy of Sciences," he said. "There's a professor who's going to give a lecture there on Browning tonight, and Browning is the sort of writer you need assistance with. Sometimes I think I ought to go to night school."

"But Great Scot, man!" exclaimed the horrified manager "You're on with the Flying Dutchman tonight."

"I know it. But I won't enter the ring a moment before half past 9 or quarter to 10. The lecture will be over at 9:15. If you want to make sure, come around and pick me up in your machine."

Stubener shrugged his shoulders helplessly.

"You've got no kick coming," Pat assured him. "Dad used to tell me a man's worst time was in the hours just before a fight, and that many a fight was lost by a man's breaking down right there, with nothing to do but think and be anxious. Well, you'll never need to worry about me that way. You ought to be glad I can go off to a lecture."

And later that night, in the course of watching 15 splendid rounds, Stubener chuckled to himself more than once at the idea of what that audience of sports would think, did it know that his magnificent young prize-fighter had come to the ring directly from a Browning lecture.

The Flying Dutchman was a young Swede who possessed an unwonted willingness to fight and who was blessed with phenomenal endurance. He never rested, was always on the offensive, and rushed and fought from gong to gong. In the outfighting his arms whirled about like flails, in the infighting he was forever shoulder-to-shoulder or half-wrestling and starting blows whenever he could get a hand free. From start to finish he was a whirlwind, hence his name. His failing was lack of judgment in time and distance. Nevertheless, he had won many fights by virtue of landing one in each dozen or so of the unending fusillades of punches he delivered. Pat, with strong upon him the caution that he must not put his opponent out, was kept busy. Nor, though he escaped vital damage, could he avoid entirely those eternal flying gloves. But it was good training and in a mild way he enjoyed the contest.

"Could you get him now?" Stubener whispered in his ear during the minute rest at the end of the fifth round.

"Sure," was Pat's answer.

"You know he's never yet been knocked out by anyone," Stubener warned a couple of rounds later.

"Then I'm afraid I'll have to break my knuckles," Pat smiled. "I know the punch I've got in me, and when I land it something's got to go. If he won't, my knuckles will."

"Do you think you could get him now?" Stubener asked again at the end of the thirteenth round.

"Any time, I tell you."

"Well, then, Pat, let him run to the fifteenth."

In the fourteenth round the Flying Dutchman exceeded himself. At the stroke of the gong he rushed clear across the ring to the opposite corner where Pat was leisurely getting to his feet. The house cheered for it knew the Flying Dutchman had cut loose. Pat, catching the fun of it, whimsically decided to meet the terrific onslaught with a wholly passive defense and not to strike a blow. Nor did he strike a blow, nor feint a blow, during the three minutes of whirlwind that followed. He gave a rare exhibition of stalling, sometimes hugging his bowed face with his left arm, his abdomen with his right; at other times changing as the point of attack changed, so that both gloves were held on either side of his face, or both elbows and forearms guarded his mid-section; and all the time moving about, clumsily shouldering or half falling forward against his opponent and clogging his efforts; himself never striking or threatening to strike, the while rocking with impacts of the storming blows that beat upon his various guards the devil's own tattoo.

Those close at the ringside saw and appreciated, but the rest of the audience, fooled, rose to its feet and roared its applause in the mistaken notion that Pat, helpless, was receiving a terrible beating. With the end of the round the audience, dumbfounded, sank back into its seats as Pat walked steadily to his corner. It was not understandable. He should have been beaten to a pulp, and yet nothing had happened to him.

"Now are you going to get him?" Stubener queried anxiously.

"Inside ten seconds," was Pat's confident assertion. "Watch me."

There was no trick about it. When the gong struck and Pat bounded to his feet, he advertised it unmistakably that for the first time in the fight he was starting after his man. Not one onlooker misunderstood. The Flying Dutchman read the situation at once and for the first time in the fight, as they met in the center of the ring, visibly hesitated for a fraction of a second, measuring each other in position for the coming struggle. The Flying Dutchman swung first upon his man, and the latter timed right-across counter cold as he leaped.

PESSIMISTS OUT OF LUCK HERE

Commercial Board Reminded of Harriman's Prediction

Los Angeles Destined to Be World's Greatest City

Testimonial to De Brabant for Bond-Limit Boost

E. H. Harriman, master railroad builder, prophesied that "Los Angeles would become, industrially and numerically, the largest city in the world," Willis Owen, industrial specialist, told the Commercial Board of Los Angeles yesterday at a luncheon meeting held in the Alexandria at which he attacked the pessimists on the future of this city, and enumerated the diversified resources that are influencing the maintenance of the prosperity wave

With fifteen States from which to draw, Los Angeles has much greater possibilities than Chicago, which has a territory smaller in comparison but which has been more thoroughly developed, according to Mr. Owen. Chicago has received uncounted benefits from the live-stock industry, and from the development of the central manufacturing district, but the same possibilities exist here, and are being exploited much faster than those of pessimistic leanings believe, he maintained. In addition, the potential population looking to the Pacific is larger than that on the Atlantic Seaboard, and in his belief, much of the resultant business will be done through this city.

After Mr. Owen's address Marius de Brabant, assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific Railroad, related the success of his mission to New York where he secured the approval of the Banking Department of the State of New York to double the bonding capacity of the city of Los Angeles, and to accept the bonds as legal investment for savings and trust funds in that State. As Mr. de Brabant's trip was taken partly at the instance of the Commercial Board, the members expressed their appreciation of his work in the following resolution:

Whereas, Commercial Board, comprised of the business and industrial interests of the city of Los Angeles, is ever watchful of the prosperity of the city, and

Whereas, its honored director, Mr. Marius De Brabant, undertook in the name of Commercial Board, and as the accredited representative of the city of Los Angeles, and its civic bodies, to legalize the bonds of our municipality for savings banks and trust funds in the State of New York, and

Whereas, through tactful and persevering negotiations in New York with the banking department and the Attorney-General of the State of New York, Mr. Marius De Brabant has, with the assistance of the executive offices of the Union Pacific system, succeeded in doubling the bonding capacity of the city of Los Angeles under the statutes of the State of New York, and

Whereas, these negotiations have greatly enhanced the credit of our city, and saved our taxpayers many millions of dollars, therefore be it

Resolved, that Commercial Board, in the name of the business interests of this city, join the city government of Los Angeles in presenting to Mr. Marius De Brabant a permanent token of our commending gratitude for this splendid service, and an expression of our appreciation of his ever zealous public service, which has meant so much to the development of our harbor, and the prosperity of our city, and be it further

Resolved, that an illuminated copy of these resolutions be presented to Mr. Marius De Brabant as a mark of the esteem and affection of his associates in Commercial Board, and his fellow citizens in Los Angeles.

COMMERCIAL BOARD OF LOS ANGELES,
By JOHN REID, president.

Other speakers on the program were John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play "In Old California," and Dan Bruce, of the Pacific Desk Company.

BUSINESS NEWS

Oversubscription of the recent offering of 30,000 shares of the capital stock of Bancitaly Corporation and additional requests originating since the books were closed, has resulted in the decision to offer a further issue of 10,000 shares, to be paid in on or before July 3.

A. P. Giannini, president of the corporation, as well as head of the Bank of Italy and California Joint Stock Land Bank, announced today that formal authorization had been granted to receive subscriptions immediately.

The stock will be sold at $125 per share, stockholders of Bancitaly Corporation having prior rights until June 25. If at that time subscription privilege has not been exercised, it will be assumed that present stockholders have waived their rights.

When this new issue is paid in on July 3, the corporation will have $14,000,000 of its authorized $20,000,000 capital. Plans for the future look to an ultimate capitalization of $50,000,000.

REDUCES DIVIDEND

Directors of the Tom Reed Gold Mining Company are reported to have reduced the regular dividend from 2 cents to 1 cent because of declining earnings, and will pay the latter amount on June 20 to stockholders of record June 10. The company is milling 100 tons of ore daily. It is said that Tom Reed is considering the purchase of the properties of the Katherine Gold Mining Company, located in the Oatman district, Arizona. The Katherine claims are reported to have more than $2,000,000 of ore blocked out, averaging $14.45 a ton. The property is developed with 400 feet of shaft with four levels, at intervals of 100 feet. The ore shoot is opened 287 feet to 523 feet in length, and total workings amount to 7800 feet. Katherine is said to be controlled by the Charles Sutro interests.

NORTHERN CLEARINGS

San Francisco bank clearings for the first five months of 1923 show a gain of $461,561,000 over the corresponding period of 1922, according to statistics announced yesterday by the information bureau of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The bank clearings for May, as reported by the San Francisco Clearinghouse Association, totaled $678,000,000, an increase of $21,200,000 over the month of April, which registered $656,800,000.

INDUSTRIAL BONDS

George H. Burr, Conrad & Broom, Inc., is offering $1,250,000 Darling & Company first closed mortgage 6½ per cent sinking fund bonds due January 1, 1943, at 97 and accrued interest to yield more than 6 3-4 per cent. The company manufactures the principal ingredients for the soap-making industry and other by-products, and among its largest customers are the Proctor & Gamble Co., The Palmolive Company, Colgate & Co., Kirkman & Co., and The N. K. Fairbanks Co. The bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage upon the plants, real estate and other fixed assets having a book value of $2,726,943 and an appraised value as of May 12, 1923 in excess of this amount.

POWER BONDS

An issue of $2,000,000 Western States Gas and Electric Company first and unified mortgage gold bonds, 6 per cent, series "A," was offered yesterday by a syndicate composed of Blyth, Witter & Co., Cyrus Pierce & Co., and H. M. Byllesby Company. The bonds are dated March 1, 1922, and are due March 1, 1947. They are offered at 96 and accrued interest, to yield over 6.30 per cent.

The Western States Gas and Electric Company, or its predecessors, have been engaged successfully in business in California for thirty-five years. It owns and operates hydro-electric, steam and gas properties in Central and Northern California, supplying thirty-four communities, including the cities of Stockton, Richmond and Eureka, having a present population estimated in excess of 111,000.

Construction of a hydro-electric plant is now well under way, with an initial capacity of 20,000 KW on the south fork of the American River. This additional capacity will enable the company to provide for immediate and future power demands and to replace the power purchased from other companies. This issue of bonds will provide funds to be used in the completion of this plant, which should be in operation in January, 1924, and which, through substitution of generated power for power now purchased, and making no allowance for natural growth, should effect an annual increase in net earnings of over $260,000.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Interesting Travelogue of Economic Observer Who Journeys From Guadaloupe and Chula Vista

BY CHAPIN HALL

From Guadalupe, in Lower California, to the waving fields and bending boughs of the San Joaquin; from the sleepy Mexican town which once stirred into new life under the magic touch of those soil masters from Russia to the busy cities and prosperous ranches of the great central garden spot of the State.

This is a trip being taken, not to establish new mileage or gasoline records, nor yet as a vacation jaunt, but in order that the exact conditinos mya be noted and graphed and a true economic composite picture composed.

It's an interesting experience to beat through the hinterland, taking time tnough t ostudy conditions, to talk with the farmers, and to deduce conclusions, and it includes the mapping of an empire, the products from which grease the wheels of industry and bring wealth and contentment to a great population.

In the interests of the National City Bank of Los Angeles, soon to be established in this city, L. M. Maynard, research economist for the new institution is now en tour, and he writes from a vantage point to Trade Talk of some of the things he has observed which are of interest to those who would keep in first touch.

OVER THE BORDER

"Beginning at the Mexican border," writes Mr. Maynard, "I was tempted to visit Guadalupe in Lower California. I wanted to see what had become of the ambition that possessed those Russians who went into that part of the country several years ago. The Russian farmer is a worker. He was brought up on that privilege. He has to contest with climate in his land, and when this sturdy aggregation landed in that fertile territory they had visions of early wealth. They were grain farmers and this Lower California soil can grow grain as well as several other commodities.

"After these chaps had harvested a good crop of wheat and started hauling it over the line to market, paying the required tax and export duty, they found they had made money in a volume larger than they ever had in Russia, and they went into the business on a wholesale scale. Their operations, however, invited the attention of their newly adopted government, and those taxes and fees which had been willingly paid during their first operating year were boosted to such proportions that their next succeeding year netted nothing to speak of, and the project was abandoned.

"As a result of this condition these formerly active, hustling farmers are now drones of a highly developed type. The soil is very productive and they can raise almost anything, but their efforts are only for self. The specialization of the individual is brought out only as that individual finds it more convenient to barter something he likes to produce for something in the food line which he does not know how to produce. The once relatively thrifty and picturesque village of Guadalupe is now a center of shiftlessness. Geese stalk the streets and grimy half-clad children gaze in wonderment at the casual visitor who wears so many clothes.

IN CHULA VISTA

"When my 'foreign tour' of inspection had been completed I found much of interest in Chula Vista where the lemons come from. Advertising has taken the seasonal variation in trade almost entirely out of that town and it is one busy place. There was a time when the lemon was only a summer luxury and Chula Vista, like other exclusive crop centers had long, dull periods, but now that the American public has been educated to the knowledge that the lemon is an all-year 'round necessity, instead of a seasonal delicacy, things are very different.

"Chula Vista lemons get a beauty treatment which produces wonderful results. It's a hot-water bath, the fruit being kept about four minutes in water heated to 115 degs. Farenheit, and every second of the time each lemon is thoroughly and methodically massaged by a series of brushes. One can almost hear them purr. The lemons, I mean.

"Cula Vista lemon land is priced lower than I think it should be, considering the center's advantages. They have lots of water and while that is a more or less abstract statement you will see what I mean when I say that the land under water now can be amply irrigated for four years even if there were not a drop of rain during the period. There is another point about the Chula Vista water situation that is interesting. By building their dam twenty feet higher than it now is, they will bring almost double the land into certain productivity.

NO FROST HERE

"I asked one of the largest lemon growers why he had made way with his smudge pots so soon and he nearly took my head off. They have no use for orchard heating and what is more, I was definitely so informed. Some of the growers with groves in the low valleys of the mountain district of the section smudge some, but their operations are minor. Another point of advantage the lemon man of Chula Vista has is that of labor. There is a constant supply of contented workers available at a price that permits of the employment of enough hands to do the many new things that improve the quantity of first-grade fruit.

The general situation of this district is in such good shape that the bank of the center has not found it necessary to rediscount for the last three years, yet to my personal knowledge it is taking excellent care of its customers and helping to develop the district. I predict a very substantial growth for this part of Southern California in the next few years. Land values are where one can realize a profit on their investment. As one Iowa corn farmer that I met down there put it, "I can make a profit here and not have to throw my own labor in for nothing, as I used to do back home."

CROPS LOOK GOOD

"Crops generally in the southern part of the State look good. The hay man is anxious, but his anxiety is not one of production, but as to whether he should sell now or hold on. This is a seasonal problem, but conditions are different. Last year the hay acreage was the largest this country ever had, and the yield per acre was the third largest of record, which really made the 1922 production over 2,000,000 tons above 1916, the former record year, while the March 1, 1923 price return to the farmer was the highest on record except in the war years and in 1912, the high price in that year being caused by a crop failure in 1911 with the resulting shortage in the carry over. If I was a hay farmer I would sell on this harvest price rather than pay interest on the money it will require to bet that the price will go higher. Records show that the farmer who sells on the harvest makes more money on the average than the farmer who speculates.

"I am going to swing up through

Oregon Irrigation Laws Are Good Laws--

SO GOOD, in fact, that other states have used them as a pattern.

Based originally on the California law they have incorporated a number of distinctive features that make them generally accepted as the best from the investor's point of view.

Bonds are a direct obligation of the community which issues them. They are supported by full taxing power of the municipality. The laws empower the state to pay interest for five years.

We will be glad to go over with you the comparative points of superiority in the Oregon law.

You may obtain well illustrated, descriptive folders on several Oregon Irrigation Bond Issues that we offer, by filling out the enclosed coupon.

Fundamental Security —Increased Earnings

BLYTH, WITTER & CO. recommended Security

A fundamental factor of a public utility is the service it renders which is essential to the continuance of the industrial and social growth of a community—the supplying of gas and electricity.

A sound public utility backed by good management and showing increased earnings year after year offers the investor good opportunity for the placing of his surplus funds.

The growth of the Western States Gas & Electric Company has been such that in order to supply the increasing demand for its service last year it was compelled to purchase 60% of its total output from other companies.

The issuance of its $12,000,000 First and Unified Mortgage Gold Bonds, 6% Series "A" will enable the company to complete its 20,000 KW hydro-electric plant which should increase the company's net earnings about $360,000 annually.

These bonds are priced at 96 and accrued interest yielding over 6.30%. Ask for circular giving details.

Western States Gas & Electric Company

First & Unified Mortgage Gold Bonds, 6% Series A

The Western States Gas & Electric Company, or its predecessors, has been successfully engaged in business in California for 35 years. It owns and operates hydroelectric, steam and gas properties in central and northern California, supplying thirty communities, including the cities of Stockton, Richmond and Eureka. The present issue of bonds will be used to complete the construction of additional equipment and for betterments to the existing property of the Company. The Company's total mortgage debt including this issue amounts to $11,308,000 followed by $5,000,000 gold notes and approximately $6,500,000 par value stock. For the 10 years ended December 31, 1922, the average annual net earnings have been approximately two times the average annual interest charges on the total interest-bearing debt of the Company. We are pleased to recommend these bonds for your investment.

YOU know of course that a 5.62% bond which is not tax-free does not produce a net income of 5.62%.

If you invested a yearly income of $30,000 in taxable bonds on a 5.62% basis, your net income would be exactly 4½%.

Yet there are several tax-free bonds offered by us on a 4½% basis which possess certain definite assurances as to security, very easy marketability and non-callable features; which really net you 4½%.

So much for income.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Firm Tone

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Except for a few outstanding weak spots in the industrial list, bond prices generally displayed a firm tone in today's more active dealings.

Foreign bonds continued to point upward with Serbian 8's up 1 3-8, a gain of the most noteworthy feature. French municipals recovered yesterday's losses, closing fractionally higher. United States government issues also made progress, the net gains ranging from 1-32 to 7-32 of 1 point.

The principal activity in the railroad list centered in the so-called speculative mortgages which were favorably influenced by another report of record car loadings for this season of the year, placing of Pere Marquette common on a $4 annual basis and another series of favorable April earning statements.

Copper bonds improved in response to reports of heavy European buying of the red metal. American Telephone 6s climbed 1½; Merland Oil 8's with warrants broke 9 1-4 points to 120 3-4, and Virginia Car. Chemical 7's with warrants and the 7's dropped 2 1-4 and 3 1-4 points respectively.

Marine 6's and Detroit Edison 6's also were heavy.

Total sales par value $18,513,000.

New offerings were confined largely to small municipal issues.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Following are the closing quotations on the New York Stock Exchange. Furnished by Logan & Bryan.

NEW YORK CURB

Reduced Activity

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Prices in today's curb market continued their course to higher ground, but business was on a considerably reduced scale.

Activity and strength of Standard Oil of Indiana, which staged 1 point higher at 60, was associated with reports that an application would soon be made to list it on the "big board." Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania gained 7-8 on the day. Prairie Oil and Gas climbed 1½ on a small turnover, other Standard Oil shares showing fractional improvement.

American Locomotive new stock established a new high at 72, up 1¾, in sympathy with the upward movement of the old stock on the "big board." One million shares of no par common of the Cuba Company were admitted to trading, the stock opening at 27 and then easing off to 26.

Narrow and irregular fluctuations characterized the trading in mining shares.

Growing up with Los Angeles

XXXV.

Yang-na

THE first inhabitants of Los Angeles of which we have any record were Indians. They were inferior, both mentally and physically, to the Indians native to the regions east of the Rocky Mountains. They resembled the natives of Alaska, and probably originated from Asiatic stock.

The Indian village of Yang-na had its center at about the present intersection of Commercial and Alameda streets, and extended approximately from Aliso street to First street. Yang-na had about three hundred inhabitants.

There was no picture-writing, and the language was very meager. The people depended entirely upon wild food and lived in flimsy huts, which they burned down and rebuilt whenever the parasites became too obnoxious.

Yang-na made no advance in civilization from one generation to another. That is the essential difference between Yang-na and Los Angeles—the difference in character.

Have you ever considered how much of a community's progress and development is due to its public utility facilities, such as gas and electricity?

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

With trading in a state of dullness, the recoveries made by Tom Reed and Holly Development yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange stood out as the bright spots of the day. Holly opened at 1.25 and at the close was selling 5½ cents higher at 1.32, while Tom Reed advanced 3 cents to 70, after touching 72.

General Petroleum was moved up 3-4 of a point to a final price of 34 5-8, and Union Oil Associates acquired 1-8 of a point at 46 1-8. United Oil was quoted unchanged at 1.85.

Interest was shown in Gold Dust at 16 and United Eastern at 1.90. North Star managed to gain ½ cent at 4 and Oatman United sold at 8 cents. In the public utility list, San Joaquin Light and Power prior preferred lost 1-4 of a point at 98 1-4, while the closing price of Southern California Edison common was advanced 1-8 to 102 1-8.

Bond trading revolved largely around Union Oil 6s of 1942 at 100½, Great Western Power 7s of 1950 at 104 3-4, Los Angeles Gas and Electric 7s of 1926 at 102½, and Southern California Gas 7s of 1951 at 104 1-4.

Daily Review

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CLEVELAND, June 6.—"Another phenomenal record in pig iron production in May furnished an additional measure of the tremendous consumptive demand for iron and steel now prevailing," says Iron Trade. "Figures for production registered a new high mark for the country, totaling 3,560,386 gross tons. The daily average was 124,722 tons, or at an annual rate of 45,500,000 tons. This exceeds the previous high record established in April, when the total production was 3,340,806 tons, and the daily average was 116,210 tons. During May the active furnace list was increased by a net gain of 10 and on the final day stood at 321 active stacks.

"This high speed production rate, in all indications, has reached its peak, at least for several months, as hot weather conditions this week begin to cut down sheet and tin plate mill operations. A loss of approximately 10 per cent is reported from the Mahoning Valley for this cause.

"Following the better sentiment of the last week or two, buyers exhibit more confidence in conditions and new business in steel has shown some increase despite the absence of definite placing of large requirements. Heavy tonnages are represented by undertakings actually under negotiation or in sight. New school work planned in New York totals 80,000 tons. Cleveland is going ahead to award 20,000 tons of pipe for an oil and gas line. Inquiries tentatively before mills include one for 225 to 400 miles of 16-inch and another for 50 to 100 miles of 10-inch. An inquiry in current for three freight vessels requiring 10,000 tons upward from lake shipyards.

"Pig iron shows some signs of renewed life, but buyers are still cautious. One eastern user has closed for 20,000 tons of basic at something more than $1 below the previous quotation. At Cleveland new inquiry totals 15,000 to 20,000 tons. The Chicago market has broadened considerably.

"The iron trade composite of fourteen iron and steel products is $46.73, increased with $47.39 last week, and $47.01 for April."

SOUTHWESTERN UTILITIES CORPORATION

First Lien Collateral Convertible 7% Gold Notes

(CLOSED ISSUE)

Dated June 1, 1923 — Due June 1, 1938.

Interest payable June 1 and December 1. Callable as a whole or in part on 30 days' notice at 105 and accrued interest during the first year, 103 and accrued interest the second year, and 101 and accrued interest thereafter to maturity. Principal and interest payable in gold in New York City and Portland, Oregon. Coupon notes registerable as to principal in denominations of $1,000 and $500. Interest payable without deduction for Federal Normal Income Tax not in excess of 2%. The Corporation agrees to refund the Pennsylvania State Tax of 4 mills, the Massachusetts Income Tax on interest not exceeding 6%, the New York Income Tax on interest not exceeding 3% per annum and any Income Tax on interest that may be imposed by the States of California and Oregon, not exceeding in either case 2% per annum, if requested within 60 days from the date of payment thereof. Empire Trust Company, New York City, Trustee. Lumbermen's Trust Company, Portland, Ore., Paying Agent.

From his letter to the bankers Mr. Paul R. Johnson, Vice-President of the Corporation, summarizes as follows:

The Company: The Southwestern Utilities Corporation produces and distributes natural gas in Kansas, serving directly or indirectly Independence, Cherryvale, Elk City, Sycamore, Fredonia, Yates Center, Burlington, Neodesha, etc. The Company also has oil production of approximately 40,000 barrels per year.

The Company will control gas and oil rights underlying 50,000 acres in the Viking Gas Field of Alberta, Canada.

Operations: KANSAS PROPERTY includes gas rights underlying 52,453 acres estimated to contain reserves of over 55,000,000,000 cubic feet. Distribution is made through a pipe line system of 256 miles connected to 265 gas wells and three compressor stations. Deliveries of gas for 1921 totaled 257,791,000 cubic feet, 1922 were 4,494,463,000 cubic feet, for the first quarter of 1923 were 1,401,854,000 cubic feet, and 6,000,000,000 cubic feet are estimated for the current year.

NORTHWESTERN PROPERTY. The Viking Gas Field, in which this property is located, is one of the largest fields on the American continent. The property comprises gas and oil rights underlying 50,000 acres and covers an area of 77 square miles. Of this area 27 square miles are proven territory with nine producing wells with an open flow capacity of 36,000,000 cubic feet per day and a reserve of 60,000,000,000 cubic feet. Gas will be sold, by exclusive franchise, in Edmonton, the only city of its size in the United States or Canada without gas.

Security: The Notes are a direct obligation of the Corporation, subject to $824,500 First Mortgage Bonds and are a first lien on collateral deposited with the Trustee of these Notes consisting of $2,000,000 First Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Bonds due 1938 of the Northwestern Utilities, Ltd., and a majority of the common stock of the Canadian Utilities, Ltd., which owns all the capital stock of the Northwestern Utilities, Ltd., and the Princeton Petroleum Company, Ltd. These $2,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds of the Northwestern Utilities, Ltd., are part of an authorized issue of $4,000,000, of which $3,250,000 have been sold and will be a first mortgage on property valued at $4,181,406 by the Utilities Commission of Alberta.

Earnings: Marwick, Mitchell & Co. report net earnings of the Southwestern Utilities Corp. available for interest, sinking fund, taxes and reserves for 1921 were $168,738 and for 1922 were $262,734. The Company reports net earnings for the first four months ended April 30, 1923, on the same basis, of $113,568, and estimate net earnings for 1923 on the same basis will be over $350,000, and will be further increased by the income at the annual rate of $146,000 on the $2,000,000 First Mortgage 7% Bonds deposited with the Trustee. Such earnings will be over 2½ times all interest requirements.

Conversion: Notes are convertible prior to maturity, or if called for redemption, up to the redemption date, into the Bonds deposited as collateral security, at the rate of $1000 First Mortgage 7% Bond and 2 shares common stock of Canadian Utilities, Ltd., for each $1,000 Note.

Management: The management of the Southwestern Utilities Corporation remains in the hands of those responsible for its present success and who retain substantial investments in the securities junior to these Notes. Construction and initial operation of the "Northwestern" property will be under the direct supervision of Messrs. Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., of New York City.

Legalities pertaining to the issuance of these Notes are being approved by Messrs. Graham, McMahon, Buell & Kunz, of New York City.

Notes are offered for delivery, when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to approval of counsel

Province of Saskatchewan, Canada

20-year 5% Gold Bonds

(Non-callable)

Dated June 15, 1923 Due June 15, 1943

Principal and Semi-annual Interest, June and December 15th, payable in United States Gold at the Agency, Union Bank of Canada, New York City, or in lawful Canadian money in Canada. Coupon Bonds of $1,000, denominations, registerable as to principal.

These bonds are direct obligations of the Province of Saskatchewan and are payable principal and interest, from its general revenue, which is derived from indirect taxation. The Province has never found it necessary to exercise its power to levy direct taxes. The proceeds of this issue, together with sinking fund moneys, will be applied to refund $4,666,160 outstanding bonds.

The predominating industry of Saskatchewan is agriculture. The total value of field crops in 1921 exceeded that of every other Province in the Dominion, Ontario ranking second and Quebec third. It also has an abundance of natural resources, consisting of lumber, fisheries, coal, furs and water power. Saskatchewan has an area of five times that of New York State, traversed by three transcontinental railways with branches, giving it a railway mileage of 6500 miles.

Legal Opinion of E. C. Long, Esq., K. C.

We offer the above bonds for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us.

MILL CURTAILMENT AFFECTS COTTON MART

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—After a weak opening with prices down 20 to 25 points from yesterday's closing levels, based on growing mill curtailment in the South and continued local and southern liquidation with some professional bear pressure, today's cotton market turned firm in the latter dealings, closing within 3 to 6 points at its highest levels. Early sellers were New Orleans, local traders and the South, while Wall street and spot interests bought. In the early part of the afternoon quotations were easier but about the middle of the afternoon when several large operators tried to cover the market rallied sharply and in the final hour a great demand carried the market up again, to close 30 to 41 points net higher.

Spot cotton was steady, 45 points advance, 28.45 for middling upland.

Southern Spot Markets: Galveston 28.50, 45 points advance; New Orleans 28.25, 27 points advance; Savannah 28.50, 45 points advance; Augusta 28.63, 38 points advance; Memphis 27.75, 25 points advance; Houston 28.25, 50 points advance; Little Rock 27.25, 25 points advance.

Following are the opening, high, low and closing quotations:

DAILY MARKET REVIEW GIVEN

nearly 3 points to 145 5-8, the highest price in its history. Baldwin crossed 133 for a net gain of 1 1-8. Reports that May pig iron production broke all records attracted speculative interest to the steel group, United States Steel common gaining a point and Republic 1½. Coppers improved on reports of heavy buying of the red metal for foreign account. Proposed reduction of the Pure Oil dividend was reflected in a 2-point drop in the stock. California Petroleum closed nearly a point higher. American Can, American Woolen and the merchandising shares also closed strong.

Call money opened at 4 3-4 per cent and then eased off to 4½ per cent. Some time loans at 4 3-4 per cent but most banks are holding out for 5 per cent for all maturities. Prime name commercial paper continues to move at 5 per cent.

Foreign exchange trading was on a smaller scale with narrow and irregular changes in rates. Demand sterling eased slightly to $4.62 3-16 and French francs advanced to 6.48 cents. German marks were quoted around .0013½ cents. Greek drachmas slipped back 26 points or more to 2.72 cents, as compared with 4.20 less than a week ago.

Day's total sales 607,800 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 97.24, net gain .95; high 1923, 105.38; low 92.77.

Twenty railroads averaged 82.71, net gain .30, high 1923, 90.63; low 80.13.

BY HOWARD C. BEGLEY

W. E. Stephens, president of the National Security Oil Company, thinks that his organization is going to open up a new oil field in Southern California before many days. The National Security wildcat well, near Orange County Park, is down 4956 feet, and is in the finest kind of oil sand, he says.

The wildcat had production at 4700 feet, according to Mr. Stephens, but the company decided to take it on down for bigger production. How much farther it is to go has not been determined. It is now sixteen feet in a sand which corresponds to the best production sand at Huntington Beach, company officials assert.

The log of the well shows that drilling for the most part was in sticky brown shale before the sand was struck. There is said to be an abundance of heavy, wet gas at the present depth.

Over at Eagle Rock, where the Beatty Oil Company, of which Mr. Stephens is president, is drilling a wildcat well, the hole is down 4000 feet, and considerable gas has been found.

Biggest in Oklahoma

The largest producing well ever drilled in Oklahoma has just been completed by the Carter Oil and Southwestern Petroleum companies. It made 14,460 barrels in twenty-four hours. The well is an old one drilled deeper.

New Well is King Tut

King Tut No. 1 is the name decided on for an oil well that was spudded in by the United Oil Company yesterday in the Signal Hill field. The significance lies in the fact that the British explorers bored deep to unearth the king and his treasures.

Incidentally King Tut No. 1 marks the armistice in the controversy that arose when it was suggested that an oil well be drilled near Sunnyside Cemetery. The well is on Long Beach city property and is a result of a settlement of the squabble that raged for three weeks.

Christens Oil Well

An innovation in oil well drilling marked the spudding in of well No. 1 of The Fisher-Gregg Oil Syndicate on the Loveall lease at Santa Fe Springs yesterday when Miss Norma Gregg, daughter of one of the organization officials broke a bottle of grape juice across the twenty-two inch bit and pulled the lever which started the tools to rotating.

The lease is situated on Little Lake Road near the corner of Shamrock Road and is only a few hundred feet from the Russell Petroleum Corporation producer and the Boesse-Wardman. Two wells are to be drilled on the property by the Webster Drilling Corporation.

The company is headed by W. T. Fisher, a Los Angeles realtor, Walter T. Gregg, a geologist and engineer, and George O. Thomas, who will act as general manager.

This well is the first to be spudded in near the site of the proposed Russel Petroleum lease No. 2 well.

Drilling at Richfield

The Chapman lease of the Union Oil Company, premier producing area of the Richfield district, is scheduled for another producer within the next couple of weeks according to reports from field officials of the company. The well has been drilled to 4464 feet with eight and one-quarter inch casing and is being cored regularly.

Put Two On Pump

Two new wells were added to the Signal Hill output today when rigging of beams was completed on the Wellington-Hopkins No. 1 and the Huntington and Northern No. 2 wells. Neither of the wells has ever produced any oil and attempts to swab both at a depth of approximately 3700 feet proved futile, although the oil showing was good.

They were put on the pump yesterday and are producing some oil. The wells are located in the territory south of Sunnyside Cemetery and north of Burnett street, between Orange and California avenues. Operators anticipate a fair production from the two wells, they say.

TEXAS RAIL EARNINGS HAVE BEEN LOWERED

OPERATING REVENUE EQUAL BUT INCREASED EXPENSES CUT PROFITS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 6.—It is shown by a statement just issued by the State Railroad Commission that the net earnings from operations of the railroads of Texas for the first three months of the present calendar year decreased about 12½ per cent under the same period last year, but the net revenue at that time exceeded $5,000,000. The operating revenues were almost the same for the two periods, but operating expenses increased this year.

The operating revenue for January, February and March of the year aggregated $44,779,913, an increase over the same period of 1922 of $429,484, or 97 per cent, while the operating expenses aggregated $39,703,328, an increase of $1,151,732 or 2.99 per cent. The net revenue from operation for the three months this year was $5,970,586, a decrease of $722,248 or 12.46 per cent. The ration of operating revenues to operating expenses was 88.66 this year and 86.92 for the three months last year.

Export Demand Grows; Wheat Prices Improve

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 6.—There was a marked change in sentiment in the grain markets today. Many of the local traders deserted the bear side of wheat, due to the prospect of better foreign conditions, while in corn it became somewhat more bearish with heavy profit-taking on all the bulges. Closing trades were ¾@1¼ higher on wheat, unchanged to ⅝ higher on corn, ¼@1⅛ up on oats, and 1¼@1¾ on rye.

During the early trading wheat had numerous sinking spells at the inside, showing ¾@1c under the finish of the previous day, but there was no liquidation and pressure was almost entirely from local traders. Buying was headed by strong local professionals and by commission houses. The trade showed a decided disposition to broaden, with persistent buying in small lots under 100 for July. The latter acted a little tight and went to 4¢ over September.

July wheat at Winnipeg showed comfortable strength, which had considerable influence here, and induced some buying by spreaders, who sold in Canada. Export demand showed improvement and in the last two days around 2,000,000 bushels has been sold abroad, which explained to some extent the strength in Winnipeg. There is some apprehension over continued heavy rains in Kansas.

Some of the leading buyers of corn recently were good sellers on all the bulges. And the local element was more disposed to press the bear side. The late strength in wheat, however, led to short covering and a strong rally, with December showing the most strength. Country offerings were not large and principle markets continue to draw cash grain away from Chicago. Shipping demand was only fair. Forecast for easier and wet weather had some effect on the December. There was considerable selling of corn and buying of wheat by traders who were back spreading. Receipts were 34 cars.

July oats acted a little tight and showed the most strength. Trade was somewhat broader, with less disposition to take the bear side, although crop reports were generally favorable. Available stocks of 27,308,000 bushels are 23,400,000 bushels less than last year. Receipts were 44 cars.

There was moderate buying of July rye for eastern account, but the strength in wheat was the main influence in buying about a cent advance. Norway took a cargo at the seaboard, but the German government is not expected to buy for several weeks.

A Substitute for Tea

To a limited extent people of the Southern States of America have been familiar with cassena as a substitute for tea. The shrub grows wild and abundantly from Virginia to Texas. The Bureau of Chemistry at Washington has discovered a way of curing cassena leaves so that they make a "delightful beverage," and it believes that the laboratory experiments can be repeated on a commercial scale.

ELKS HIGH JINX WILL BE RECORD FUNCTION

PLANS NEARING COMPLETION FOR EVENT NEXT SUNDAY

Featured by an extensive program of entertainment and sports, the high jinx and barbecue of the Los Angeles antlered herd next Sunday at Universal City promises to be an enjoyable affair. It will be the annual stag party of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, B.P.O.E., and it is planned to make it the record function of the year.

Harry Brown, chief electrician of Universal City, is chairman of the general committee in charge and is arranging a number of unique features for the program. J. J. (Jack) Doyle will supervise the athletic events, which are to include several boxing and wrestling bouts. This part of the day's festivities is to be climaxed with a battle royal staged in the boxing ring.

Exalted Ruler Ingall W. Bull will officiate at the flag-raising ceremony which is to open the affair at noon. He will be host of the day.

The barbecue will be served in the huge cathedral erected for the feature picture, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." It is in charge of "Chief Chef" Rodney Webster.

REST HOME RANSACKED BY BURGLAR

Missionary Institution at Pasadena Robbed of Money and Valuables

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 6. — A bold daylight burglar today entered the Helen Peabody Rest Home for Presbyterian Missionaries at 212 Euclid avenue, locked Miss V. H. Howard, a foreign missionary, on a sleeping-porch and ransacked the house. He took $22 in cash from two pocketbooks, and a quantity of other valuables.

Miss Howard was reading in her room when the man entered. She did not hear him and was first aware of his presence when he thrust a pistol in her face and ordered her to move quietly out onto the sleeping porch. She obeyed him and he locked the door.

She called down to two small children playing in the yard that a burglar was in the house, but they laughed, thinking that she was joking with them, and continued their play.

Miss M. Abbey, another missionary, who occupied the room adjoining that of Miss Howard, heard her cries for help and released her by moving a heavy dressing table placed in front of the door which connected Miss Abbey's room with the sleeping-porch.

Officers Betts and O'Rourke are investigating.

UNDESIRABLES TO BE RETURNED TO MEXICO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TUCSON June 6.—Five undesirables are to be escorted to the international line at Nogales and there thrust across into Mexico, whence they came. There is to be deportation to Norway of an individual known as Roy Anderson or John Hubert, understood to be an escape from San Quentin State prison.

Evidence has been obtained that a regular charge of $25 now is being made for assistance across the line from Sonora into Arizona. Few Chinese are making the attempt, most of the secret immigrants being Europeans or persons who might be stopped at the border for investigation of their antecedents in this country.

SPANIARDS PLANNING TO MODERNIZE NAVY

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MADRID, June 6.—It is reported that the Spanish fleet will be reorganized providing more powerful battleships to replace her present antiquated vessels which are in such a bad condition that it is impossible to navigate them. The hope of the Spaniards is again to place the nation in the naval position it occupied in history. The report has caused great jubilation at Ferrol, the navy construction base.

HEAVY PAYMENT IN INTEREST BY STATE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, June 6.—Interest totaling $1,754,857 on outstanding bonds will be paid by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson on July 1. It was announced today. In addition, $795,000 will be paid out to redeem bonds that have matured. The interest payments, which are made semiannually, will be paid on State university bonds, highway bonds, San Francisco seawall bonds, Indian Basin bonds, Sacramento State building bonds and San Francisco State building bonds.

WILDCAT WELLS DRILL IN MEXICO

Permits for 234 Taken Out in Three Months

American Interests Busy at Development

Fields All Over Country Given Attention

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) June 6.—That many oil wells are being drilled in wildcat territory in Mexico at this time is shown by a report just issued by the Petroleum Bureau of the Mexican government. It is stated that during the first three months of the present year 234 drilling permits were issued, and it is estimated that fully that number have been issued or are pending since April 1.

Of the permits actually issued during the first three months forty-two were granted to the Mexican Gulf Oil Company, mainly for wells in the Panuco, Cacalilao and El Barco fields. The Mexican Aguila (Eagle) Oil Company obtained fifteen permits, of which seven were in the District of Minititlan, Isthmus of Tehuantepec, with the rest in the south field for stripping wells in San Geronimo, Tempache, Amatlan and Chinampa.

SALT POOL INVADED

The Texas Company was granted thirteen permits during this period, mostly all for wells in Paciencia y Aguacate, a pool in which salt water has greatly intruded.

The Transcontinental Oil Company (Standard of New Jersey) obtained a similar number, one for a wildcat at Castillo de Teayo, south of the Tuxpam River, and the rest in Cacalilao.

The Royal Dutch-Shell obtained eleven permits, mainly for operations in the latter hacienda, while the Mexican Seaboard Oil Company, with the same number, distributed them between the light and heavy oil districts with a number in Toteco.

The Mexican Petroleum Company obtained permits for three wells at Ebano, and its subsidiary companies for four in Culebra, pure wildcat territory in the State of Tamaulipas, as well as five in Juan Felipe in Vera Cruz.

In Lower California four permits were granted the Compania Petrolera de la Baja California, located in the northern district of the peninsula, Jurisdiction of Colnett.

JAPANESE IS HELD FOLLOWING SHOOTING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, June 6. — H. Omine is in the County Jail here and S. Tanaki is in a hospital as a result of a fight at the former's ranch near Imperial. Both are Japanese. Omine is charged with shooting Tanaki in the head with a shotgun when the latter called at his home after having been warned to remain away.

Omine asserts the other Japanese was annoying his wife. He says that Tanaki carried a hammer when he came to Omine's home this evening after Omine had been told that Tanaki intended to kill him and his wife. Tanaki's wound is considered serious.

POWDER MILL BLOWS UP WHEN HIT BY BOLT

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LOWELLVILLE (O.) June 6.—The press and corning mills of the Grasselli Power Company were destroyed by an explosion when the plant was struck by lightning this afternoon. Windows in nearby houses owned by the power company were shattered and half a dozen persons were hurt by flying glass. The storm was one of the most severe ever witnessed in this section.

Will Gland Discovery Make Us a Race of Wonder Men?

Recent wonders that have been worked by gland "magic" lead Science to believe we shall soon become a race of wonder men. Recent press dispatches tell of one scientist who has observed great benefits in 1500 cases under treatment; of another leading physician who reports success in 9 cases out of ten, with records kept of over 1000 patients taking the glandular treatment. Men from 35 to 73 years of age have regained youthful vigor, strength and "pep" to such an extent that they can perform athletic feats that would put to shame many a young man of twenty.

Through the recent scientific discovery, Glandogen, it is now a simple matter to take glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient, compact tablet form, and combines the important elements of the vital glands of healthy young animals with other efficacious ingredients. It is prepared in two different forms—one for women and one for men. Glandogen is obtainable at all druggists. Mail orders given prompt attention.—[Advertisement.

RHEUMATISM
LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anybody's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. All druggists can supply you.—[Advertisement.

WOOLWINE QUITS OFFICE DUE TO FAILING HEALTH

Asa Keyes Named as Successor; High Record Revealed in Criminal Syndicalism Prosecutions

Thomas Lee Woolwine, stormy petrel of State and county politics yesterday ended his spectacular career as District Attorney of this county by handing his resignation to the Board of Supervisors. The resignation was accepted by the board and Asa Keyes, Chief Deputy District Attorney and for twenty years a deputy in the office, was immediately and unanimously appointed District Attorney.

Thomas Lee Woolwine

Asa Keyes

Mr. Keyes's appointment did not come as a surprise, as he had often been mentioned as the logical successor to Mr. Woolwine. While Mr. Woolwine was clearing up the desk he has used for more than eight years, Mr. Keyes took over the duties of District Attorney.

Mr. Keyes stated stated last night that he would name a Chief Deputy District Attorney today or tomorrow. He gave no intimation as to who probably would fill the position.

HEALTH FAILING

Mr. Woolwine gave as the reason for his resignation the fact that the strain and overwork of the office has so taxed his strength that he felt himself unable to give the duties of the office the vigorous attention that has characterized his term in office. He stated that he intends to take a long rest under the care of his physician, saying that he was told that, if he takes care of himself and follows medical advice, he will be able within a reasonable time to return to the active practice of law, which is his intention. He stated he had not decided whether to associate with another lawyer or to enter practice of law by himself.

"It's been a glorious eight years," said Mr. Woolwine in his characteristic manner, "except for pity I've always had for the poor unfortunate people in trouble. I feel five years younger now. I hope I never have to prosecute another person."

SPECTACULAR CAREER

Mr. Woolwine has had one of the most spectacular careers as District Attorney of any official in that sort of office in this or many other States. His career is said to have attracted more attention than that of ex-District Attorney Jerome of New York. He was first elected District Attorney in 1915 for a two-year term. He was twice re-elected, serving two years and five months of his last term, now for four years and which will be completed by Mr. Keyes. Mr. Woolwine was born at Nashville, Tenn., on October 31, 1874, and was admitted to the practice of law in 1899, the year he started practice in Los Angeles.

He was clerk to ex-United States Attorney George J. Denis and ex-United States Attorney Frank P. Flint. Later he was appointed deputy city attorney in 1907, and in 1908 was appointed city prosecutor. He started an investigation at that time into asserted vice protection, which resulted in the resignation of a Mayor of Los Angeles. He was the first man in the United States to get jail sentences for bucket-shop owners and vigorously enforced the excise laws. In 1918 and again in 1922 Mr. Woolwine was the Democratic candidate for Governor of California. Mr. Woolwine has taken a strong stand against radicalism, graft, secret orders of the nature of the Ku Klux Klan, and against the operations throughout the United States of bunko men. His office has the record for prosecutions and convictions in criminal syndicalism in the United States, it was stated.

CITY WORKER FALLS FROM TREE; MAY DIE

A forty-foot fall from a tree he was pruning in Lincoln Park yesterday resulted in injuries that may prove fatal for Charles George Smith, 52 years of age, city employee. Smith, who resides at 3929 Baldwin street, was sawing off a branch of the tree when his hold was lost. He was taken to Receiving Hospital.

NEW CLEW IN GIRL MURDER

Police Get Additional Evidence and Inquiry Has Been Started Into Wilcox Case

Following the inquest yesterday morning over the body of Mrs. Florence Wilcox, murdered early last Saturday morning at Jefferson and Flower streets while riding in an automobile, police renewed their investigation of the mysterious shooting and it was stated by Capt. Home, chief of the detective bureau, last night that new evidence had been obtained which he believed might lead to a solution of the crime and arrests.

As to the nature of the information Capt. Home refused to make any statement other than that a detailed investigation of the source of the same had been launched.

Following the inquest at the White & Co., undertaking establishment, the jury returned a verdict declaring that Mrs. Wilcox came to her death through gunshot wounds inflicted by a person or persons unknown to members of the jury.

The inquest was marked by several surprises, notably the testimony of Fred and Harry Bartel, brothers, and Assistant Captain of Detectives Chapman.

After hearing the testimony of Harry Bartel, who lives at 3400 South Flower street, also the home of Miss Dorothy Miller who was seriously wounded at the time Mrs. Wilcox met her death, and also that of Fred Bartel, Capt. Chapman stated that he believed the Bartel brothers were the men who attempted to gain information from him while he was driving the "murder car" from University to Central Police Station Saturday morning.

Both men vigorously denied that they had seen Capt. Chapman Saturday morning and challenged him to prove his statement. At the request of coroner Nance the question was dropped until after the inquest.

Immediately following the return of the jury's verdict, the Bartel brothers were taken to University Station and questioned by Capt. Chapman, Detective Lieutenants Trainor, Cato and other members

ANNOUNCE RAY STUDIO PLAN

Mind $3,000,000 Will be Spent in Development of Spot in North Wilshire District

Approximately $3,000,000 it was learned yesterday, is involved in the proposed development of the Cosmocart studio property recently purchased by Charles Ray and Albert A. Kidder, Jr., his legal advisor and financial manager. The development and operation will be handled by a new corporation now being organized by Mr. Ray and his associates to be known as the Charles Ray Enterprises Corporation.

This sum, which is to be underwritten by one of the large bonding houses of the city, will completely transform this twenty-acre property in the heart of the north Wilshire district, skirted by Beverly Boulevard for half a mile and by First street, Virgil avenue and Juanita avenue.

From this area covering a space of more than two city blocks, it is promised, will evolve the most beautiful motion-picture studio property in the country and an exclusive new shopping center. The developments look forward to the institution of a commercial picture plant with a capacity of about a dozen independent producing units, besides affording greatly increased facilities for the two super productions which Ray will make yearly.

The new Charles Ray Enterprises Corporation will concern itself with very extensive real estate development as well as working out the

DANGER IN RAIL MEASURES SEEN

Congressional Action May Depress Business

Representative of Executives Addresses Club

People Oppose Government Ownership, He Says

Concern that the proposed railroad legislation program in the next Congress may have an adverse effect on all American business was expressed yesterday by Charles Dillon, representative of the Western Railway Presidents' Committee on Public Relations, in an address before the Kiwanis Club.

"It is unfortunate," said Mr. Dillon, "that right now, when American business is showing the renewed activity for which we have long hoped, certain forces have decided to attempt a legislative program in the next Congress, which is sure to create precisely the feelings of uncertainty which we have tried so long and earnestly to overcome."

Mr. Dillon was introduced by J. E. Light, district freight agent of the Southern Pacific Company.

"Any legislation affecting adversely the purchasing power or the employing ability of the railroads is communicated immediately to almost every form of business," he said. "In normal times the roads employ about 2,000,000 men and women, but through purchases amounting normally to more than two billion dollars a year they give employment to many other millions of persons.

"History proves that when unfriendly regulation or legislation affects railroad credit, restricting construction, discouraging expenditures not absolutely demanded, the purchasing power of the roads is cut down. This affects railroad employees' purchasing power and inevitably reduces also the ability of other millions to buy the commodities of life.

"Senators Brookhart of Iowa and La Follette of Wisconsin, supported by forces favoring government ownership, propose legislation wiping out about seven billion dollars of the railroads' valuation by basing that valuation upon the price of securities in Wall street. They would then base rates on the valuation thus obtained.

"In this way it might be possible to save the public about 6 per cent in freight and passenger rates, but such legislation would reduce by 37 per cent the net return to which the Interstate Commerce Commission has held the railways are entitled, and which as a whole they have not earned. This would mean bankruptcy for many roads.

"Why is it these so-called Progressives direct their attacks always upon the railways' net return, when it must be plain to every intelligent man that if we are to have any substantial reduction of rates the operating expenses and taxes must be reduced? Logically, there can be only one answer. Brookhart of Iowa has always been avowedly for government ownership, and he knows perfectly well that the successful private management of railways would be rendered absolutely impossible under the legislation he advocates.

"The people favor private ownership and management of the railways, subject to a fair policy of regulation. The executives do not resent fair and sensible regulation. They know it is necessary. But they want the Transportation Act preserved for a test under normal conditions, and they believe that under it they can develop the roads to the point necessary to meet every demand. They are trying to prepare for big crops, heavy traffic. They hope to be ready for the business. I don't believe the people will let these plans be spoiled.

"Within the last two years the railroads have reduced their operating expenses $70,000,000 a month, and in January and February of this year they were $45,000,000 less than in the same months of 1920, under government operation, although the railroads are paying higher average wages, higher prices for fuel, and hauling more business than under government control."

Exclusive Dispatch Tells Us Pelican Mike Has Not Deserted Long Beach for Harbor

Dear City Editor: Pelican Mike has not—most positively has not—deserted Long Beach for San Pedro. As per your instructions, I interviewed the hoary old gray bill this morning, right here in Long Beach. The epidemic which is killing off scores of pelicans in these parts has left the old veteran unscathed. He's as healthy as can be but terribly mad over published reports in a Los Angeles newspaper this morning to the effect that, in fear of the epidemic here, he has abandoned his old haunts on the beach and gone to Los Angeles Harbor to live.

Like the reports that our knee curtain bathing suit ordinance has been repealed. "It ain't true."

It is true, however, that Pelican Mike went to Los Angeles Harbor this afternoon. But not to live. He has gone in search of the imposter who, according to reports from the busy harbor, has set up his domicile near the port pilot's office and is posing as Pelican Mike.

"I'm going to find out who's impersonating me over there if it's the last thing I do," Mike said to me this morning. "I'm sure getting tired of this imitating business and you can believe me or not, young feller, there's going to be a pelican shanty for rent if I find that bird," he threatened.

Please tell your Los Angeles Harbor correspondent to be on the watch for Mike's arrival. I've known Mike for a long time, and what he will do over there if he finds that other bird ought to make a whiz of a story.

THE LONG BEACH CORRESPONDENT.

Spends Night of Horror on Mountain Top

Beaten by Mob for Asserted Attack

Left, Frank Sancori posed as he was left by gang; upper oval, Astrea Jolly, whom he is accused of attacking; lower oval, Sancori.

MAN FLOGGED ACCUSES TWO

Arrest of Pair Expected After Attack on Mountain Top; Victim Named in Girl Assault

Two members of the masked mob who sought to avenge the recent brutal assault of Astrea Jolly by kidnaping Frank Sancori, one of the suspects in the girl's attack, binding him to a whipping post at the ueak of Lookout Mountain, flogging him with strands of cable and leaving him to die, were named by the victim late yesterday afternoon.

Sancori said he knew the two men well, that they have been actively interested in the case and that he can easily identify them. The arrest of these two men was momentarily expected last night.

"This man has paid with his life!"

Thus stated the legend which was pinned to Sancori's body. But, though his assailants abandoned him at the whipping post, believing he was dead, Sancori at dawn brought down from the mountain top one of the strangest tales of horror ever entered in local police history.

HELD ON SUSPICION

Sancori, a husky ironworker, is 21 years of age. A month ago he was arrested on suspicion of being a member of a gang of youths who had kidnaped Astrea Jolly, 14 years of age, held her captive in a shack for several days and mistreated her. The preliminary hearing of Lee Finnell, another suspect, begins in Justice Court today. Sancori has been at liberty on $500 bail. His preliminary hearing will be held next Tuesday. For several hours yesterday he rehearsed for The Times reporter the events of the earlier morning hours, revisiting the scene of the flogging which almost terminated in a crucifixion, and this is his story:

Three men appeared at the door of his little home at 1223 East Fifty-second street, where he lives with his wife, his month-old baby and his brother Jim.

"We're police officers," said a man with a revolver. "We have seventeen suspects at the station and we want you to look them over."

Sancori dressed and accompanied them. Three other men were in the automobile. They jabbed guns into his ribs, told him to keep quiet and farther down the street were met by another automobile with four other armed men in it. The two cars sped along Central to Vernon, west on Vernon to Vermont.

COVERED WITH PISTOLS

"You've passed the police station," Sancori told them.

Then they told him they were taking him to the Hollywood Police Station, where he would see the seventeen suspects.

"All of them had me covered with pistols," said Sancori. "They choked me as we passed other automobiles, to prevent me from yelling. And one of them stuck a knife into my ribs."

The two speeding automobiles raced through Hollywood, keeping Sancori's eyes covered. He felt the car climbing a hill, making many sharp turns. He whiffed the perfume of the mountain brush, but he could not see where he was being taken.

"We're taking you to your deathbed," said one of the men, as Sancori was ordered from the car.

Two guns were jabbed into his back. He was commanded to climb a little rickety stairway up a hillslope. The bandage slipped from his eyes. He knew he was on a mountain top, but he did not know where. Grouped around him were ten masked men, all armed with revolvers and knives. He heard others talking in the brush a few paces away.

In front of him, silhouetted against the dark sky was a tall, square post braced with four guy wires. At its top fluttered a big white flag. He was dragged toward it. An automobile was heard throbbing up the lonely mountain road. Sancori was knocked down, pinioned by the knees of some of his captors, choked by another and told to keep quiet. The masked men flattened themselves on the ground while the automobile passed.

Sancori's blindfold was read...

AGED LADY IS ORDERED DEPORTED

Mother of Angeleno Finds Quota Exhausted When She Visits Son

Because she said she intended to remain in the United States more than six months and because Great Britain's quota of immigrants is exhausted, Mrs. Annie Furlonge, 70 years of age, who arrived in New Orleans several days ago from Ireland to visit her son, James A. S. Furlonge of Los Angeles, president of the Royal Securities Corporation of California, must return to Ireland on the first ship, immigration officials at the Louisiana port ruled yesterday.

When immigration authorities asked Mrs. Furlonge how long she intended to stay in the United States she said she expected to remain a year and if she liked it she would return to Ireland, close up her business affairs and make her home with her son in Los Angeles. This answer classified her as an immigrant and will prevent her from staying because Great Britain's immigration quota is exhausted, it was said.

Mr. Furlonge, who was in New Orleans to meet his mother, from whom he had been separated for fourteen years, yesterday telegraphed Federal Judge Bledsoe and others in Los Angeles for assistance. He announced he will appeal the case to the Secretary of Labor at Washington, D. C.

IMPROVEMENT BODY MEETS

A meeting of the Western and Manchester Improvement Association will be conducted tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at 1529 West Eighty-third street.

FEITSHANS ON SCHOOL BOARD; BAKER ELECTED

Miss York and Councilman Sparks Defeated; Other Results of Tuesday's Election Unchanged

Complete returns received late yesterday from all but three of the city precincts at which votes were cast at Tuesday's election confirmed the results of the incomplete vote of Tuesday night and showed that the complete citizens' schools committee ticket for the Board of Education had been elected, six of the present City Councilmen had been re-elected, the new Councilmen being Miles S. Gregory, Edwin Baker and Boyle Workman, the $35,000,000 power bonds had been defeated while the other five bond issues had carried, and fourteen of the fifteen candidates for the Board of Freeholders put forward by the Chamber of Commerce and allied civic organizations had been elected. The Pershing Square subway proposition and the North End location of the new City Hall also both carried, under the practically complete returns.

The complete victory of the Citizens' School committee ticket for the Board of Education was hailed by everyone as proof that the people of Los Angeles are determined to keep their magnificent school system 100 per cent American and free of all propaganda. The defeat of the ticket headed by G. Bromley Oxnam was emphatic. Mr. Oxnam himself landed at the bottom of the list of thirteen candidates for the school board. The entire list of seven candidates for the Board of Education put forward by the Citizens' School Committee and consisting of John B. Beman, Frank O. Bristol, Robert L. Burns, Elizabeth Louise Clark, Frederick R. Feitshans, Lucia Macbeth and Robert A. Odell (incumbent) was elected, while the so-called "teachers' ticket" composed of M. C. Bettinger (incumbent) John J. Craig, William B. Himrod, Mary C. Millspaugh (incumbent,) G. Bromley Oxnam, and M. Jessie York (incumbent) was defeated. In the early returns Miss York was ahead of Feitshans, but on complete returns Feitshans was elected and Miss York defeated.

Robert L. Burns of the Citizens' School Committee ticket received a remarkably heavy vote as he was fourth at Tuesday's election, having climbed from thirteenth position at the primaries.

POWER BONDS BEATEN

On practically complete semiofficial returns last night, the power bonds had gone down to a defeat that will long be remembered in Los Angeles. All other bond issues carried. The power bureau had spent at least $50,000 of its revenues, which are public funds, for political campaigning, "jazz" bands, posters, letters, post cards and other forms of advertising to bring out a vote for the bonds, and used every one of its several thousand employees to work actively for the bond issue. No other bond issue had behind it one-hundredth part of the money for advertising expended by the power bureau, and yet all other bond issues carried and the pow...

NEW OFFICIALS GO IN JULY 2

City Council and Board of Education Will Assume Duties as Mayor Starts Second Term

The members of the new City Council and Board of Education elected on Tuesday will assume their duties on July 2, next, on the same day Mayor Cryer, City Attorney Stephens and City Auditor Myers, who were elected at the primaries, will begin their new two-year terms of office.

As the result of charter amendments approved at the May 1 primaries, the Mayor will on July 2 begin to draw his new salary of $8000 a year, in place of his present annual salary of $4200, the City Attorney's salary increase from $4000 to $7200 will go into effect, and the City Auditor, whose salary is now $2000 a year, will thereafter receive $5000 annually.

The Board of Freeholders elected on Tuesday will be sworn in as soon as the vote has been canvassed by the City Council and the official result announced. The board is required by law to organize within ten days after the official announcement of the election of its fifteen members. The board will elect a chairman and a secretary and then proceed to get down to the business at once of drafting a new city charter. Under the law a period of four months is allowed for the completion of the work, but extensions of time may be granted. The board should therefore organize about the 15th inst., and if no time extension is asked for and granted should draft the new charter by October 15.

VOTERS MUST APPROVE

The new charter must then be submitted to the voters for approval, and under present plans a special charter election is to be called early next year for this purpose. The time intervening between the completion of the charter and the special election is to be used for acquainting the voters with the provisions of the proposed new basic law of the city.

The Board of Freeholders as the result of Tuesday's election will consist of the following members: Charles A. Baskerville, Ida I. Bellows, Percy H. Booth, E. P. Clark, Robert M. Clarke, John R. Haynes, John S. Horn, Franklin D. Howell, Henry W. Keller, William Mead, Orra E. Monnette, Watt L. Moreland, Nathan Newby, Dora A. Stearns, and Josefa Tolhurst. All but John R. Haynes were on the ticket of fifteen put forward by the Chamber of Commerce and allied civic and business organizations.

William Mead, president of the City Planning Commission, and a member of the board, has been prominently mentioned for election as president of the Board of Freeholders. For their months of hard, detailed work in drafting the new charter, the freeholders receive no compensation.

PRESIDENCY UNCERTAIN

The question of the day yesterday at the City Hall was as to who would be the president of the next City Council. When the new Council meets on July 2, its first work is to elect a president who holds office during the two-year term of the Council. Usually, but not always, the Councilmen give the honor to the one of their number who received the highest vote at the election. There is no law requiring this, nor any charter requirement.

In following this custom, Ralph L. Criswell was elected president of the present City Council and Boyle Workman was president of the City Council of 1919-1921. If the custom is followed this year, Robert M. Allan, who finally nosed out Boyle Workman for top place, may be elected president, but Workman has many friends and there is a strong possibility that Workman may be chosen.

The Board of Education will likewise organize on July 2, and if Robert A. Odell, a member of the present board, desires to be president, it is said he will be elected.

TODAY'S BIBLE TEXT

The Transcendent Love of Christ: — While He was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold His mother and His brethren stood without seeking to speak to Him. And one said unto Him: Behold thy mother and brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee. But He answered and said unto him that told Him: Who is my mother and who are my brethren? And He stretched forth His hand toward His disciples and said, Behold my mother and my brethren! — Matthew xii, 46-50.

picturesque and ornate studio enterprises.

Among the buildings included in the plans are apartment-houses and many business structures. Some of these will relate directly to the film industry as they are expected to house subsidiary lines of trade that have grown up in Southern California in connection with motion pictures.

The line of the new Beverly Boulevard, which is to be a 100-foot driveway to the ocean, bisects a large triangular piece on the corner of the property. On this space is to be erected a tall class A business structure, to be occupied almost entirely by one of the large costume companies and a studio furnishing company that are now negotiating for tenancy.

On other corners of the twenty-acre tract, spacious and ornate exclusive apartment houses will be built. One of these probably will take on the dignity of a first-class tourist hotel.

The First street frontage of the studio grounds, which is now being paved, will be devoted to a building to house a branch of one of the leading Los Angeles banks, and there will be numerous adjacent structures for stores. There is room in the spacious tract for a considerable number of dwellings that are a part of the general plan. These are to be erected by the corporation with a view to variety and beauty that will give practical scenic scope to the studio's facilities for outdoor picture shots.

The development of the studios proper will be on a very extensive scale. The most important of the structures will be a new administration building that is designed to exceed in size and beauty anything of the kind in Southern California.

It is on the landscaping side that the changes will be made of most pleasing appeal to the eye. The conformation of the twenty acres is such as to lend itself to elaborate and great beauty. Some of the property will be made into what may be called a spacious sunken garden, with its natural lake skirted by paved drives and walks, spanned by bridges and dotted by green parkways.

On the bosom of the lake is to rest the Mayflower, most unique of scenic sets yet built, which cost $40,000, and is now at the present Charles Ray studio on Fleming street, where it was used for scenes in the star's forthcoming production, "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

DEAL MADE BY GRANT

The design for the general studio enterprise was prepared by Harold Cross, architect of numerous hotels, apartments and business buildings in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The deal which will bring about this epochal change in the motion-picture field and the realty development of one of the most valuable tracts in the entire city, was brought about by W. H. Grant of the Grant & Campbell Company, after more than a year of labor with the complex factors involved.

J. E. Bowen, president of Cosmoart, and an expert engineer, to whose foresight in 1919 was due the selection of this fine site, with its natural scenic advantages for motion-picture making, probably will be associated with the new Charles Ray Enterprises Corporation.

Charles W. Flack, a prominent eastern attorney and former Mayor of Macomb, Ill., probably will be interested in the new company.

FIND NEW CLEW IN GIRL DEATH

of the police homicide squad. There they again denied that they had seen Capt. Chapman on the morning in question.

They were released and late yesterday afternoon it was found that the man referred to by Capt. Chapman as making inquiries of him regarding the "murder car" had been a newspaper reporter and a taxicab driver. The resemblance between the newspaper man in question and Fred Bartel was pronounced very marked by Capt. Chapman, who stated that he had been mistaken in his identification.

Officers Nash and Roberts, who followed a car bearing the description of the one driven by Ogden, were called to testify at the inquest and declared that they had seen two large cars racing on Jefferson street and attempted to follow but lost the machines after a short pursuit. They stated that they had fired no shots at the racing cars and learned of the shooting at the University Police Station some time later.

It was stated by Capt. Chapman yesterday afternoon that the pistols carried by the officers had been examined at the police station shortly after the shooting and no evidence of recent firing was found.

Miss Dorothy Miller, who suffered a severe wound in the shooting affray which ended the life of Mrs. Wilcox, appeared at the inquest with her head bandaged and apparently very weak from the effects of the wound.

TELLS OF SHOOTING

Her recital of events preceding the shooting was practically the same as given by Clarence Ogden and Courtney Stubbs, the other members of the party. She stated that the party started the motor trip which ended in disaster about 9 o'clock Friday night.

"We were driving along at a very moderate rate and having a good time when we noticed that another car was directly behind us and seemingly trailing our car," she said. "We speeded and the other car followed. On Jefferson street between Grand and Flower I heard shots and felt a stinging pain in my head. I seem to remember that the occupants of the car behind us called out something but can't remember as everything seemed to go black."

CARRIED FROM ROOM

Miss Miller was forced to halt her testimony several times and when leaving the room fainted. She was carried from the room and attended by a physician.

Marshall L. Potter of Long Beach, who witnessed the shooting, said that he was driving east on Jefferson street about 1 a.m. on Saturday, and near the intersection of Flower street saw two automobiles coming from the opposite direction at a great rate of speed. He guided his automobile to the curb and crouched in the seat, fearing that the oncoming machines contained hold-up men. At the intersection of Jefferson and Flower streets, he stated the car ahead made an abrupt turn south and just as the turn was being made, shots were fired by the occupants of the second car.

GETS GLIMPSE OF BADGE

The latter machine he described as a large car and he further stated that he saw in it a man in khaki uniform with a badge resembling a policeman's star on his coat. Shown the type of badge worn by patrolmen, he stated that he did not believe that the man in the car were that type of an emblem.

Harry Bartel, who lives at 3409 South Flower street, also testified that he saw the machine at the intersection but could not identify any of the occupants.

All of the witnesses who saw the car in pursuit of the machine driven by Ogden stated that it was a large machine but none was able to give any information as to the license number or other details which might lead to an identification.

HAD BADGE AND GUN

When questioned by Coroner Nance, Fred Bartel, who lives at 6716 South Vermont avenue, stated that until recently he had been employed by a burglary patrol company and had been assigned to a district in the vicinity of North Broadway. He stated that on the night Mrs. Wilcox was killed he was on his beat and did not leave until Saturday morning. In answer to a question asked by Coroner Nance he stated that he carried a silver badge, somewhat resembling a police badge, and that he also carried a .45 caliber revolver.

He admitted going to the County Hospital Saturday morning to visit Miss Miller.

Clarence Ogden, driver of the machine, who was held by police on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, yesterday appeared before Justice Wood and pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was represented by Attorney S. S. Hahn and released on bail to appear the 15th inst. Mrs. Selina Marvin, a sister of Ogden's, put up $250 for his appearance in court on that date.

Following Ogden's release, Mrs. Marvin intimated that she might succeeded in confirming statements pertaining to the Wilcox murder asserted to have been made by two police officers the morning following the murder, and if successful, she stated through her attorney, S. S. Hahn, she expected arrests would follow.

FEITSHANS ON SCHOOL BOARD

er bonds failed. On practically complete returns last night the power bonds lacked 11,790 votes of having the necessary two-thirds.

Of the seven present members of the City Council who were candidates at Tuesday's election, six were re-elected. They were Allan, Mallard, Criswell, Sanborn, Mushet and Wheeler, while Councilman Sparks, who was ninth in the early returns, was displaced by Assemblyman Baker on the complete returns, and Sparks was defeated. Throughout Tuesday night, Boyle Workman led the eighteen Council candidates, and it looked as if he were to be high man and as such would probably be chosen President of the new City Council, which takes office on July 2. Late returns early Wednesday morning, however, brought up Allan's vote, so that on the practically complete returns, Allan was high man and Workman was second. Allan was strongly supported by many members of Los Angeles churches.

VOTE LIGHT

In all, less than 85,000 ballots were cast in the city at Tuesday's election, or 15,000 fewer than at the May 1 primaries, when 95,000 or 37 per cent of the registered voters came to the polls. On a basis of 85,000 votes cast on Tuesday, this would be a trifle over 29 per cent of the registered vote in the city of 272,443. This was an exceptionally light vote for a Los Angeles city election, and was due, for the most part, to the absence of a mayoralty contest, Mayor Cryer having been elected at the primaries.

The authorizing of $26,500,000 in improvement bonds at Tuesday's election is certain to attract nation-wide attention, as was the case when St. Louis recently similarly awoke to the necessity of building of a new City Hall, establishing a Civic Center and providing other much-needed public improvements. The $26,500,000 bonds authorized on Tuesday will still leave the Los Angeles city government an unused bonding capacity of $26,500,000 for other public improvements and to meet emergencies, and this amount is considered an ample safety margin. This amount will be increased next year under the new assessed valuation for the next twelve months.

EXCELLENT WORK

The returns from the 563 city precincts and seventy-four additional school district polling places were handled most expeditiously accurately and like clock work, by City Clerk Domingues as the result of careful preparations made weeks in advance, and final, complete returns were received from all precincts twenty-four hours ahead of the usual time when the last precinct is in. The unofficial vote will be ready for the City Council to begin its canvass tomorrow morning. This should take two days so that by Saturday the official vote for all candidates and propositions will be announced and made a part of the city records.

The police department did excellent work in furnishing the newspapers an early count of the vote, the officers telephoning the City Hall from the polling places, where the returns were tabulated and forwarded to the newspaper offices for publication in the early evening editions. Credit is due the police officers for this work, which was done under the direction of Chief Oaks and the direct supervision of Ralph H. Boyston, secretary to the Chief.

Again, a modest "crow."

Of the seven Board of Education candidates recommended by The Times for election, all were elected; of the nine Councilmanic candidates indorsed by The Times eight were elected, and of the fifteen freeholders candidates put forward by the Chamber of Commerce and thirteen allied civic and business organizations and women's clubs, and indorsed by The Times, fourteen were elected. The Times' recommendation on the eight propositions were all indorsed by the action of the voters on Tuesday, as at the May 1 primaries.

The Citizens' Committee of Ten Thousand will hold a "victory luncheon" at an early date, Lin William Price, secretary of the organization announced yesterday, at which the newly elected city officials will be the guests of honor. The committee's candidates were almost uniformly successful.

Wallace G. Oaks, Councilmanic candidate, issued the following statement yesterday:

"I want to thank my many friends through the columns of the Los Angeles Times for the kind and unselfish efforts put forth in my behalf in the recent election. I am very grateful to them for their support, and, although I was defeated, we will try again. A man who never tastes defeat, doesn't appreciate victory."

RADIOLAND JURY WON BY MELODY

Judge Keetch Lectures on South Pasadenans

Orchestras Found Guilty of Jazz Excellence

Radio-Baritone Divides Honors With Tots

REVIEW A. MARKHAM

After hearing the evidence in the case Judge Arthur Keetch of the Superior Court found the South Pasadena Chamber of Commerce guilty last night of arranging an excellent program. He fined each of the artists an encore and remanded sentence.

Judge Keetch, sitting as a jury in the case, earlier programs, rendered the following verdicts and recommendations:

Markham and his orchestra, from the "Rendezvous," Crystal Pier, Santa Monica, guilty of splendid syncopation in the first degree. Recommended a return engagement at KHJ.

The Filipino String Orchestra of the Sunbird Cafeteria, guilty of mesmerizing melody. There was also a hung jury in the case of the string orchestra, several of the members insisting that the program should have been longer. Several defendants, all minors, from the children's program, were found guilty of being prodigies. No notices of appeal were filed in any of the above instances.

RECORD PRODUCED

Testimony was produced in the case of F. J. Major at the noon session of the KHJ Court of Music. It was a nationally known orchestra and band leader, that he had come from the East to escape an engagement under the National Entertainment Association of Entertainers, that after appearing in many metropolitan cities his orchestra filled a six months' contract at Bon Ton Ballroom, Ocean Park, and that at the present time the orchestra is largely responsible for the dance craze at "The Rendezvous," Crystal Pier, Santa Monica. No denials were entered. Co-defendants named with Mr. Major were F. L. Appleton, well-known pianist, C. F. Wax, cornet, Jimmy Silverman, violin, H. W. Davies, saxophone and accordion, A. Burk, string and brass bass, W. Davidson, tympani and traps, G. A. Johnson, trombone and A. M. Gifford, banjo and saxophone.

EXHIBITS OFFERED

The defendants offered syncopation exhibits in behalf of the prosecution, a proceeding probably never before equally duplicated in legal history. The exhibits, in order, were "Sleeping," "Crying For You," "Carolina In the Morning," "Stingaree," "Here's My Baby" and "I Cried For You."

Judge Keetch presided at the hearing. Uncle John was the bailiff. His Honor read a general comment of the community of South Pasadena, said community was accused of civic pride, progressiveness and municipal attainments. There were no objections.

The first witness was Mrs. Nellie C. Merritt, violinist. Although ill in the least weak, she was

Her testimony was sympathetic and musical, consisting of "Adagio," by Rieu, and "Minuet," by Beethoven. Bailiff Uncle John then summoned Miss Margaret Northrup, contralto, who, in a ringing voice told "The Reason," by Del Riego. Later, upon being recalled, she said delightfully, with many embellishments, "The Wind's in the South."

Her vocal testimony was corroborated at the piano by Vernon Robinson. Asked upon cross-examination if he knew any solo selections Mr. Robinson admitted that he did, and illustrated in a confident manner with technique and melody "Two Arabasques," by Debussy, "Impromptu, in A Flat," by Chopin, and "Concert Study in D Flat," by Liszt.

Lance Estes, baritone, was subpoenaed to sing "Roadways," by Densmore, to which he agreed without resistance.

Miss Esta Kite-Carr, soprano, was the last witness summoned. She sang out her words in a way that pleased court spectators greatly, giving particular stress to "Pastoral," by Verancini, and "Day Break," by Daniels.

Final arguments were spoken by H. Warren Nice, secretary of the South Pasadena Chamber of Commerce.

Some of the most valuable musical testimony of the day was given by members of the Filipino String Orchestra, who were found at the Bluebird Cafeteria and haled to the studio-court.

JURY ATTENTIVE

The radio jury sat erect in its seats, stirred into attention by the melodic significance. The orchestra, on trial for the first time at KHJ, made no plea in its own behalf. The members rested their case on the selections played and the jury was glad to find them guilty of symphonic ability and syncopation genius.

It was recommended that the Filipino String wonders be tried as often as possible.

Exhibits in the case were labeled "In Der Untervelt," from the opera "Orpheus," by Rossini, "La Golondrina," "Loving Sam," "Peggy Dear," and "Medley," specially arranged.

After the trial the jurors went to the Bluebird Cafeteria to eat and from there to The Rendezvous at Crystal Pier, to dance.

PRODIGIES LISTED

Preliminary hearings at the matinee musicale trial concerned Bertha Lawrence, contralto and female baritone, who was accompanied by her teacher, Mrs. Grace Hammond, and Miss Rae Victor, lecturer, who testified on "Beauty, Health and Charm," through courtesy of the Weaver Jackson Company.

Bertha Lawrence was exonerated of vocal fault and was congratulated by the jury on rendition of "A Dream," by Bartlett, (contralto) and "Gypsy Love Song," from "The Fortune Teller," (baritone voice.)

In the radio juvenile court session the following were found guilty of exceptional talent and recommendations for bright futures were made: "Mickey" McBan, 4 years of age, screen starlet and reader; Mildred Moore, reader, 5 years of age; Marcella Nelson, 8 years of age, and Adele Jones, 12 years of age, pianists.

State to Lease Cabin Sites for Summer Outers

Following the example set by the Forest Service, the State of California is going into the business of leasing cabin building sites to those looking for a place to spend the summer.

In Fish Canyon a number of squatters have gone in and built summer homes, without cost to themselves, but a representative of the State government has informed them that they must hereafter pay a rental. There are sixty acres of land occupied by the cabins, and a considerable income will be realized from the leases.

A law providing for the rental of State lands under certain circumstances was passed by the Legislature at its recent session.

CLUB TO PICNIC

Members of the Sierra Club and their friends are invited to attend the annual supper and camp-fire gathering of the club Saturday evening at Griffith Park, Western-avenue entrance. A varied program of music and addresses has been arranged. M. Poulin's male quartet will sing. Those who intend to attend are requested to bring their own suppers. Coffee will be served at the picnic grounds.

ASSIST THE SOLOIST ON A GUL-BRAN-SEN

IN your family is there a musician's ability being neglected or dwarfed by poor accompaniment? Then you need a Gul-BRAN-sen.

Anyone can quickly learn to play the Gul-BRAN-sen well. Yes, really artistically—with the help of our Instruction Rolls.

Then it is easy to follow the soloist perfectly—to help him on new pieces—to play introductions and finales in inspiring style.

And on the Gul-BRAN-sen, as on no other player, you are enabled to eliminate the melody notes entirely, playing just the accompaniment to the solo.

Investigate it today. Try it, too, for your own personal pleasure in fine playing. You'll surprise yourself.

Are your Bakings Always Uniform?

The very first time you use Calumet your baking will be perfectly raised, sweet and wholesome. And you can expect unfailing uniformity just as long as you continue to use it, because

BEST BY TEST

CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

Never varies. The can you buy to-day holds the same quality and leavening strength as the first can that was made thirty-five years ago. In every can the last spoonful is as good as the first.

There is no substitute for Calumet—nothing "just as good." Its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

CRAFT OF GLASS

With three policemen after a small Glass it would seem that there is considerable lost motion somewhere. Do we really need all those extra officers?

FOR SNAKERITE

The rancher who explained to the court that he had to have some whisky on account of the many rattlers with which he was environed was coldly informed that it should hardly be necessary to operate an eight-gallon still overtime in order to keep in the safety zone. It looked as if he was establishing a collection of rattlers on his own account. Anyhow, the rancher was fined $500 and told that it would be cheaper for him to hire a snake charmer.

CALL FOR UNCLE SAM

It is believed that the new Italian Premier will shortly make a statement regarding the finances of his country and the plans and hopes for the future. In the course of his declaration he will make an earnest plea for the direct and helpful cooperation of America in making the adjustments that are essential to the peaceful restoration of Europe. Nothing real or permanent can be accomplished without the participation and support of the United States.

THE CHICAGO IDEA

More than 20,000 expansive souls who once found home and habitation in Chicago are now dwellers in the Los Angeles district and they are creating a fat and flossy organization of their own. They are already planning a clubhouse to cost more than $100,000. With them to plan is to execute, so that the feat may be envisaged as an accomplishment. It will be the first pretentious effort of an "old-home" group to have a monumental housing. It will be a credit to both the old town and the new.

ENDING IT ALL

A Chicago high-school girl committed suicide because her mother would not let her bob her hair or rouge her lips. The poor thing thought her parents were trying to make an outcast of her. When a young girl is denied the right to paint her face she is apt to become desperate. Trying to rear a maid so that she will not be like other girls is mighty hard on the girl. When all the buds are in their war paint the blossom without any feels miserably lonesome. Nevertheless, suicide is a poor substitute for a lip-stick.

ENTANGLING ALLIANCES

It seems to be the Hearst plan to have Henry Ford elected President on an independent ticket. This would imply that Hearst's own aspirations will be kept in cold storage for the time or else he will appease his passions by running the Empire State. In this new alignment, what becomes of Hiram Johnson? Is the old alliance of Hearst, Hylan and Hiram to be disentangled or is it to be diverted to other ends? Hiram might be harpooning the Republican administration while Hylan is disjointing the Democracy. All of this would be for the benefit of Hearst and his third party. But if Henry Ford goes to Washington it will be in one of his own merry-go-rounds and not in a Hearst ambulance.

A BUGHOUSE WORLD

An eminent Canadian scientist says that the world is headed for the asylum. It is becoming one vast madhouse. He says that in thirty years almost everybody will have gone crazy. The insanity percentages are running frightfully high and are climbing every day. It is not indicated that the professor is blaming it on the jazz. It is suggested that there are many things which combine to dethrone human reason. There is a hint that insanity is contagious and that if a sufficient number become infected there will be no escape for the rest of us. We will all be wearing feathers in our hats and trying to waltz for 1000 consecutive hours. It is a distressing outlook, but we do not have to look out if we don't want to.

INSIDIOUS MONSTERS

A German Commissioner of Education in an Eastern State reports to an Irish Mayor that the United States histories in use in the public schools are British propaganda. They are written with the insidious purpose of inspiring friendly relations between England and America and are, therefore, a menace to the republic. It seems that there is a deep and dark plot to bring about a fraternal alliance between Columbia and Britannia and to start it off right the histories used in the schools are being colored in favor of British thought. The idea is being instilled in the minds of our young that England is our friend and that the Briton has ever been amiable and considerate toward us, even when we were quarrelsome. We never know what perils beset us. Even in the schools of the country the young minds are being led to believe that a friendly relationship of English-speaking peoples might be justified. Our eyes are shut while this poison is being administered. Instead of imbibing the fact that England is our lifelong and implacable foe our tender young are being actually encouraged into British companionship. The situation would seem to call for a larger army.

LOS ANGELES FINDS ITSELF

It necessitates but a glance at the result of Tuesday's election to discover that Los Angeles has found itself; that its citizens are fully awake to the extent of the newer and wider horizons which we are approaching. Los Angeles is a metropolis and its thinking citizens realize that big things cannot be done in a little way.

Los Angeles is intensely American. Its percentage of unnaturalized foreign population is one of the smallest of all the large cities in the country. And Los Angeles is true to American traditions. These things are to be seen in the selection of a Board of Education and a Board of Freeholders.

An attempt was made by radical elements to gain control of both these important boards. They sought to entrench themselves in the public schools and to write a new charter for the city. They were well organized; but they represented only a minority, and they failed. The majority of the members of both these boards are men and women who believe that an American city should not depart from American traditions. The patriotic citizens mobilized at the polls to keep radical influences from poisoning the spring of public education. The dominating influence in the schools will be that of the home and the church.

There has been displayed an awakening of a civic consciousness which will lift Los Angeles from the rut which she has been following for a decade. The collective spirit manifested itself in the approval of the harbor, library, City Hall, viaduct and playground bonds.

Most important of these are the harbor bonds. Los Angeles owns its harbor, and its development is in the hands of the whole people. They can make or can mar. By their votes on Tuesday they made possible the development of the harbor in consonance with that of the city and its hinterlands.

Viaducts are necessary. They should have been constructed ten years ago. Now we shall have them. Additional grounds were necessary to beautify the approaches to the new library building. They have now been secured. The extension of the playground system is a movement for the better development of the children of the city, who will be its rulers tomorrow.

Voting bonds for the new City Hall and locating it in the only district where a civic center is possible represent a long stride in the direction of the city beautiful. It is only the beginning. An auditorium and a place of music and art will come later.

But the electorate gave unmistakable indications that, while it is progressive, it is not unduly extravagant, and is not chasing rainbows. The $35,000,000 power-bond issue was decisively beaten. It is the third stinging rebuke registered in three successive elections to the dreamers and the politicians whose influence dominates the Public Service Board. Los Angeles has millions to expend for actual development, but none to waste.

Many thousands of dollars were spent by the clique in the Public Service Commission who used the public money to further their selfish political interests. That money is lost, as are other thousands which are going to waste in that department. But it is possible that the new administration will find a way to curb the greedy activities of the one department that is not a credit to the municipality.

In the selection of the new City Council few mistakes were made. The great majority of the members are men capable of handling the business of the greatest municipal corporation in the West. They are men whose records are an earnest that the city will be wisely and economically governed during the next two years. They are neither radicals nor zealots; and the money will not be wasted by them in reckless or doubtful experiments.

The stage is set for an administration of the city's collective business to which the citizens may point with pride. All is in readiness for a great forward movement and for the consolidation of what has already been won. Let the play proceed. Let the things that the citizens have authorized the municipal administration to do be done quickly.

SCHOOLS ARE SAFEGUARDED

Los Angeles citizens will not tolerate radicalism or politics in the public schools of this community. The election of a Board of Education known to be free from group or class domination and the defeat of six candidates appearing on a so-called "teachers' ticket," taken separately and together, reflect the concerted expression of the public conscience.

Success for the Citizens' School Committee ticket is not an individual triumph for any member or group of members on that ticket, but results logically through the exercising of intelligent selections by Los Angeles voters. The new Board of Education members represent all the people and are politically indebted to no special interests, cliques or individuals.

Messrs. Odell, Beman, Burns, Bristol and Feltshans and Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Macbeth, all representative Los Angeles citizens, have been placed at the head of the school affairs of the city because the great majority of those who voted in Tuesday's election believe them to be fair-minded, honest, capable.

The Times believes that all of the new board members are in every way worthy of the great confidence so signally reposed in them by the electorate, and The Times believes, also, that the people of Los Angeles as a whole and the administrative and teaching staff of the public schools particularly are to be congratulated upon having a Board of Education composed of men and women of such exceptional character and qualities.

There is another side to the school election, however, which should be well considered and digested. The people not only have elected seven men and women of high character to a place of sacred responsibility, the people have delivered a rebuke and a warning to all who would use our schools for personal advancement, for the promulgation of radical theories and propaganda, for the practice of personal and partisan politics.

Politics in the school department has received a smashing repudiation which should result in speedy restoration of the educational morale of the entire school system. And in delivering so stern a blow at the school political ring the people of Los Angeles have written their guarantee of support and commendation for the great body of loyal, professional teachers who not only themselves refrained from using the schools for political purposes, but joined in indignant repudiation of the few teacher-politicians who did use their positions and their classrooms for political ends.

The new Board of Education was elected on a platform assuring full co-operation in all possible and proper ways with the teachers. An era of progress and harmony is happily in prospect.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS

The vast majority of unhappy complainants in divorce cases in the past have been women. The result has been to give the male sex a bit of a black eye as the harrowing tales of horrific cruelty were unfolded. Many a sympathetic heart would throb with pity for the lovely bride at a church wedding thinking how she was entering on a career of possible neglect and abuse.

From the recent cases reported in the newspapers there should be a special mourners' bench at every wedding ceremony for the groom's family and friends. For he wots not as to what a frightful sea of misery he may be embarking on for life. For the ladies, it seems, are getting exceeding unfeminine and many are walking rough-shod over their partners' feelings and rights.

In the past week three Los Angeles men have applied for divorces, reciting tales that were familiar enough when falling from feminine lips, but are quite new from male contenders for freedom from matrimony. The most piteous tale was that of a man whose bride deserted him the day of the marriage, the faithful spouse waiting fifteen years for his wandering helpmate's return. How many harrowing pieces of fiction have been composed in the past anent the unhappy bride deserted at the church and creeping through life in a state of semilunacy, ever peering down the byways and lanes for a glimpse of the returning wanderer? What heart so cold and cross as not to be wrung at this picture, yet the patient man who longed and waited evokes merely a ribald laugh from those who observe his misery.

Another time-honored tradition was shattered when one wife forgot the wedding anniversary. Being timidly reminded of it by her husband, who inquired if it meant anything to her, it is asserted that she burst into profane language and stoutly stated that it did not. Thus has the psychology of woman changed in the past few years. From being the humble suppliant at the banquet of love and marriage she is in the majority of cases now decidedly haughty and sniffy. Fearful and wonderful are the results of "This Freedom."

NOT SO WORSE

If all the strong liquors shipped from England to Canada and the Bahamas should be smuggled into this country the whole amount would be less than 5 per cent of the quantity regularly withdrawn from American distilleries and warehouses under permits. According to the accurately prepared figures of the prohibition director all the stuff smuggled over the borders would represent much less than half of 1 per cent of the old-time consumption. It is evident that the contraband liquor gets padded and swelled mightily by the time it gets to the consumer, but if the alcoholic content of the country is less than half of 1 per cent it is a sign that we are sobering up. The smugglers furnish lots of trouble, but the amount of stuff they actually get in would be mighty thin if spread over the land.

HIGH COST OF CLEANING

When window cleaners get $4 an hour for shining up our homes people who live in glass houses are in hard luck. The scrub lady used to throw this in for her $5 a week.

Optimism

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

The End of the Hog

There is much talk these days about employees' rights, about the workingman coming into his own, about parasitic capital and omniscient labor, but it seems to me if it is true that business men do not succeed solely by their own efforts, that they are carried on or dragged under by their "help" it is much more true that but for the employer most of us would be shabby, unshaved and paupers.

Artemus Ward once proposed to organize a regiment in which all would be officers. Artemus Ward would have his little joke. But life is no joke. In real life the rank and file are in the majority. Only a few of us can become generals, colonels, captains or even noncoms. When two men ride a horse one must ride behind. Vilification, condemnation and brow-beating of the man who owns the horse and lets us ride is the height of ingratitude and folly, and great will be the fall of the fool. The employee who is disloyal, who is traitor to the man who affords him a means of livelihood, who drags down instead of builds up simply commits hari-kari.

Every little human anchor thrown out to impede the progress of the good ship Business invites eventual riddance. The man who is a liability to the firm is soon wiped out.

Isn't it about time we realized that while Lincoln's "plain people" are the salt of the earth, that man is not worth his salt who does not give his utmost in return for the wherewithal to live and the privilege to live well?

The type of service that, in many fields, is widening the breach between employee and employer, service that is incased in reservations, that is half-hearted, hyphenated and begrudged, is the kind of service that brings back the congested bread-line, consigns happiness to the howling winds, disintegrates the rock-bound foundations of prosperity into shifting sands of panic.

If you are working for a man whose wages butter your bread, clothe the kids and pay the rent, why, in the name of everything you hold near and dear, work for him as if you appreciated the fact that but for him you and yours would starve, shiver and seek alms.

Teamwork, loyalty, co-operation—these are words that were potent in war and are more than ever powerful in peace. They are the driving wheels of commerce and happiness and they should be made the motive power of every worth-while worker.

This habit of eternally and unreasoningly looking out for No. 1 alone is always futile and sometimes fatal. The end of the hog is the slaughterhouse.

RIPPLING RHYMES

GOLF FANS

In olden times, when men grew gray, to calm repose they would aspire; they put all festive things away and read John Bunyan by the fire. They talked of gout and other ills and kept dark bottles on their shelves, compared their favored brands of pills and bored each other and themselves. But now I see the young old men forsake the inglenook and hail, and up the brae and through the glen they chase a little snow-white ball. I watch them move with sprightly step, no sign of stringhalt in their tread; they seem as blithe and full of pep as when their wintry locks were red. They come at evening from the links, a bunch of gray, athletic men, and throw in sundry Volstead drinks and fight their battles o'er again. And this, methinks, is better far than sinking into dotard blues and digging ointment from a jar to rub on rusty bones and thews. It's better than the ancient way of mourning minutes as they pass and pausing now and then to say, "The reaper comes! All flesh is grass!" The greatest pastime ever sprung is that which speeds the halting vet, which makes the patriarch feel young and makes the young man younger yet.

CLOSE-UPS OF EUROPE

BY S. FRED HOGUE

French Royalists Plan Revolution.

Contrasts in European Diplomacy.

Baldwin First Industrial Premier.

Ruhr Occupation Costs.

France occupies at present not only the best position in the sun of any of the European peoples, but also manages to keep persistently under the spotlight.

While her soldiers are occupying the Ruhr and inflicting corporal punishment on all German civilians who refuse or forget to remove their hats when a French officer passes, royalists at home are assaulting republican Deputies and threatening to re-establish the monarchy with Philip VIII, the latest Pretender, on the throne; and in the south of France a number of small cities have set up Communist governments.

Meanwhile, Marshal Foch is making a tour of the states in Europe friendly to France for the purpose of forming closer alliances. He spent considerable time in Poland and investigated the condition of the Polish army. It will be recalled that France loaned 75,000,000 francs to the Polish government shortly after the Ruhr occupation.

At present the French are too busy with their own affairs even to appoint a commission to arrange for the repayment of the American loan. A number of members of the French Chamber of Deputies have openly asserted that it is America that owes money to France. One recently referred to the promise of repayment, made in writing during the war, as "a pleasant fiction."

At the present moment it will not do for us of this country to take the French too seriously. We must not try to measure their conduct by Anglo-Saxon standards or we shall find ourselves condemning things which, while different from our customs, are not necessarily wrong.

One thing which we would regard as a fault is that they are too outspoken. As the origin of their name applies they are frank in the extreme.

No European nation has shown less duplicity in its international relations. Their government has no star-chamber sessions. It is never tied by secret treaties or gentleman's agreements with any other. In their foreign relations the French are as naive as children. Perhaps that is why their real intentions are so often misunderstood.

The French have always protested, with some show of reason, against the duplicity of the British government. For more than 100 years they have sounded a warning against "perfidious Albion."

There is a saving grace to the French character that some other European peoples lack. An appeal to French honor is seldom made in vain. The French believe that they have a right to the full amount of reparations which they claim under the Treaty of Versailles. When Germany failed to keep its treaty pledges the French believed they had a right to seize enough German property to satisfy their claim, and to hold it until the bill is paid.

There is nothing complicated about the French policy. And, at least from the French point of view, there is nothing unjust. The French never stop to consider whether it is politic to do what they have the right to do. When they owed reparations to Germany they paid them, holding it to be the only honorable course. Now they ask that Germany shall respond in kind.

While the French are in that frame of mind it would be suicidal for any French government even to suggest withdrawal from the Ruhr.

As for the threatened royalist revolution—it is an indication that the first French Revolution is not yet ended. There is a considerable party in France which comes of the stock that opposed the first revolution, who never accepted a republican form of government, who believe that the democratic idea of government is all wrong.

According to the Paris correspondent of The Times twenty members of the Chamber of Deputies, led by Leon Daudet, have taken an oath to restore the monarchy and set a king upon the throne.

The present French republic was born during the stress of the Franco-Prussian War. For several years after that war the Parliament was royalist; but the royalist forces were divided, following two pretenders, and the republic was enabled to consolidate itself. The republican idea has never taken as deep root in France as in this country; and a royalist revolution, supported by the army, is not beyond the realms of possibility.

An English diplomat seldom says what he means; it is only by his silence that he deceives. A German diplomat seldom means what he says; for it is a tradition of German diplomacy that to lie to conceal state policy is not dishonorable. The fault of the French diplomats is that they speak oftener than they think. A Frenchman is witty, but seldom clever.

Premier Baldwin is primarily a man of action. He speaks little; but his civil career shows that he is both astute and courageous. He will not attempt to govern the British Empire with conversation. There will be none of the heroics of the Lloyd George government; no clever evasions of questions that should be decided.

His position is not an enviable one, as he fully recognizes. There is a wealth of philosophy in his response to the journalists, "I need not your congratulations, but your prayers." He knows the difficulties of the position he is called upon to fill; and he accepts his appointment as a crown of thorns, rather than of laurel.

A New Joy for Young Folks

—a 5-cent food drink

They need more food—

Millions of children need more food. They are growing and active. Their small stomachs cannot hold a five-hour food supply. They must have food between meals. Millions fail to get enough of the minerals they need—the minerals found in milk. Calcium is one—the builder of teeth and bones.

That's why milk is served in schools. And why a world-wide crusade is conducted to urge that children drink more milk.

A Drink They Love

WALTER K. JAHN, the great food expert, has perfected a chocolated dairy drink. Rich flavor makes it doubly enticing.

The drink is called "400."

Every day in our local dairies we blend it fresh—under license. It is blended under pressure, with syrup from the Walter Jahn laboratories. The fat globules are broken.

We deliver it fresh daily to soft drink dealers. And they sell it pasteurized in bottles—ice cold—for five cents.

America's Finest Drink

"400" is now sold all over America, blended by local dairies. It has become the most popular drink in existence.

Children revel in it. Millions buy it daily, with the nickels that went to waste. It is served in schools, in restaurants, factories, offices and homes. And wherever soft drinks are sold.

Doctors and mothers encourage it. It means that children are better fed—they get vitamines and minerals.

One Pint = Six Eggs

Chocolate is a remarkable food. It was part of the "iron ration" of every army in the war. Blended with dairy products in "400," every pint yields over 400 calories of nutriment. That's about equal to six eggs.

Think of that. One 5-cent bottle of "400" is almost half a meal. Yet this food drink is a liquid confection. The most delicious drink that children ever tasted.

A child who drinks one bottle will drink it every day. The nickels spent on tidbits will be spent on food.

Suggest this delicious, healthful drink to your children. Teach them the better way to spend their nickels.

"400" The National Food Drink

The Chocolated Dairy Drink with Rico Flavor

The Most Popular Drink in Existence

5c Ice Cold

Wherever soft drinks are sold

Formula

A 50-50 blend of fresh full milk with its butter fat and vitamines, and fresh skimmed milk with its minerals and casein. This blended with 10 per cent of Walter Jahn's rico-flavored chocolated syrup.

All blended by a patented process, under enormous pressure, to break up the globules of fat.

Yields over 400 calories of nutriment per pint.

Made fresh daily in a local dairy. Every bottle pasteurized.

Made under license of The "400" Products Company, Chicago and New York, of which Walter K. Jahn is president.

Sold in bottles only, branded "400" on the bottle and the cap.

WOMAN'S CLUB HONORS BRIDE

Mrs. William Burkhart Made Curator as She Weds

Camarada Group Told to Pick Speakers With Care

Flowers for Retiring Board Feature of Luncheon

BY MYRA NYE

It isn't given to many women to become curator of a man's life and domicile at the same time she becomes curator of a great club like the Woman's Club of Hollywood. But that is what happened to Mrs. Mabel McCormick Miller yesterday when at 1 p.m. in Riverside she became the wife of Dr. William Burkhart, and at the same time in the Ambassador Hotel, Mrs. John Francis Mead, president, installed her as general curator of the Hollywood Club.

Mrs. Wilsie Martin, head of the literture department, went to Riverside to "Help her husband marry Mrs. Miller," as Mrs. Mead said. Otherwise every head of the seventeen departments was present. These women were the guests of honor for the occasion and also the speakers. There were exactly thirty-nine funny stories told which was a record for any woman's club in the district. Mrs. Mead being a good pacemaker in this particular seemed to inspire her co-workers to do likewise. Mrs. Mead told from one to three stories for each speaker she introduced and they were all good ones.

Among the speakers were Mrs. J. J. Carter, music; Miss Viroque Maker, art; Mrs. Loren B. Curtis, Browning; Mrs. Engistine Bixler, choral; Mrs. W. H. H. Garver, drama; Miss Zerta Green, education; Mrs. Alfred Bartlett, English; Mrs. A. B. Frost, motion pictures; Mrs. H. G. Redwein, legislation, and Mrs. C. J. Shepherd, literature.

"Here is rosemary for remembrance, and pansies for thoughts," was the appealing statement of Mrs. C. M. Wade, president of the La Camarada Club, as she tendered velvety corsages of pansies and rosemary to her outgoing board at the annual luncheon held yesterday in the Mary Louise Tea Rooms near Westlake Park.

It was a flowery luncheon throughout, with the long tables heaped high with fragrant bloom in the shades of orchid and blue, and the kellow of the California poppy, the club flower, predominating. Then there were flowery hats and flowery words adding to the general feeling of comradeship for which La Camarada Club stands.

One serious note was struck when Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley, until recently vice-president of the State Federation, issued a warning to the meeting by asking that club women be a little careful in choosing their speakers for the year. She stated that "we are rather apt to mistake propaganda for education and be misled by the eloquence of a speaker." These words were particularly apropos owing to the happenings of the last six months.

After the luncheon proper to the total surprise of the president, Mrs. J. H. Morford borrowed her gavel and called the club to order while she presented to her the federation pin on behalf of the club. Mrs. Wade then introduced the guests of the afternoon, and read a letter from Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles district of the federation, sending greetings to the club and making a plea for greater unity with the federation. She urged the members to look forward to the biennial convention next year when Los Angeles club women will be hostesses to the club women of the whole country.

PRESENTED WITH FLOWERS

Mrs. Wade then presented the rosemary and pansies and spoke of their intimate significance.

Those who rose to receive them were: Mrs. H. J. Coger, Mrs. Fennell, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. C. L. Fouts, Mrs. Nichols Messer, Mrs. J. E. Gribbie, Mrs. J. B. Mullen, Mrs. Rae G. Van Cleve, Mrs. V. V. Le Roy, Mrs. Dan V. Noland, Mrs. Earl R. Osborn and Miss S. M. Burns.

A varied and enjoyable program condoted the afternoon. Mrs. Jessie McDonald Patterson, soprano, sang four songs, delightfully. Two by Gertrude Ross, "The Old Maid's Song," and "La Coeur de L'Amie," and two by Ward Stephens, "The Rose's Cup," and "Someone Worthwhile."

Mrs. Cedric Johnson, talented member of the club, played two charming selections on the piano, and Miss Ann Cavenaugh gave a reading by O. Henry. Two lovely songs by Mrs. Budlong closed the program.

HARVARD SCHOOL WILL HAVE COMMENCEMENT

Commencement exercises will be conducted at Harvard School at 10 a.m. Friday. The commencement exercises will be preceded by the annual prize debate on Tuesday, and on Wednesday evening the senior class members will be the hosts at a dance and reception. The annual alumni dinner will be on Thursday evening, the annual military drill and review coming earlier in the day.

The Woman and Her Job

by Valerie Watraus

[Questions of general interest bearing on the vocational training of women and their employment problems will be answered by Miss Watraus in this column if addressed to her in care of The Times.]

Responsibilities and Rewards

Timidity is the besetting sin of the young business woman. In the days of her inexperience she is afraid to undertake responsibilities, and when the stage of probation is passed the habit of evasion has become fixed.

It's an indifferent world, at best. It has no time to stop and analyse. If we say we are thus and so it is prone to take our word for it until such time as we prove our assurance is greater than our ability. It is more likely to discover an over than underestimate and resents being fooled. To admit deception is a bitter experience—we feel that it is a reflection on our good judgment.

But the world has a way of lending a helping hand to the one who is willing to make the attempt. The coward earns a kick, the braggart wins contempt, but the sincere and courageous soul hears the plaudits of the strong.

There is an old story told of a general whose knees trembled so badly on the morning of the battle that he had to be lifted into the saddle. Catching the contemptuous smiles on the lips of his aides, he turned on them wrathfully.

"Laugh!" he snarled. "It may be your last chance. But if you knew where I meant to lead you today your knees would shake."

After all, isn't that the finest type of courage? To know your weakness, yet hold the will to the task set and go ahead? It may be true that "A fool knows no fear," but it's the brave heart that fears, but does not falter.

It is the faltering that puts upon us the stamp of cowardice.

If the young girl who schools herself to say: "I will try," many avenues would open up for her that lead to achievement.

So many girls write to say: "I am in a blind alley from which there is no escape. I never have had a promotion, and I've taken dictation till I've lost all the initiative and ambition I ever had."

Yet there must have been opportunities for promotion if there had been the courage to seize them. There must have been many a chance to share the burdens of the job ahead.

I know one stenographer who turns out an amazing quantity of work, all of it faultlessly accurate, and beautifully typed. Many responsible positions have been offered her, but she always meets them by saying: "Oh, I'm afraid I couldn't do that. I might make a mistake."

And that's the handicap of so many girls—they are too conscientious. They are earnest and sincere, but doubt their own souls. There is a well-known poem in which occurs these lines:

"He either fears his fate too much,
Or else his faith be small,
Who dare not put it to the touch,
To win or lose it all."

Better to have tried and failed, than never to have made the attempt. Mistakes are the common heritage of men. If no one ever made a mistake it would be a dreary old world. I can think of no greater hardship than to live with people who never are wrong—unless it be those who are the world's self-appointed critics. It is through our errors that we learn, unless we lack the wisdom to profit by our mistakes.

In the days when spoons were carved from the horns of animals there was a current saying: "Make a spoon or spoil a horn." Even though good material be wasted, the effort is to be commended.

Sales managers tell me that is the sales they use the lessons, not the close.

The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget to inclose the s.a.s.e. if you ask for an article.

"Dear Doctor:

"Here is a kindred spirit—yes, 220 pounds kindred. I should weigh 125! "It seems that my circumstances should thin me down—but alas! the plainer and cheaper my fare, the fatter I get.

"Your efforts to reduce the weighty of the world are noble. You may take it as a jest, but you really are a philanthropist and are doing a wonderful work.

"MRS. P."

I'll say I'm doing a wonderful work. I'd rather have my little job than any other work in the world, and I don't underestimate its value in the least. I can't, when I get the thousands of letters I do telling me of the wonderful results the reducing instructions are bringing.

The reason you gained even on the simplest and plainest of fare is because you did not have a knowledge of calories or the energy value of foods, my dear. That is easily acquired. TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

Too many men have been unpleasantly surprised to find that their wife's hair which they had so greatly admired was only a switch or transformation. We know now that poor hair is a confession of either laziness or lack of knowledge and that fair care with sensible means will insure scalp health and hair beauty. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth. — (Advertisement.

RECENT BRIDE HOSTESS TONIGHT

Former Chicago Girl is Giving Dance

[Hoover Art Studio]

Mrs. Joseph Zoellner, Jr.

THIS recent bride, Mrs. Joseph Zoellner, Jr. (Mabel E. Ripley, Chicago,) with Mr. Zoellner and Miss Antoinette Zoellner, will entertain forty guests with a dancing party tonight at their home on Windsor Boulevard.

Mrs. Zoellner was hostess at a charming tea Saturday at the Ambassador, complimenting Mrs. Charles P. Gordon, Jr., of Denver and Miss Mary R. Parsons of Chicago, both of whom were Mrs. Zoellner's classmates at Mrs. Starrett's finishing school in the East.

THE NEW

IN STORES AND HOMES

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

By Olive Gray

Up-to-Dateist:

Long wraps of fur—wraps as long as the purse can reach and of furs most attractive—seal, caracul, ermine. Also fur jacquettes in popular poetry, each having some distinctive feature such as contrasting collar, quaintly designed belt, unusual sleeves. A season's fad is for striking contrast between the fur of the garment and its collar—one very light, the other dark.

Luxurious pillows for chairs, lounges and floor; rich fabrics in velvet, velours, silks, satins and even in fur.

The return of the swagger stick, but enhanced by carving and color, as exploited during that interesting opening of a large fur shop de luxe.

Showy Straws

Straws may show which way the wind blows, even the wind of Fashion. This season some of those straws are brown, some gray—I mean straw hats for men. The bands match in color and the hats are very smart, if rather unusual. With suits of the same color, I would imagine them good.

The Omni-Scarf

The scarf is too useful and too ornamental to go out of fashion. In lighter materials, either knitted lastand, or finely woven worsted fabric; in silks or in fibre, scarfs are so convenient to carry along for wrapping the throat or shoulders when the chill steals out upon us from mountain or sea, that we simply cannot relinquish scarfing. Many new developments, too, add to the interest in this accessory. One of the girls has a novel way of wearing hers, carrying it straight across the breast, over the shoulders and tying at the back in a big slip-knot, the fringe hanging half way to the skirt hem.

For The Kiddies

Jeanette does the most interesting things for her kiddies! One warm day recently, for example, she served them the most intriguing viand. She hard-boiled eggs, peeled them and flattened them at one end, then took out the yolk and after seasoning, returned it, finely mashed. Then she inserted macaroni stems and behold! upon each plate a "pipe" to "smoke!" A regular Paddy pipe! Sprigs of parsley curled upward, for smoke. The eggs served to divert the minds of children on the verge of being cross with the warm weather and served, also, to stimulate flagging appetites.

Three Straw Hats

An authority on men's dress declares that every well-dressed man should have at least three straw hats for summer wear. A stiff sonnit for business wear, a leghorn or Panama for sportswear and a China split straw, or other similar weave for wear in the evening with a dinner coat, is the advice of this style dictator. It is said that wider brims, following the mode of clothes cut with more fullness, are the demand of the present season.

Gingham Ribbon

The supremacy of gingham in the feminine wardrobe is attested by that sincerest flattery, imitation. Some of the latest ribbons are woven in simulation of gingham. For trimming organdy and other frocks of white, these humly ambitious ribbons are fascinating in their demurity.

Frost

Gladys writes from Paris that they are placing all the gathers, drapery 'nevervthing at the front of the newest frocks. My, but it is a trying fashion! And still more trying the fad of walking all curved in at the back!

Short Capes

Paris holds to short capes in cloth, says my correspondent. She commends them in lieu of the strictly tailored coat, since they are less puritanically stiff and unyielding. Many of the new models tie at the neck-line with a narrow strip of self material. Sometimes these capes match the one-piece dress underneath; again they contrast with it.

THUS SAITH THE MODE

Midsummer coat frocks are made of linen and ratine.

English bathing suits show a decidedly Egyptian influence.

Silk negligee robes show ombre fringe as a new trimming.

Elaborately embroidered jaquettes are worn with pleated skirts.

Fiber-silk dresses have wide painted borders in rich colors.

Imported striped scarfs are used to make charming sports suits.

Lanvin green chiffon makes charming frocks for bridesmaids.

The hat that combines straw with fabric is the one most in demand.

Hudson seal models for fall are being made with the squirrel crepe.

Winter wraps, it is announced, will feature elaborate embroideries.

Both classic lines and a molded silhouette are favored for evening.

Flat crepes with satin figures will be used to line the fur coats this fall.

The embroidered effects still get their inspiration from things Oriental.

Richly colored capes of brushed wool are charmingly combined with crepe.

An attractive filet jumper in beige is embroidered in thick brown flowers.

In My Garden

By Joseph A. Cutter

My garden experience has taught me one thing and that is not to use commercial fertilizers, particularly on the lawn, at two times. One of these is when there is a wet season and frequent rains and the other when there is a drouth. In the first case they are washed away and in the other they lie about the surface and are wasted. What you want is for your fertilizer to get down about the roots and the best way to do that on a lawn is to scatter it when you anticipate a gentle storm, not a thunder shower, for a heavy storm will wash it away. Of course in the flower garden the fertilizer can be dug in at any time and almost immediately becomes useful in stimulating plant growth.

Once more I have made the rounds of the city fancywork shops in quest of new ideas to pass on to my column readers who are fond of doing handiwork. Here are some of the latest wrinkles which I ran across:

The new baby-carriage straps: These make lovely gifts to a young mother—or they are equally good to put in a woman's exchange for sale. They consist simply of a twelve-inch long piece of inch-wide elastic covered with satin ribbon shirred on. To either end of the elastic is fastened a spring hook (these hooks clip into the ring on the carriage on either side of the baby.) Where the hook is fastened onto the elastic a button is used to conceal the joining; this button measures about one inch in diameter and is covered with blue satin ribbon and made to represent a rabbit's head, as follows: Embroider pink eyes in the satin, an "X" for the nose and black whiskers, and put two blue satin ears at the top of the button, extanding beyond it.

A dainty perfume bottle: The rage for covering glass toilet articles with old rose or old blue silk and gold net and lace has now spread to glass perfume and smelling-salts bottles. The ones I saw were covered at the bottom and half way up the sides with old-rose watered silk and had narrow gold braid at top and bottom of the silk (to cover the raw edges.) A ruffle of gold lace decorated the neck of the bottle. The tall glass stopper was undecorated.

A guest-room sewing cabinet: This was very original. At first glance it appeared to be merely a child's toy chair—a wing-backed chair covered entirely with flowered cretonne. But upon closer investigation one discovered that it was not a toy at all; it was a sewing cabinet—the chair cushion containing needles, and a small box-like compartment under the cushion (the cushion was removable) containing thread, thimble and tape measure. When one turned the small chair completely around, one found a pair of scissors strapped to his back. The chair stood six inches high.

[All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be inclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number and the name of your city and State.—The Editor.]

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Iron Without Sprinkling

If handkerchiefs are ironed before they have dried from the washing they will have a slight gloss and keep clean longer.

In the Baby's Basket

Olive oil is usually a requisite for the toilet basket of the new baby. A new small machine oil can is an excellent container for it, as it is easily used and will not spot the dainty basket.

The Last Step

If the last step of your cellar stairs is painted white it may save you a nasty fall and is bound to answer that inevitable question as to whether you are on the last step or have you arrived?

Mark the Spots

So that particular attention may be paid to them, it is well to run a basting thread around the badly soiled spots on a garment before immersing in gasoline, using dark thread on light material and vice versa.

Broken Hemstitching

If the hemstitching breaks in an otherwise good scarf or pillowcase do not cast it aside, but crochet either a very narrow insertion or some hairpin lace and insert in place of the hemstitching, cutting carefully through the center of the stitching so as to leave a finished edge to which the lace can be sewn.

CATHEDRALS

A PASSER-BY stopped to gaze at a cathedral in course of construction, its towers just beginning to rear themselves skyward.

Three men near-by were cutting blocks of stone. Of the first of these men the passer-by asked, "What are you doing?"

"Cutting stone," was the reply.

To the same question the second man answered:

"Getting ten dollars a day."

"And what are you doing?" the passer-by asked of the third man.

"Helping to build a cathedral," he replied.

BOLSHEVISM IN ITALY IS DEAD

Princess Says Mussolini Has Killed Fear of Reds

Political Industrial Unity is Brought About

Visitor Speaks on Fascisti Before City Club

"Fear that Bolshevism might gain a foothold in Italy was abolished by the success of Mussolini in bringing to that country the finest spirit of social, political and industrial unity in its history," declared Princess Santa Borchese in an address on "The Fascisti" given yesterday at the City Club.

Introduced by Dr. E. C. Moore, director of the Southern Branch of the University of California, because of the confessed inability of President F. J. Heney to pronounce the title of the speaker's lecture, Princess Borchese briefly reviewed the historical events in Italy since 1870, "when, under the leadership of a minority of intellectuals, it first became a unified, national, political entity."

SOCIALISTIC TREND

"After 1870 our thoughts were mainly on our own social problems, our trend of thought was materialistic and tending in the direction of Socialism," admitted the speaker. "However, before the great war there was one element that was more far-seeing, standing for the full development of Italy and advocating a strong army and navy to be ready for the conflict which the leaders saw was inevitable. That was the Nationalist party, which made our entrance into the war, and also our victories possible. The Fascisti is the outgrowth and the active side of the Nationalist party."

The speaker compared Mussolini to Garibaldi, describing him as a man of great faith, splendid intellect, possessing a fine sense of moral duty, coupled with common sense and practical ability. She spoke of his early struggle for an education, of his journalistic career and told how, finally, for the safety of Italy, he broke from the radical element, served faithfully in the war and then returned home to devote his genius and energy to the economic and social reconstruction of his impoverished and disunited people.

COMMUNISTS POPULAR

"Our soldiers, returning home from military service, did not find ideal conditions," said Princess Borchese. "Italy had always counted on Eastern European countries as an outlet for her products, but these markets were now closed, causing unemployment and low wages in Italy. Yet we were bordered by nations whose people were preaching international Socialism. With the prewar Socialists in Italy still strong, and with the soldiers demoralized, the Communists, shouting for a six-hour day and higher wages, became popular.

"Then came strikes and boycotts and economic losses to employers and employees alike. In some cases the Communists gained control of the factories, yet could obtain no credit from the banks and, being unable to pay themselves, returned the plants to the proprietors. However, in most cases this was futile, for the financial condition of the country was such that the owners were compelled to close their plants.

MIDDLE-CLASS LEADER

"The reaction had to come and the movement was led by the middle class, the producers, and in 1919 the Nationalist Fascisti party was formed. It soon became a mass movement and, since 1921, the majority of workers have become members of the Fascisti, refusing to be controlled by the Socialists.

"The government, belonging to neither the Socialists nor the Fascisti, naturally wavered and weakened under the strain," said the speaker. "Conditions began to look dark until Mussolini, who had been a member of Parliament since 1920, took a hand in affairs. The Cabinet had resigned. The King and his advisers turned to Mussolini and asked him to come to Rome. However, Mussolini had already ordered the march on Rome. But let it not be thought that this was a revolutionary march. It was merely an outlet for the expression of the people, a beautiful, solemn demonstration of the universal consent of the people to have Mussolini lead them toward a safer, saner government.

COALITION MOVEMENT

"The Mussolini government is a coalition government, recognizing and protecting the citizens of practically all parties and religions, but not accepting the international Socialists," said Princess Borchese. "It is a government of law, order, economy, labor and discipline. Our national debt, which last November was 3,000,000,000 lire, has been reduced to less than 2,000,000,000 lire.

"Reconstruction is evident in every department of the government, and plans are going forward for the development of our African colonies. Mussolini could easily have been the dictatorial leader of a general revolution, yet his intention has never been to tear down, but only to reconstruct, and he has carried his policies to a most successful conclusion."

TO START POLA NEGRI FILM

Herbert Brennon Will Direct "The Spanish Dancer;" Cast to Include Many Noted Players

With all preparations made for the start today of the filming of "The Spanish Dancer," Pola Negri's new starring vehicle, Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, announced yesterday the complete cast of the new Herbert Brennon production.

This will be Miss Negri's first appearance under the direction of Mr. Brennon and the star will be supported by a cast of well-known players. Heading these is to be Antonio Moreno, who will play the part of Don Cesar de Bazan, a noble of old Spain.

Others in the supporting cast are Wallace Beery as King Phillip IV of Spain; Kathlyn Williams as Queen Isabel of Bourbon; Gareth Hughes as Lazarillo; Adolph Menjou as Don Salluste; Edward Kipling as Marquis De Rotundo; Dawn O'Day as Don Balthazar Carlos; Robert Brower as Diego and Charles A. Stevenson as the Cardinal Ambassador.

The production will be staged in a lavish manner and will be a superproduction of the type recently announced by Mr. Lasky before the convention of Paramount salesmen here.

Mr. Brennon, who has been chosen to direct Miss Negri's third Paramount release, has spent weeks in preparation for the picture and in conference with members of the scenario and art departments.

The photoplay has been adapted from the riginal story, "Don Cesar de Bazan," by June Mathis and Beula Marie Dix. George Hopkins will be art director and James Home cameraman.

Miss Negri's other Paramount releases are "Bella Donna," and "The Cheat."

PREPARE FOR FLAG DAY

Sons of Revolution See Menacing Wave of New Thralldom Sweeping Over Country

The Sons of Revolution in California from their Los Angeles headquarters are making extensive preparations for the observance of Flag Day on June 14. As a preliminary, many ministers will preach patriotic sermons next Sunday, at the suggestion of the society.

In a letter sent by Pierson W. Banning, president of the Sons of the Revolution, to members of the organization and to ministers of California, the importance of Flag Day is emphasized.

"The dangers which menace our country today are insidious and intriguing," declares the letter. "If not checked, they will insure its thralldom to a far greater and more humiliating degree than the English yoke would have been, if they had not failed at Yorktown.

"Let your memory go back and think how your ancestors fought, suffered and died for their freedom; your freedom and mine; a freedom which broke the shackles of a foreign dominion that bound us. Influences foreign to our best interests have never lost their desire or determination to rule our country; today they are stronger, more aggressive, more brazen in their suave impudence and fanatical determination to accomplish our undoing and stamp on us the hallmark of their dominance, than ever before in their selfish history of hate."

The society also is issuing War Department circulars on how to display the flag, in reply to a number of questions from interested citizens.

"The union of the flag is the honor point," the circular explains. "The right arm is the sword point and therefore the point of danger, and hence the place of honor. The staff edge of the flag is the heraldic dexter or the right edge. When the national flag is carried, as in a procession, with another flag or flags, the place of the national flag is on the right.

"When the national flag is hung either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right. When displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a window sill or the front of a building the same rules should be observed; the union should go clear to the "truck," as the peak of the staff is called, unless the flag be at half staff. When the flag is suspended between buildings so as to hang over the middle of the road, a simple rule is to hang the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street."

KICKLESS RUM EXPECTED

European Distilleries Preparing to Ship Large Cargoes of Dealcoholized Liquor to America

Wineries and distilleries throughout Europe are preparing to regain the enormous export trade lost with the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment bd conforming wit hthe prohibition laws of America and this spring will ship thousands of gallons of dealcoholized spirits to the Pacific Coast, according to Charles Bailey, purser of the British around-the-world liner Robert Dollar. The Robert Dollar, in port here today, brought in the first consignment of this safe-and-sane liquor to reach America—it being 500 cases of Italian vermouth from Genoa.

"Exporters over in Europe heretofore have laughed at the idea of prohibition in America being a permanent institution," said Mr. Bailey. "Recent rulings, however, seem to have given them a different outlook for Italian wineries are preparing to dealcoholize 30 per cent of their annual output for export to the United States."

The Robert Dollar is the second largest cargo vessel afloat, having a displacement of more than 26,000 tons. Previous to going under British registry in the service of the Robert Dollar Company she was the German steamer Kurlin and was twice gutted by fire while building at Hamburg.

She is today discharging Los Angeles cargo from the Orient and mediterranean ports. She has for this port rubber from Singapore, marble from Genoa and soap, canned goods an dolfve oil from Marseilles. Before sailing early tomorrow for the Far East she will load 1200 tons of Southern California products for Manila, Yokohama, Shanghai, Java and Singapore.

C. J. Lehmann, Southern California agent for the Dollar Line, announced yesterday that the increased service of the Dollar Line's around-the-world fleet will carry Los Angeles products on brand new trade routes throughout the Orient, Straits Settlements, India, the Red Sea and the Mediterranean.

Willard Mack Has Signed for Pictures Again

The screen again claims Willard Mack, actor and playwright. Joseph M. Schenck announced yesterday that he had assigned Mack to the role of "Sergeant Kick," in "The Dangerous Maid," Constance Talmadge's forthcoming starring vehicle.

In developing the comedy possibilities of the story to fit Miss Talmadge's personality, Mack became impressed with the part, it is said, and expressed his desire to play it.

In "The Dangerous Maid" the part of "Sergeant Kick" is the "heavy" role opposite Miss Talmadge's "Barbara Winslow." Victor Heerman will direct the comedy-drama, and production will start about the middle of the month.

Announcement was made that the two veteran cameramen, Tony Gaudio and Norbert Brodin, have again signed Schenck contracts.

STAGECRAFT ART TO BE DISCUSSED

"Featuring Art as Applied to Stagecraft and Designing" will be the subject Sunday at 3:15 p.m. of a talk at Southwest Museum by Roger Sterrett, head of the art department of Los Angeles High School. The talk is in connection with the junior art exhibit now in the art gallery of the museum. Miss Margaret Porter, pianist, will play Mozart's "Fantasie in D Major," Debussy's "Children's Corner" and MacDowell's "Novelette," with other numbers.

Col. E. R. Lewis, Father of Film Star, Is Dead

Word has been received from Chicago that Col. H. R. Lewis, the father of Ralph Lewis, film star, died at his home in Evanston, Ill. Col. Lewis was a veteran of the Civil War, thirty-third degree Mason, and for more than half a century was closely identified with the building of Chicago.

Col. Lewis was 84 years of age and commanded the Eighth Illinois Cavalry in the Civil War. For many years he served as president of the Illinois Flag Day Association, and was head of the commission to decorate and overpee the graves of unclaimed soldiers who died in the wars.

Ralph was called to Chicago recently because of his father's illness, arriving on Memorial Day. Despite his illness, Col. Lewis insisted on being taken to a cemetery to participate in the Memorial Day ceremonies. The excitement caused a relapse, and he died several days later. The Masons had charge of the burial services.

ALUMNI TO BANQUET

Alumni of California Institute of Technology at Pasadena will have their annual banquet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Vista del Arroyo, Pasadena. A. L. Holinger, president of the Alumni Association, will preside.

Finis Fox Doing Continuity for 'The Bad Man'

News leaked out yesterday that Finis Fox is writing the continuity of "The Bad Man," Porter Emerson Browne's satirical comedy, which will be produced with Holbrook Blinn, creator of the stage role, as the star.

Although the continuity had been written in New York City, it was not found satisfactory when it reached Los Angeles. The story will conform almost exactly to the lines of the play, which is now being produced at the Majestic Theater, but Finis Fox has written an elaborate introduction.

Charles A. Sellon, who created the role of "Uncle Henry," in the original stage production with Blinn, will also appear in the film version of the story. Sellon has achieved notewerthy criticism for his work in the stage play, and special care has been taken by Fox on the writing of his role.

Fox took over the writing of the continuity on a moment's notice.

Production of "The Bad Man" will begin shortly. Holbrook Blinn will portray the role of Pancho Lopez in pictures and then play it on the stage during the current run of the production at the Majestic. The picture will be directed by Edwin Carewe.

GLEE CLUB LEAVES FOR EASTERN TOUR

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA BODY TO BE GONE FIVE WEEKS

Twenty members of the glee club of the University of Southern California will leave this evening for an eastern concert trip, to be absent five weeks. The varsity singers will occupy a special car during the entire trip. A farewell program will be given by the club this morning at the senior chapel exercises in Bovard Auditorium.

The club will give its first program of the trip in San Francisco. Other dates will include Ogden, Utah, June 10 and 11; Salt Lake City, June 12; Denver, June 16 to 23; Philisburg, Kan., June 24; Omaha, Neb., June 25 to July 2; Valley, Neb., July 3; Moline, Ill., July 4 to 9; thence to Chicago, where they will sing a week at one of the big theaters. In some of the towns visited a series of concerts have been arranged.

The boys will be attired in summer outfits of white for all the concerts, and the Cardinal and Gold colors will be prominently displayed in all the events. Several of the members will go to Europe for study during the summer following the disbanding of the club in Chicago.

UNIVERSITY EXECUTIVE TO SPEAK AT SCHOOLS

H. J. Stonier, executive secretary of the University of Southern California, will be the principal speaker at four high-school commencements. This evening he will speak at the Moorepark Union High School on the topic, "The Third Question," and tomorrow evening on "Dreams Men Live By" at the Fillmore Union High School. Wednesday evening next week he will be the speaker at the El Monte High School exercises, and the following evening at Long Beach.

NAVY MEN SAILING

Transport Chaumont Will Take Many to Duties in East

Carrying 38 officers and as many men from Los Angeles Harbor to Hampton Roads, Va., the Navy transport Chaumont sails at 4 a.m. today. Among the passengers is Admiral A. D. McCormick, medical inspector of the Pacific district, who has been ordered to Washington for duty there. The officers have been detached from the battle fleet and assigned to duty in the East. The men are going East to be discharged, their time of enlistment having expired.

There will sail also on the Chaumont from here to San Diego 300 instructors from the Goat Island Naval Training Station at San Francisco, who will man the new naval training station at San Diego. The Goat Island station is being abandoned, and all Coast training activities will be concentrated at San Diego.

Specimens of metal pens have been discovered in Pompeii.

MARY PHILBIN TO PORTRAY LEAD WITH BORZAGE

By Grace Kingsley

Destined to be one of the greatest sensations the films have known, if all the signs fail not, beautiful Mary Philbin is being sought by all the directors, these days. She created a profound impression at the preview of "Merry-Go-Round," made by Rupert Julian for Universal, and shown to a specially invited audience at the Ambassador Theater the other night. Critics raved over her at the time, saying she has the strength of Mae Marsh and the delicacy of Lillian Gish, with a beauty and personality that are striking and all her own.

Arthur H. Jacobs, producer of Frank Borzage Productions, arises proudly to announce that he has signed Miss Philbin to play the leading feminine role opposite William Collier, Jr., in his newest picture, on which work is shortly to commence at the United Studios. Her role in this picture, as yet unnamed, is said to be one that will call on all her powers. Frank Borzage, director of "Humoresque," promises to outshine that picture in his next production.

Miss Philbin was born in Chicago, where she went to high school and then studied dancing and music. She also showed much talent in drawing and painting. When only 13 she gave dancing lessons. In her early 'teens she often appeared at church and school entertainments.

"I always wanted, from the tiniest girl, to be a film star," said Mary to me one day when we were talking over the beginnings of her career. "When I was 4 I pinned a star on my bedroom door, and told mother I was going into pictures. Lillian Gish was my idol always. She is yet. To me she is perfect! I used to go and see all her pictures, and then go home and go through all the emotions in my looking glass. I used to try out my artificial emotions on other children and watch the effect."

The young actress was finally selected from winners of a beauty contest to appear in Universal pictures. Erich Von Stroheim himself chose her and placed her in "Merry-Go-Round."

Pola Negri Comes Back

It takes Pola Negri to flash off a nifty, once her Polish temper is up. Miss Negri has been criticised for being what you might call kind of mean to the help around the studio, and is not a little nettled over the matter.

"I understand the Americans now," declared Miss Negri the other day, "and the next picture I make I'm going to grab the electrician around the neck, and say, 'Oh, what nice lights you make!'"

Barrymore-Fenwick Wedding

The much discussed wedding of Irene Fenwick and Lionel Barrymore, both of whom left yesterday on the French liner Paris, will take place in Rome on July 11, according to New York advices received last night. Ethel Barrymore was at the pier to see the couple off, as were other friends.

With Mr. Barrymore were other prominent actors, who will appear with him in "The Eternal City," which is to be screened in and around Rome. They included Barbara LaMarr, Montague Love and Bert Lytell. The party will be away ten weeks. The screening will be suspended on the wedding day of the star.

Lillian Leighton's Prize Role

That delightful old lady of fiction, Ma Pettingill, will, of course, come to life on the screen in the Lasky film version of Harry Leon Wilson's "Ruggles of Red Gap." And the actress who will play it is a no less capable and well-known one than Lillian Leighton, who signed yesterday for the role. James Cruze will direct the picture.

Miss Leighton has created a long line of amusing and dramatic character roles on the screen, and her selection for the part of Ma Pettingill is a crowning triumph. At present she is playing a role in "The Ten Commandments," Cecil De Mille's current feature.

Chick Sale in Films

Chick Sale, famous vaudevillian and Follies star, isn't going to hide his light under a bushel any longer, so far as pictures are concerned. He is to make two comedies for Pathe. The first will be filmed immediately back in New York, and will be adapted from a story by Nick Grinde and Sale called "The Big Cheese." Anyhow, Grinde said yesterday the story would be called that unless he and Sale decided the tile offered too great a temptation to the critics.

Nick Grinde is to assist in the direction of the picture, and leaves today for the East.

Hope Hampton Dances

Hope Hampton is to do a Spanish dance in "The Gold Diggers" and to that end is taking an intensive course with Ernest Belcher. She says she doesn't believe she is going to make Elsa Cansino jealous, but she does hope to get by with those critics who expect a poor girl to burst forth into a Pavlowa at a moment's notice.

Strickling as Representative

Howard Strickling, director of publicity at the Metro studio, has left for New York to represent the West Coast studio at the national Metro convention to be held there next week. While there he will outline the production program for the coming season and will exhibit scenes from "Scaramouche," "The Eagle's Feather," "Strangers of the Night" and other pictures now being filmed.

Following the convention he will spend a week in conference with officials of the Metro organization and will return to Hollywood about July 1.

Real Gypsy Stuff

Theodore Kosloff performs the real Tartar native dance in "The Law of the Lawless," the paramount production of Konrad Bercovici's story which is the attraction at Grauman's Metropolitan Theater this week. This is the first time this rare character dance has been shown on an American screen. On the stage, however, the Russian ballet brought over by Serge Diaghiteff performed dances of this nature in "Prince Igor."

All of the Tartar and gypsy dances of "The Law of the Lawless" were staged by Kosloff, who directed his own pupils in these exotic scenes.

Pearl's Husband Is Found

To those anxious souls who have been worrying for the past two years as to what has become of Wallace McCutcheon, Pearl White's former husband, since he dropped out of sight two years ago, we bring comforting news. He has been discovered in Buffalo, according to advices just received, and is pursuing his former calling of electrical engineer. Will Morrissey, well known in musical comedy circles here, discovered him. McCutcheon has been taking part in South American revolutions since last we heard of him, but says he is bored with war.

REAL EGYPT SHOWN IN "BELLA DONNA"

Travelers who have visited Cairo and the lower regions of the Nile will find in Pola Negri's "Bella Donna," which comes to the Alhambra Theater Saturday, more of the real Egypt than they were ever privileged to see during their actual visits.

According to Dudley Stuart Cortlett, technical adviser and Egyptologist, real Egypt can only be found far from the points of contact with European civilization. Insamuch as "Bella Donna" calls for the Egypt of the Egyptians, Corlett has supplied the picture with genuine and little known scenic backgrounds.

"DANGER ROAD" NEW NAME OF "MORPHINE"

Miss Hannah Doyle, 953 South Beacon street, suggesting "The Danger Road," won the contest for a new title for Oscar Apfel's drama, "Morphine," showing at the Egan Theater.

The run of "The Danger Road" will terminate Saturday night. The play will soon be seen in New York under this title, according to Frank Egan. The cast in the local production includes Grace Carlyle, Betty Brice, Harry Hilliard, Herbert Heyes, Roy Watson, Robert Hicks and Robert Fellows.

"BRASS" IN LOCAL PREMIERE SUNDAY

The local premiere of the Warner Brothers' picturization of Charles G. Norris's "Brass" will take place at Loew's State next Sunday.

"Brass" was produced by Harry Rapf, directed by Sidney Franklin, and contains a large cast, including Monte Blue, Marie Prevost, Harry Myers, Miss DuPont, Irene Rich, Pat O'Malley, Frank Keenan, Ethel Grey Terry, Helen Ferguson and others.

MAKES WORLD LAUGH

Lloyd a Popular Comedian in Nearly Every Country

Harold Lloyd makes the world laugh. There is no geographical limit to his fame as a fun maker. His fun is broadcast by smiling miles of silver sheets.

It is said that the comedian, Al Jolson, decided to make screen comedies, but he saw Lloyd and called it off. His one desire is to be known as the "Harold Lloyd of the stage."

England is solid for Lloyd. All through the British Isles he is affectionately called "Winkle." In Spain the laughter starts when his name is thrown on the screen, and all over the house one hears his name spoken, but the Spaniards run the two words into one and call him Haroldlloyd. The Chinese rarely smile, but they laugh heartily over the Lloyd comedies. India is also strong for Harold.

When they see "Safety Last," which is now going strong at both the California and Miller theaters, they are going to be more convinced than ever that he is not only one of the funniest comedians in pictures, but also the most daring.

Maybe She'll Soon Have First Name

Miss DuPont

Player, who is to appear in "Brass" next week at Loew's Theater, is just now in a quandary as to what name she will choose if any, besides Dupont.

Diversified Program by College Men

The Men's Glee Club of the University of Southern California, with Horatio Cogswell as director, appeared in a program Friday evening at Trinity Auditorium, assisted by Olga Steeb, concert pianist and head of the piano department of the university.

The evening's diversion was entertaining, for the program contained a variety of music that showed the splendid training in chorus and part singing which the club has received.

Of the chorus numbers, the encores, which were plentiful, were quite as enjoyable as the programed numbers. They were snappy and full of that wholesome college "pep" which is so necessary to put a program of this order over the footlights. There were a number of short humorous songs that are evidently quite new, or at least unhacknied, and it was these offerings that won the most appreciation and applause from the audience. Among their songs were "Winter Song" (Bullard.) "Birth of Morn" (Leoni.) "Wake Miss Lindy" (Warner.) "Song of the Camp" (Stewart.) and, of course, their "Alma Mater." They evinced good shading, a nice balance of parts and excellent tone quality.

There were also quartet offerings and several solos. Most satisfactory was the splendid singing of Howard Bridegroom, with the club, in "Mandalay." Robert Lackey sang the Pagliacci "Prologue."

Olga Steeb played a group of solos with a brilliance, dash and musicianship that held her listeners spellbound. She put into her playing a warmth and grace that seemed almost new. Her rendition of the Liszt "Un Sospiro" was perfect. "La Campanella" was played with the utmost ease, and yet was extraordinarily scintillant. Albeniz's "Seguidilla" received an interesting tempo rubato treatment that was none the less rhythmic. Miss Steeb responded to several encores.

RECITAL TONIGHT

The annual recital of Hazel Henderson, lyric mezzo, assisted by Annie Timmer, 'cellist, with Rosel Hill at the piano, will be given tonight at the Ebell Clubhouse. The program will start at 8:30 p.m.

PLAYDOM

PLAYLET PREMIERES

SCREEN WRITERS TO OFFER TRIO OF NEW ONES

By Edwin Schallert

Picture players to the number of about a dozen will have a chance to speak their lines so that they can be heard by the audience next Saturday night at the play room of the Screen Writers' Guild. The occasion is the presentation of three one-act plays by members of the guild, all of which are to have their premiere.

The three playlets are as follows: "The Home of the Free," by Elmer L. Rice, in which will appear Charles A. Stevenson, Kate Lester, Irene Rich and Vernon Steele; "Moonlight," by Garrett Elsden Fort, with John Sainpolis, Alphonse Ethier and Clara Horton, and "Eve's Wishbone," by Edward J. Montague, with James Morrison, J. Kyrle MacCurdy and Theodore Von Eltz.

Will Expand Soon

Expansion of the Grand Pictures Corporation to include several feature units is anticipated. Two of these will be headed by stars and one will be a special unit. The increase in activity will probably occur within about a month.

At the present time the company is making comedies, in which the principals are Monte Banks, Sid Smith and Joe Rock, and are releasing in conjunction with the Ben Wilson Productions, which are to begin work shortly on a film called "The Love Trap," in which Bryant Washburn and Mabel Forrest (Mrs. Washburn) are to be featured. The Wilson productions have just completed a film called "Mine to Keep."

The comedy directors of the Grand studios include Alf Goulding, Grover Jones, Gil Pratt, Hugh Fay, Archie Mayo, Harry Edwards and Herman Raymaker, and the leading women appearing in the comedies are Lois Boyd, Duane Thompson and Billie Rhodes.

Weather Delays

Owing to cloudy weather, exteriors of the Spanish town which has been built for "In the Palace of the King" will not be photographed until the end of this week. The schedule is now Friday. The company, which includes Blanche Sweet, Edmund Lowe, Pauline Starke, Aileen Pringle, Hobart Bosworth, Sam De Grasse, William V. Mong and others has been working on interiors.

Victory For Wets

A lot of agony is being endured by the principals in "The Master of Man," from the Hall Caine story, which Victor Seastrom is directing for the Goldwyn organization. In practically every interior scene that Mae Busch and Joseph Schildkraut have been in thus far, they have to appear as if drenched by rain.

Instead of waiting for any real rain to fall, they step out on the lawn and are unceremoniously doused with a garden hose by the property man. Miss Busch has consequently found it necessary at times to be wet both inside and out to be comfortable.

"The other night as a result when I went in the projection room," she said, exuberantly, as is Mae's way, "I had an impression that they had used two cameras on the scene instead of one."

Syd Chaplin Keeps Busy

Sydney Chaplin has apparently settled his future temporarily as a player in the feature dramas. Immediately following his playing in "The Rendesvous," which Marshall Neilan is directing, in which he appears as an English soldier, he is to accept another role at the Pnited Studios.

"THE SPAT FAMILY" COMEDY SERIES TITLE

"The Spat Family" will be the title of a series of ten two-reel comedies to be produced by the Hal Roach Productions in Culver City. Frank Butler, Sidney D'Albrook and Marie Mosquini are the featured players in the first production, which already has been completed under title of "Roughing It." The second of the series will feature Butler, D'Albrook and Laura Roessing, last seen in "The Call of the Wild." Frank Pembroke will direct.

LAW GETS GIRL IN ALFORD CASE

Star Witness for Convicted Ontario Manager Indicted

Miss Erma Lamson Charged With Perjury at Trial

Testified Hearing Immunity Promise for $5000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 6. — Miss Erma Lamson, star witness for the defense in the trial of Fred E. Alford, just completed here, was indicted today by a grand jury which had given the entire day over to an investigation of the case.

Miss Lamson is charged with false testimony during the Alford trial, which involved Charles Latimer, trustee of Ontario, and Assemblyman Isaac Jones, former City Attorney of the same city.

Alford was convicted recently of embezzlement of funds belonging to Ontario, asserted to have been accomplished while he was manager of the city. He has been sentenced to serve from two to twenty years in the penitentiary.

During the trial Miss Lamson, who at the time the embezzlement was said to have been accomplished was private secretary to Alford, testified that she overheard a conversation between Trustee Latimer and Alford in which incriminating statements were made. Her testimony was climaxed in the statement that she heard Latimer say he would furnish complete immunity for Alford in the event he produced "$5000 for me and $5000 for Ike."

She attempted to introduce shorthand notes to support her testimony, but was prevented by attorneys for the State. City Marshal Hardy and other witnesses offered evidence to disprove statements of Miss Lamson.

Since the Alford episode Miss Lamson has been employed as a stenographer at the Chaffee Union High School in Ontario, and was dismissed from the position last Friday. According to statements made by Miss Lamson, she was let go "because of activity in behalf of Mr. Alford."

It was brought out during the trial that Miss Lamson made her home in the Alford residence during the time she was employed in Mr. Alford's office.

LONG BEACH PLEASED BY BOND ACTION

City Manager Sees Impetus Given Channel Program in Election Result

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 6. — The success of the harbor bond proposal at the Los Angeles municipal election yesterday will give great impetus to the program for developing and improving Long Beach Harbor, in the opinion of City Manager Windham.

With the issuance of bonds for improving Los Angeles Harbor assured as a result of the vote yesterday, co-operation between the two cities in deepening the connecting channel between their harbors is certain, he said.

The Union Pacific Railroad system and the Long Beach Harbor interests are behind the plan to deepen the channel to a uniform depth of thirty feet, and this work will be followed immediately by operations to bring all of the channels and basins in the inner harbor to the same uniform depth.

As rapidly as the channel is deepened, Mr. Windham believes, industries will settle along the harbor, increasing the city's tax income to a point more than sufficient to offset the expenditures for this work.

Bids will be opened by the city tomorrow for the dredging of the connecting channel to a depth of twenty-five feet. The channel will be deepened through the turning basin to the municipal dock at the head of channel No. 3. The deepening will be confined to the south side of the channel and the work is expected to cost approximately $100,000 and to be completed in about six months.

Oklahoma's Oil Queen on Stand at Theft Trial

Miss Maude Banks, known as the oil queen of Oklahoma, took the stand in Judge Shenk's court yesterday to testify in the grand larceny case against H. H. Foster and his wife, Mrs. Rena Foster, who served as butler and maid in the Banks home near Arcadia. The couple are charged with stealing household furnishings valued at $1000 while Miss Banks was away on a visit.

Miss Banks intimated on the stand that she had delayed prosecution for several months because some one had told her that she would be subject to blackmail or a damage suit in case she did prosecute. She did not attribute the asserted threats to any person.

The robbery of the home occurred February 6, 1922. When Miss Banks returned from her visit, she discovered that several pieces of furniture and a quantity of household goods had been taken.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Orme is prosecuting the case and Attorney D. S. Stafford is representing the defendants. The case will be continued today.

TONG WAR SEEN; CASE DELAYED

Detective Tells Pasadena Judge He May be Relieved of Trying Action

[By a "Times" Staff Correspondent.]

PASADENA, June 6.—"Your honor, I understand there is a tong war coming on. If this case is postponed thirty days you may be relieved of the necessity of trying this defendant."

With these words Detective Belt of the Pasadena police department obtained an adjournment before Police Judge Dunham today of the case of F. Wong, accused of running a gambling-house. Wong was arrested last night by raiders at Raymond avenue and Pico street. He gave $500 bail for trial, and did not appear worried about the tong war.

UNFROCKED MINISTER IS GIVEN POST

Fresno German Church Defies State Association by Electing Pastor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, June 6.—Though he was recently unfrocked by the California State Association of the German Congregational Church Conference, Rev. C. W. Wolter of Orange Cove, will be given the pastorate of the Third Congregational Church of Fresno. This church is a member of the association and its action in engaging Wolter is in defiance of the State body's action.

Wolter was convicted at a hearing here on charges of intoxication, prevarication, disregard for action taken by the conference and leading a life unbecoming to a minister of the gospel. He was deposed from the ministry and his name was ordered stricken from the list of Congregational clergymen.

Previously the Third Church here had selected him as its pastor. Last night this action was reaffirmed by a vote of 30 to 5, at a general meeting of the congregation. He is to take charge of the church July 1.

PROMINENT KERN MAN SUCCUMBS

E. E. Rankin of Bakersfield Dies Following Operation at Hospital

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, June 6. — Following a long illness, E. H. Rankin, member of one of Kern county's pioneer families, passed away early this morning at a local hospital. While he had been in poor health for some time, Mr. Rankin's health was not critical until yesterday, when he was rushed to the hospital to undergo a serious operation.

Mr. Rankin was the fourth son of the late Walker Rankin, pioneer cattleman of the Walker's Basin district, and Lavinia Rankin of 2023 California avenue. He was born at the family home in Walker's Basin in 1876 and was reared and educated in this county. He was a nephew of A. T. Lightner of this city.

Besides his mother, Mr. Rankin leaves five brothers and his wife. The brothers, who are all well known in the cattle industry of the West, are as follows: Charles W., Warren A., Leroy, Jesse and Walker, Jr.

Mr. Rankin, for many years engaged in the cattle business in the mountain district, his lands adjoining holdings of his father and brothers. Some years ago he purchased the Towne ranch in the Weed Patch district and established his home there. The Towne ranch has long been one of the show places of the county and it is one of the largest holdings in the State.

The funeral will be Friday.

FAMOUS RANCHO IS TO BE SUBDIVIDED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, June 6.—Maps have been presented to the County Supervisors for a subdivision on the Conejo, at Little Portrero Lake, on the Matthiesen ranch, to be known as the Upson tract. The site is to be used for a country club. The county will be asked to abandon the road now leading through it and build a new one. The promoters of the tract would co-operate with the Supervisors in such an undertaking. No decision has been reached. There is also to be another subdivision made shortly at Hueneme, the old seaport town. The Island Vista Tract Company has filed map and bond for this purpose with the Supervisors.

RETURNS FROM EAST

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 6.—F. W. Lindsley has just returned from St. Paul, Minn., where he was called as a witness in a case before the Supreme Court. He visited his home town of Jackson, and says that conditions there seem to be "deader" than he had ever before seen them; that the district is an agricultural one and that the farmers are complaining of the prices they are receiving.

SEAPLANES IN RECORD FLIGHT

Navy Airmen Wrest Honors From English Corps

World Endurance and Weight Marks Shattered

Eyes of Aviation Circles Rest on San Diego

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, June 6.—Two world seaplane records, held for several years by the British flying corps, were shattered this morning by United States Navy airmen of North Island. Early this afternoon it was apparent from the way several planes were soaring over the city and harbor that other records would be claimed by the naval air service.

Lieut. M. A. Schur, flying a Douglas-Davis plane, smashed the two records. He will attempt to continue in the air for thirteen hours.

At noon Lieut. Schur had flown 465.30 miles. Unless engine or other trouble developed, it was certain he would establish a seaplane distance record that will stand for some time.

One flight around the course was enough to convince observers that Lieuts. Earl Brix, Arthur Billings and Robert L. Fuller had set new seaplane performance marks when they successfully carried varied loads over a prescribed distance. Brix carried 250 kilos, Billings 500 and Fuller, 1000.

For many weeks the Navy flyers have been preparing for this great program, which is intended to bring to the naval branch of seaplane aviation the same standing as that already won by Army air service fliers in airplanes.

The program lasts several days with the most important events to begin tomorrow. It will have the attention of aviation circles of the world because this is the first time seaplanes have been entered in international or national competitions.

Finish Plan for Street Cars to Move in Groups

At a conference of Los Angeles and Pacific Electric Railway officials, Capt. James McDowell of the police traffic bureau and Charles W. Gregg of the Automobile Club public safety department, yesterday afternoon, arrangements for the group movement of street cars at downtown intersections were completed.

The group movement is to be established next Tuesday, on recommendation of Capt. McDowell. Street cars will make only one stop in safety zones, then proceed with the traffic signal and cross the intersection without a second stop. Passengers will be asked to board and alight where the car stops.

Eliminating the second stop in the safety zones is expected by police and street railway officials to save passengers considerable time and speed up general traffic movement.

ORANGE GRADUATION

Hundred and Ten Students at High School to Get Diplomas

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ORANGE, June 6.—One hundred and ten students, the largest graduation class in the history of Orange High School, will receive their diplomas at commencement exercises to be held in the new auditorium next Wednesday evening, it was announced today.

The commencement program, starting at 8:15 o'clock, will open with an organ prelude, followed by the invocation, music by the boys' glee club and then the address to the graduating class by the Rev. I. Frank Roach of Long Beach.

Dr. Roach, it was announced, will speak on "The Call of Tomorrow to the Youth of Today." The class will be presented and honors awarded by Principal F. A. Henderson. E. W. Bolinger, member of the School Board, will present the diplomas.

PASADENA TO VOTE ON CIVIC CENTER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 6.—Polls will open here at 6 a.m. tomorrow for a special election to determine whether $3,500,000 in bonds shall be issued by the city for the creation of a civic center. The civic center is to consist of three buildings, a municipal auditorium, library and City Hall. The voters will also determine the location of the new civic center if the bond issue carries, as the ballot contains a second proposal to determine whether the plan outlined by the Planning Commission shall be adopted or another site chosen.

DENIES HABEAS CORPUS TO VANCOUVER LAWYER

Judge Trippet yesterday denied the writ of habeas corpus in behalf of George Zimmerman, attorney, who is wanted in Vancouver, B. C., on a charge of securing money under false pretenses. The case is pending before Commissioner Long on removal proceedings, and the matter was referred back to the commissioner for final action. If there is any fault with any order that official may make, the court will take up the matter later.

WHITTIER COLLEGE CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

Graduates to Present "Sunken Bell" Monday Evening

Scene in Allegory

One of the situations portrayed in senior class production at Whittier.

WHITTIER, June 6. — "The Sunken Bell," by Hauptmann, to be presented by members of the graduating class of Whittier College next Monday evening, is perhaps one of the most ambitious undertakings by the senior class in a number of year. The play is an allegory.

The amphitheater, where the play will be given, is ideal for such a production, calling as it does for an out-door setting. The stage is a mass of ornamental shrubs, backed by pines, acacia and eucalyptus trees.

Miss Kathryn Veale, as Rautendelein is most consistently cast, being of the blond, petetite type, usually associated with the part. Willard Kramar takes the part of Heinrich, the bell founder. Harry Brownson is the wood sprite and Merritt Bundy the water sprite, the two characters intended to bring out, by contrast, the ideals and the strivings after perfection which is experienced by the bell founder.

The play depicts Heinrich as a type of humanity struggling to do perfect work. He is helped by Rautendelein, the spirit of perfection in nature. He is opposed by the water sprite and the wood sprite, as types of doubt and lust; also by the vicar and the schoolmaster, who stand for the conventions of society. He severs his home ties and sacrifices the love of his wife and children, devoting himself completely to his work. Even then perfection is unattainable, but as he drinks the cup of death, he sees the sun rising.

Prof. H. E. Harris, head of the department of dramatic expression at Whittier College is coaching the cast, which is about letter perfect, and the costuming, much of which was prepared by the woman's auxiliary of Whittier College, is about completed.

CULINARY WORKERS STRIKE

Union Cooks and Waitresses in Fresno Hotel Quit on Refusal to Discharge Chinese

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, June 6.—Because the management of the Hughes Hotel refused to discharge a Chinaman employed for the last nine years in the kitchen, the local cooks' and waiters' union yesterday called out twelve waitresses and two pantrymen on strike.

J. Racovich, business manager of the union, said:

"We do not allow union members to work alongside Chinese and as long as Chinese are employed in the kitchen at the Hughes, no union people will be allowed to work there."

WAGES ARE SCALE

"Chinese have been employed in the kitchen here for twenty-six years," said Manager F. M. Williams of the hotel, today, "and I can't see the reason for this radical change. The waitresses did not go on a strike; they were merely called out. I have always paid union wages and will continue to do so.

"When this affair happened yesterday, Racovich and J. J. O'Brien, secretary of the culinary workers' union, came to my office with a contract to sign. It contained a clause declaring that no Chinese could work with union labor. I refused to sign and they gave me until noon to fire and hire a new crew. I refused to do this and the forces were called out."

AGREEMENT TOLD

According to union members an agreement to employ Chinese was reached between the union and the management of the Hughes Hotel some years ago, the pact to hold as long as the Chinese employed at the time of signing the agreement remained on the pay roll of the hotel. Since then one Chinese has died; another has returned to China and the third is still being employed by Manager Williams.

"No intimation of this pact has ever been given to me," Manager Williams declared today. The Chinese now employed has been here nine years."

DEMAND SMOKING BAN

Pasadena Students, Teachers Ask Upholding of Ordinance

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 6.—A petition bearing the names of 1700 students and teachers of the Pasadena High School was filed with the City Board of Directors yesterday, demanding that the ordinance relating to the use of tobacco be more rigorously enforced. The petition also demands that a new ordinance prohibiting tobacco advertisements on billboards also be adopted. It is understood that many of the students have been smoking on the campus in violation of the law and that this caused the filing of the petition.

BURBANK CLUB WILL GIVE CLOSING FETE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, June 6.—The Burbank Woman's Club will give a banquet for members and their husbands Tuesday, the 26th inst., in the social hall of the Methodist Church, as the closing function of the club year. Plans were started and committees appointed at the luncheon given for the board of directors of the club at the home of Mrs. H. E. Woods, North Olive avenue, today. A reception for Tuesday afternoon has been arranged to honor the new members who came in this year, of whom there are more than fifty. Invitations were issued today for the "at home," which will be held in the clubrooms.

LONG BEACH TO HAVE BRAND-NEW CITY JAIL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 6.—The ramshackle pine board structure which has served as a police station and City Jail here for many years is to be deserted on July 1, it was announced today. On that date the police department will move to modern quarters on the main floor of the new City Hall, the seventh and eighth floors of which are to be used for a City Jail. The police courts will be located on the sixth floor.

HOLD-UP MEN STRIKE AND ROB VICTIM

Beaten Over Head by Auto Bandits Who Take Money and Escape in Machine

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, June 6.—Automobile bandits made their appearance here at 12:30 o'clock this morning, when Earl James, 894 Williams street, of this city, was ordered to stop his car just after he had taken Miss Dorothy Gilbert to her home in Claremont. Young James had just left the Gilbert residence on his way home when the two bandits, in a late model roadster, leveled guns at him and ordered him to stop.

He complied, and the two bandits climbed onto the running board of the machine. Without warning, one of the men struck him on the head with a "billy," rendering him unconscious. A short while after the robbery James made his way back to the Gilbert home in a dazed condition and was given medical attention immediately and police notified.

James and Miss Gilbert had attended a show in this city in the early evening, and in buying his tickets the former had displayed a roll of bills. He stated that at the time he noticed two men show considerable interest in the transaction and believes that they later laid for him. He was robbed of about $30.

POMONA SINGER IN NATIONAL CONTEST

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

CLAREMONT, June 6.—Paul Russell of the Pomona College department of music is en route for Asheville, N. C., where he will enter the national singing contest conducted under the auspices of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Russell won the Pacific Coast division contest several weeks ago in Los Angeles and it is believed that he has an even chance of winning in the national contest. The preliminary contest will be held on the 9th inst., and the final on the 11th. Winners will give a concert in Asheville on the 13th.

HOLD BODY OF SEA VICTIM

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 6.—The body of Victor Goodpasture, one of the three men drowned in Redondo Beach Sunday afternoon when they rescued Dorothy and Loretta Klein, has been placed in an undertaking establishment in Redondo, where it will be held for a few days in the hopes that the other bodies, those of Ernst Goodpasture and W. M. Lyon, will be washed ashore. The Misses Klein have entirely recovered from the effects of their experience.

BATTLE FLAMES ON SHIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, June 6. — Capt. Martinovich of the gasoline schooner Mary S. reported today that while on its way up the coast from Ensenada last night the schooner caught fire and the crew fought the flames most of the way up. The Mary S. carried a cargo of 100 hogs, which nearly became roast pork and bacon before the crew got control of the fire.

TO ENTERTAIN KIWANIANS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, June 6.—Kiwanis Clubs of the San Fernando Valley will be entertained by the Burbank Kiwanis Club next Wednesday noon at luncheon at the Goodfellow's Club. Arrangements were completed for the affair at the regular Wednesday midweek business luncheon. The club has voted to send five boys to the Boy Scout camp at Lake Arrowhead when the other Burbank boys go for a ten day outing.

SKIPPER DODGES SEA RUM RULING

Drops Wet Cargo at Ensenada; Will Pick it up on Outbound Voyage

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, June 6.—The Mexican States liner Oaxaca, which put into port here today from Salina Cruz, avoided trouble with officers enforcing the prohibition amendment, by stopping at Ensenada. The Oaxaca had a large bar well stocked with liquors. Hearing that United States would not allow the bar to be sealed at the three-mile limit, the commander of the Oaxaca had the bar stock all put ashore at Ensenada, where they will be picked up when the Oaxaca makes her return trip from San Francisco.

SHERIFF IN CONTEMPT, SUIT AVERS

Deputies and Business Men Charged With Violation of Court Order

Sheriff Traeger, three of his deputies and two Long Beach business men were charged with contempt of court in a suit heard yesterday by Judge Clock of the Superior Court. The court will render its decision today.

The suit was brought by Willard L. Goodwin, receiver for three wells in the Signal Hill field. It was charged that Sheriff Traeger and the other men named had violated the court's order putting the wells in the hands of a receiver by removing a boiler and some equipment from one of the wells.

Sheriff Traeger, however, declared that the property was removed under a claim and delivery action before the receiver was appointed and that his deputies were in possession of the property when it was removed.

The three deputies named are Juan Murietta, Robert Gill and H. B. Smith. S. L. Pugh and W. N. Miller, oil-equipment contractors of Long Beach, also are named.

Friendless Recluse in Death Develops Numerous Relatives

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, June 6.—News stories telling of the death of Dr. John J. Locher, "mystery man" of Poplar, who lived alone in a shack with five dogs for company, in a local hospital some weeks ago, and efforts to find relatives and heirs to the estimated $200,000 estate, are still bringing messages from people of that name, although he died without kith or kin or even a close friend to mourn his loss. Fred Locher, cartoonist of New York City, is the latest inquirer. He has wired one of the local dailies for information, stating that his grandfather's brother who came from Switzerland bore the same name as the deceased. J. M. Hadley, Coroner of Tulare county, is administrator of the estate, and is investigating inquiries.

NEWPORT HARBOR BONDS PLANNED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, June 6.—Another large bond issue for the further development of Newport Harbor may be submitted to Orange county voters within the near future, it was disclosed today, when members of the harbor commission now preparing their final report of work accomplished to date, stated they would recommend in their report another bond issue and estimated $1,000,000 more was needed to expand present harbor facilities. Members of the harbor commission, all of whom, it is said, will indorse the bonding proposal, are Linn L. Shaw, Santa Ana; K. E. Watson, Orange; A. S. Bradford, Placentia; J. A. Armitage, Sunset Beach and Lew H. Wallace, Newport Beach.

SANTA MONICA, June 6.—G. Gonbalez was arrested last night on a charge of disturbing the peace, after having threatened to strike a motorist, the wind wing of whose car he had broken. It is asserted that Gonbalez, who lives at Twenty-first street and Virginia avenue, also beat his wife. He is being held in the local jail.

Mummified Cat With Whiskers Intact Is Found

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

UPLAND, June 6.—A mummified cat with whiskers intact was being displayed today by John Dawson Howe, Upland orange grower. Although Mr. Howe at first announced that the ancient feline had come from the tomb of King Tut it developed that the petrified carcass was unearthed from the basement of an old house at Eighteenth street and Euclid avenue, built some thirty-five years ago by the late Capt. Jose Garcia, and now being torn down to be replaced by a handsome Spanish type dwelling for the Howes.

Old-time residents of this section have ventured the opinion that Tabby wondered into the old sea captain's cellar, which had the reputation of being one of the "six best" in the early days, and lapped up a vintage with such a powerful kick that it immediately became embalmed and turned into a mummy.

Although the mummified body of the ancient cat is devoid of fur it is otherwise in a state of perfect preservations even to the whiskers.

CANYON SITE BOUGHT BY SCOUTS FOR CABIN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 6.—Members of Boy Scout Troop, No. 5, have obtained a tract of ground in Eaton's Canyon, between Mt. Lowe and Mt. Wilson, and will erect a cabin within the next few days under the direction of Scout Master Case. It is their first intention to put up a kitchen, and when the remaining unit is erected it will contain places for twenty-four Scouts, who will sleep in double bunks. There will be a fireplace and a number of tables. The boys will spend their week-ends there.

HAPPY VALLEY FEUD NEAR

Old Quarrel Reopening as Result of Killing of Negro Leader at Los Angeles Harbor

Happy Valley was on the edge of its first factional fight in nearly two years last night. The killing of John Hardin, negro leader of a clique frequenting the port's tenderloin district, following a restaurant row in the center of Los Angeles Harbor's business district, Tuesday night, may result in the reopening of a feud which has already been responsible for the shooting of four Happy Valley residents, the police declare.

E. B. Frances, itinerant electrician, arrested a moment after he is asserted to have shot and killed Hardin and seriously wounded two bystanders, was early yesterday removed to Central Station as a precautionary measure.

PRISONER CALM

Friends of Frances are said to have told the police that bad feeling existed between the prisoner, who also resided in Happy Valley, and the gang of which Hardin was the leader. Frances, however, yesterday denied ever having seen the dead man before the altercation in the restaurant. He was remarkably calm, and evinced no interest in the condition of the other two men who were wounded in the fight.

George H. Fisher, longshoreman living at 432 Harbor Boulevard, yesterday afternoon identified Frances as the man who fired the shots when confronted by the prisoner at the County Hospital. Fisher, with a bullet in his abdomen, is said to have but slight chance for recovery.

Gus Wilson, a seaman residing at 317 South Mesa street, will recover from the wound in his shoulder, it was announced yesterday by Dr. A. J. Langan, police surgeon. The bullet which struck Wilson was intended for John Frilingos, Greek proprietor of the restaurant in which the row took place, witnesses of the shooting told Detective Lieutenant A. J. Farrell yesterday.

Frilingos told Lieut. Farrell that he attempted to disarm Frances after the first shot was fired, and that he turned the gun on him and fired two more shots. Frilingos dodged into the entrance of a shop, one of the two bullets striking Wilson in the shoulder, the other hitting Fisher. Frances is then said to have turned to Hardin, writhing on the sidewalk with a bullet in his groin, and shot the negro with his two remaining shells, one bullet entering the heart, the other passing through his right arm. Hardin died en route to Hillside Hospital in a police ambulance.

Frances has a wife and daughter, he told the police, living at Norton, Va., and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Mulvey, residing at 505 Andrews Boulevard, this city. Since coming to Los Angeles Harbor, six months ago, he has been in the employ of the Bureau of Light and Power at the port.

justed. A dirty bath towel was forced into his mouth and his hands and feet were bound with lengths of cloth. He had been stripped to the waist. Then he was lashed to the whipping post with cable wire which enmeshed him from head to feet.

"Now we will go to work on you!" said one of the masked men.

Sanceri was taunted about the painful death that was to be his. He was told that he was to be killed. A confession of his part in the Jolly case was demanded. But Sanceri said he was innocent.

A heavy cable hissed through the air, descended upon his bare back. The blood flowed. Other men equiped themselves with strands of cable. All of them began to beat him severely. The tangled wire ends of the cables tore ugly gashes in Sanceri's flesh. One man used a belt with a heavy buckle. It broke two of Sanceri's ribs.

It was a solemn sort of ritual, none of the floggers uttering a word except to occasionally demand a confession. Not less than fifty strokes were laid upon Sanceri's back and sides. The flogging ceased and the victim, writhing in pain, recognized one of his assailants when the blindfold slipped. Then he recognized a second one. He knew both of them well and identified them as two men interested in the case of Astres city. One of them struck him viciously on the jaw. Another struck him a painful blow in the eye, blinding him.

"Here goes your death!" said another, striking Sanceri on the head with the butt of a revolver.

Sanceri remembers no more of the night of terror. The flogging began before midnight. He regained consciousness as dawn was breaking over the eastern mountains. Though in terrific pain and covered with blood he remained motionless, fearing that some of the masked men lurked in the brush to complete their task if he regained consciousness.

He saw the lights of a dozen cities sparkling far below his feet. Then at daybreak he began chewing on the cloth gag in his mouth. He could not spit out the fragments, so he swallowed them. Severing the gag, he then labored to free his hands, succeeding in doing so after many torturing minutes. Next he liberated himself from the mesh of wire and rags that bound him to the whipping post.

On his chest, pinned to one of the strips of cloth with which he had been bound, was a sheet of paper. It held about 600 words of typewritten matter, "Oath of Allegiance to American Womanhood."

"This is a warning," it stated, "to all men and boys in Los Angeles or who plan to come to Los Angeles that all attacks on women and girls have got to stop! Slick-haired, perfume-drinking, drunken fiends who haunt public dance halls and skulk through dark streets, seeking little girls and women to assault, will meet the same fate and have a chance to answer to God for their crime."

It carried threats of torture and lynching to fiends who attack women and children. It called public officials "cowardly weaklings."

SWEAR VENGEANCE

"We raise our arms and clenched fists this night in a new national oath—the oath of allegiance to American womanhood! Defame it if you dare and you will meet your Maker before dawn!

"This man has paid with his life and so will every character or fiend who attacks a girl. Violate this warning and pay the penalty this cur has paid."

The unusual document was signed:

"Committee of ex-Service Men—who fought for American mothers and sisters in France and will fight for them in America."

Sanceri tore the warning from his breast. Clutching it in his hand he staggered down the road and found his way to the foot of the mountain. Once he stopped and hid in the weeds for an hour. Again, he sought aid at mountain cabins, but could arouse no one. He stumbled for many more miles to Laurel Canyon and for another long mile along Hollywood Boulevard to a street-car line. His body, slashed and bleeding, was bared to the waist. His money had been stolen by the masked raiders, but a kindly conductor permitted him to ride on the car. And he finally found his way homeward, where his brother Jim dressed his wounds, took him to the Receiving Hospital and then to Central Police Station.

Sanceri has but one thought now. That is his hope of meeting his assailants in the courtroom at his trial next Tuesday.

BURGLARIES IN MAY SET NEW MARK

Total of 1107 Reported as Compared With 725 in 1922

Burglaries in May reached a new high mark for Los Angeles, with a total of 1107, according to a report made yesterday by Police Statistician Lyons. There were only 725 in May, 1922, and 900 in April of this year.

Police activities also registered a large increase, 129 asserted burglars being arrested, as compared with 105 in April.

Of the stores robbed eight kept radio supplies, eight were drug stores and nineteen, tobacco establishments. Fifty attempted burglaries were frustrated by police.

There were eighty-five hold-ups in May, as compared with sixty-seven in the same month in 1922. Thirty-two men were arrested as hold-up suspects.

Thirty-six persons reported their pockets had been picked, twenty-eight on street cars, six in department stores and two in alleys.

There were no bunko games reported to police in May.

WOOLWINE QUITS AS PROSECUTOR

Failing Health is Given as Reason for Act

Career as District Attorney Was Spectacular

Record Shows Long Fight Against Crime

torney, Mr. Keyes, and others, Mr Woolwine carried out the prosecutions of Schmidt and Caplan for the dynamiting of The Times Building in 1910. He prosecuted ex-Mayor Frederick T. Woodman for agreeing to and receiving a bribe, but the latter was acquitted. Schmidt and Caplan were convicted. He prosecuted numerous bunko cases, prominent among them being those of Everett E. (Big Hutch) Hutchings, Fred Mayne and Otis B. Berry, all of whom have been convicted. More than fifty I.W.W. cases have been prosecuted by Mr. Woolwine, with twenty-seven cases still pending. Other important cases included those of Harry New, Mrs. Louise L. Peete, Arthur Burch and Madalynne Obenchain, Clara Phillips, the so-called "bread trust" and "milk trust" cases, the Ku Klux Klan cases, Witt and Oxnam, convicted of murder, the sugar trust cases, which were taken before the United States Senate by Mr. Woolwine, the Lipps and Anderson cases and alien land law cases taken before the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Woolwine issued the following statement, which he gave to the Board of Supervisors with his resignation:

"The people have, one three occasions, honored me with their suffrage by making me District Attorney of Los Angeles county. For this vote of confidence I have always felt a most profound and sincere gratitude. In turn, it has been my constant endeavor to serve them faithfully and well. In my great desire to carry out my oath of office, I have overworked and taxed my constitution to a point where I have become physically unable to give the affairs of the District Attorney's office that vigorous and conscientious treatment that I hope has characterized my official life.

FAR FROM WELL

"I have not been a well man for some months and my physical condition has grown worse as the time passed. I have often made the statement that I had a wrought-iron constitution, but have found that human constitutions are not made of iron. A very serious condition has finally shown itself, resulting in a rather alarming stomach and digestive trouble accompanied by severe hemorrahges of the stomach and intestines. I have been informed by several physicians that to remain in office under the strain necessarily incident to my official duties might result in my death and certainly would make it impossible for me to ever recover. On the other hand, I am informed that, if I lead a quiet life, free from care and worry, my restoration to health would be assured, owing to my strong constitution.

So the situation having resulted in a matter of life and death there is no course open to me but that of relinquishing my official duties, which is only fair to the public and to myself and family. I feel no hesitancy in leaving this powerful office in the hands of Mr. Asa Keyes, who has served the county with signal ability and integrity for a great number of years. After a long rest, it is, of course, my intention to enter private practice of the law.

"Again I wish to assure the people of Los Angeles county of my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation of their suffrage and the confidence reposed in me."

ALSO AUTHOR

Although known best as the Los Angeles District Attorney, Mr. Woolwine has also gained a name as an author and magazine writer. He is the author of "In the Valley of the Shadows," a novel.

Mr. Keyes, the new District Attorney, entered the office on January 1, 1903. He was recently appointed chief deputy upon the resignation of William G. Doran, now a Superior Court judge. Mr. Keyes was associated with Mr. Woolwine in most of the important cases mentioned and for the last few years has handled most of the important prosecutions. Mr. Keyes stated he was not certain whom he will appoint as his chief deputy. Mr. Keyes has gained a name, in addition to that of a prosecutor, as a golfer, his stroke being from 86 to 95. He is also a champion billiard player, taking these hobbies as diversions.

KEYES'S STATEMENT

Mr. Keyes issued the following statement:

"The Board of Supervisors has just appointed me to the position of District Attorney of Los Angeles county, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Thomas Lee Woolwine, who for a number of years has been the District Attorney.

"I appreciate fully the responsibilities assumed by me in accepting this appointment. From my many years' service in the office of District Attorney as deputy I have become familiar with all branches of the work of the office and know what the burdens and responsibilities of the head of the department are.

"I shall use my best endeavors to serve the people of this county as their District Attorney and will do my utmost to maintain the highest standard of efficiency possible and to merit the confidence of the Board of Supervisors in appointing me to this responsible position.

"The great increase in population of our county has brought with it its proportionate increase in crime. Society can only be protected from the criminal by the officers of the law selected for that purpose. I shall use my utmost endeavors to give the people of this county all protection from the criminals that it is within my power and the power of this office to do."

SOUTHLAND ORDER OF DE MOLAY TO CONVENE

THIRTY CHAPTERS WILL MEET IN LOS ANGELES ON 20TH INST.

The first conclave of the thirty chapters of the Order of De Molay in Southern California will begin here the 20th inst. at 10:30 a.m. in the rooms of the Southern California Chapter, Twenty-fourth and Union streets. The organization, composed of the sons of Masons and their friends between the ages of 16 and 21 years, has sixty-seven chapters in the State. About 1000 delegates are expected.

Among subjects for discussion at the conclave are the establishment of dormitories at colleges and of scholarship funds.

Marshall Stewart, founder of the order in Southern California, will open the conclave and the business session will occupy the morning. A cup will be presented to Alhambra Chapter, winner of the State basketball championship. Following luncheon at 12:30 an afternoon session will be conducted at Hollywood Chapter, at which officers will be elected. After a sightseeing trip, dinner will be served at 6 p.m. A parade will precede the evening session, at which Frank S. Land, Grand Scribe, and founder of the order, will be present.

Besides the United States, chapters of the order have been established in Canada, Panama, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and arrangements are being made to establish it in Europe at the invitation of the Grand Lodge of Scotland.

SAYS CONDUCTOR HIT HER; ASKS DAMAGES

Because, she says, a street-car conductor slapped her face, Mrs. Susanna Martin yesterday filed suit for $5000 damages against the Los Angeles Street Railway Company. Mrs. Martin avers that she had a little passage at words with the conductor, whom she does not name, and that he said he was tired of seeing her ride on his car. She declares he insisted she had not put her fare in the box and still owed the company 5 cents. One word led to another, she states, and, she says, the argument concluded when the conductor slapped her face.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS IN CONVENTION TODAY

The thirteenth annual convention of district attorneys of California will open today at Yosemite Lodge, Yosemite Valley. Atty.-Gen. Webb; G. W. Hoyle, president of the District Attorneys' Association; Rowan Hardin, Jesse W. Carter and Nick Harris, detective, will be speakers. Harris will lecture on "Why Crime Doesn't Pay." Carter's topic is enforcement of State and Federal prohibition laws. Trips to points of interest in the valley will be made under the guidance of Lewis T. Milburn.

CATALINA CABLE TO BE LAID SOON

Government Ship to Perform Task Arrives Saturday

New Service Will Be Opened the 15th Inst.

Line to Be One of Largest of Kind in World

The government cable ship Delwood will arrive in Los Angeles Harbor Saturday to lay a submarine cable across the twenty-five miles of water between Wilmington and Avalon, Catalina Island. Start of actual laying of the underwater line marks a milestone in the evolution of telephone and telegraphic transmission, in that it will be one of the longest submarine cables of the type ever laid in the world, according to Fred W. Smith, harbor manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, owner of the proposed cable line.

Interest of the engineering world will be directed toward the bridging of the twenty-five-mile section of the Pacific which will give direct communication with the island, now obtained only by radio. Preparations to lay the line have been going on for six months, it was said. Engineers of the Western Electric Company's Hawthorne (Ill.) plant spent six months at Wilmington making investigations.

Service over the new line will start on the 15th inst., it was announced. The cable ship will be able to complete laying the line by Sunday night. The cost of construction and installation will be approximately $145,000.

The cable will be of a new type which is known as one-wire phantom system of relays. It will be in two lines of single wires, each two inches in diameter and laid one mile apart, meeting at the shore ends. The advanced construction of the cable makes it possible to have seven circuits in one two-inch cable line, instead of one circuit for each wire as in other cable lines.

The cable ship will start work Saturday close to the breakwater at Wilmington and will lay the lines to within 2000 feet off the shore of Catalina. Connections at each shore end have been made and are waiting on laying of the undersea line. Two splices will be made in the cable at sea, one twelve miles off Los Angeles Harbor and one a mile from Avalon.

Soundings for the line were made last year by the Coast and Geodetic Survey steamer Pioneer. It was determined at this survey that the average depth of the channel between Los Angeles and Catalina Island is 3600 feet.

First communication with Avalon was obtained in 1913 when the Marconi Wireless Company instituted service. Five years later the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company started wireless telephone communication.

Aged Woman in Traffic Crash Is Near Death

Thrown to the ground when a truck in which she was riding collided with a large touring car at Santa Monica Boulevard and Beachwood Drive, Hollywood, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Anna Grant, 70 years of age, was probably fatally injured. She was taken to the receiving hospital by Officers Garot and Lackman of the Hollywood police. Attending surgeons stated that she had concussion of the brain and other injuries.

In a statement made to Officer Lackman following the accident, Willard Gwin, 5163 Fountain avenue, driver of the truck, declared that he was attempting to turn off Santa Monica Boulevard when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Grant, who lives at 3823 South Hope street, was said to have been searching for work and was believed to have accepted a lift in the truck.

Titian's Birthplace

The house at Pieve de Cadore in which the great painter Titian was born, has been proclaimed a national monument by the government, as has the birthplace of the poet Count Vittorio Alfieri at Asti.

NURSES GRADUATE TONIGHT

SMUGGLING OF ALIENS COMBATTED

Official Says Hundreds Barred by Law Slip Over Line From Mexico

Hundreds of aliens barred under the 3 per cent law from entrance to this country are slipping across the Mexican border into California, Alfred M. Barrett, Immigration Inspector in charge of this district, said yesterday, and he has turned his entire force to work on the problem, neglecting for the time Chinese smuggling.

Most of the aliens are Italians, Greeks and Armenians who have been landed in Central America or the west coast of Mexico and have made their way to Ensenada. Friends and relatives camp along the border in automobiles, according to the inspector, to give them swift passage northward when they have smuggled themselves across the boundary.

In the case of Chinese a check can be made because each is required to have a paper showing he is legally in the country. No such check can be made of other aliens, as they are not required to have papers. Another difficulty of the immigration officers, the inspector says, is the presentation of manufactured evidance that aliens seeking entrance from Mexico have lived in that country two years.

"My force is entirely inadequate to cope with the situation," the inspector said.

Authority on Optometry Is Speaking Here

Dr. Frederick A. Woll, known thrpughout Europe and the United States as an authority on the eye, addressed the members of the Los Angeles County Association of Optometrists last night at Paulais, delivering the first of a series of educational lectures. Dr. Woll arrived in Los Angeles yesterday.

Dr. Woll is a member of the New York State Board of Optometry, professor of optometry in Columbia University, and the author of several books on optometry and the anatomy of the eye.

Recently he was requested by the United States government to make a survey of welfare work and hygiene taught in the schools and colleges of the country. This work is now under way and will lead eventually, it is expected, to a compulsory free examination of the eyes of all pupils in the schools of the nation. This is being done in several States now.

Probably more eyes are examined by Dr. Woll than any other person in the world, it is stated. In Los Angeles the League for the Conservation of Vision has already taken up the work of free examination of the eyes of school pupils and it is hoped that as a result of Dr. Woll's visit such examination may be carried on in schools all over the State.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights Dr. Woll will give a series of lectures and demonstrations before the optometrical profession of Southern California at the Los Angeles School of Optometry, eleventh floor, Wright and Callender Building.

Age Wearies of Youth; Girl Wife Granted Decree

The story of marriage between a girl 14 years of age and a man of 55 that lasted twelve years was told to Judge Keetch in Superior Court yesterday. The judge granted a divorce to Jessie May Bond from James C. Bond.

The first two years of their marriage, Bond was very attentive and they were happy, she said, but after that he seemed to tire of her. He compelled her to work as a farm laborer on their farm in Colorado, she declared, and at last deserted her.

Changes Van to Von to Indicate Noble Descent

Emily Susanna Van Buren of Venice yesterday appeared in Superior Court to ask the change of a single letter in her name. She requested that the Van be changed to Von.

Miss Van Buren told the court that she was descended from a noble family of Germany and that her grandfather had changed the family name from Von to Van when he came to this country. She said that she was proud of her lineage and wanted to resume the proper family name.

Her request was granted.

Millions removed the film

You know them by their whiter teeth

When you see pretty teeth, remember this.

There is now a new way of teeth cleaning. Millions of people employ it. All the world over leading dentists advise it.

It will do for you what it does for others. The results will amaze and delight you. A ten-day test to prove this will be sent you if you ask.

That dingy film

Teeth are made dingy by a film — that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance to ferment and form acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

That's why few escaped tooth troubles, and why beautiful teeth were seen less often than now. No old-time tooth paste could effectively fight film.

Now different

Now you can combat it. Dental science has found two effective ways. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research, and these two great film destroyers were embodied in it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Careful people of some 50 nations are employing it today.

Free
A 10-Day Tube
See Coupon

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Other needs

Research proved other things essential. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Pepsodent is bringing a new dental era through these unique effects.

New beauty comes

Pepsodent brings whiter teeth, cleaner, safer teeth, and quickly. One week will prove this to you.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Compare your teeth then with your teeth today, and let the results decide for you. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

FREE COURSE OF SALESMANSHIP.
BY
CHARLES W. PRESTON.
LEARN AT NIGHT. WORK DAYS.

Don't waste your best days struggling as a weekly wage earner; forge ahead into the front ranks of specialty selling where the money is made. The trained specialty salesman is independent—he is in big demand, for the world's products must not only be manufactured, they must be distributed. And THAT takes man-power.

This opportunity is offered by one of the largest manufacturers in the U. S. who is in need of man-power. Mr. Chas. W. Preston, the instructor is one of national prominence. He gives just the help that salesmen feel need of in getting attention, holding attention and closing sales. He has helped thousands of young men to get from under pressure of low wages.

NOTICE TO RECENT BUYERS

IN

SUNNY SLOPE ACRES

We urge you to call and see the wonderful developments that have taken place in the last two months in our district. Miles of streets are being finished. Many homes under construction, and in every way we are advancing very fast. We are still exporting wonderful sales of our quarter, half and acre sites; many resales have been made at a handsome profit, and after visiting our district you will be convinced that you have made a sound investment. Many who have purchased in Units Number 1 and 2 are securing additional sites in Unit Number 3, which we have just opened for sale. Unit Number 3 carries the same guarantee of first-class street improvements and restricted against shacks.

Once more we urge you to inspect what we are offering.

Call at 517 Douglas building, or take Alhambra car to end of line, 100 San Gabriel Blvd., or drive due east of Alhambra to tract.

OIL ON BILLOWS IN CHURCH FIGHT

Lawyer Questions Cleric on Speculations

Operations Justified Because of Financial Stress

Elder Clears Up Issue of Childlessness

Oil appeared on the troubled waters that swirled about the affairs of the Church of Christ of Long Beach in Judge Hardy's court yesterday during the hearing of the injunction suit brought by one faction of the congregation to prevent another faction from retaining control of the church government.

The suit was brought by Elder M. S. Rucker and others against Evangelist A. E. Harper and others after Elder Rucker was ousted.

But the oil that poured forth on the turbulent sea was not there as a quietus to the disturbance. It was crude oil, the very stuff that is belched forth from the bosom of Signal Hill and proves to be a lure to the speculator.

OIL SPECULATION

The broad insinuation had been made by the opposition that Evangelist Harper had failed to serve the Long Beach congregation as he should have served it because he spent too much time "speculating in oil."

"No, sir, I did not speculate in oil," Mr. Harper answered in reply to a question put by F. A. Knight, attorney for the petitioners.

"What would you call it; you were selling oil land down in Long Beach, weren't you?" Attorney Knight continued.

The witness replied in the affirmative.

Right here Judge Hardy interposed and observed that merely because a man sold lots, and the evidence did not show that his activities were confined to Long Beach, he could not be called an oil speculator.

"Well, down in Long Beach we all call it speculating in oil," Mr. Knight remarked.

The courtroom full of spectators, most of them church members, burst into knowing laughter.

Further questioning by Attorney Clark, representing Mr. Harper, revealed that the witness could not justly be characterized as an evangelist who went among the flock with the Bible in one hand and a sheaf of oil stock in another. He was simply trying to relieve financial stress not unknown to the clergy by selling land on the side, he said.

MOOT QUESTION

Mr. Harper, who was on the witness stand throughout the day, threw light on the moot question among congregations of the Church of Christ as to whether the lack of children in his family would disqualify a man from serving as an elder in the church.

"If it developed that an elder in a congregation did not have a child such a question would not be raised by a visiting evangelist, nor would it be touched on unless raised by some member of the congregation," he testified.

The question was raised by certain members of the Long Beach congregation against Mr. Rucker, it was said. Charges that he taught it was not necessary for an elder to have children were "shelved," however. When he and Elder Taylor learned that the charges had been made, they took the accusing members to task for it. Eleven of them were read out of the church by the two elders. The congregation then took the matter into its own hands and Rucker and Taylor were deposed.

Despite orders of Judge Hardy to speed things up, the trial will consume another day, it was expected.

BODY FORMED TO AID LATIN-AMERICA TRADE

EFFORTS ARE MADE TO HALT ORIENTAL INFLUX IN MERCANTILE ZONE

A Latin-American Chamber of Commerce has been organized, under the auspices of El Tempo, a Spanish local daily paper, for the purpose of exploiting Latin-American and Mexican trade.

Efforts will be made to halt the invasion of the orientals who for some time have spread into the Mexican mercantile zone of this city.

Clarence H. Matson, manager of the trade extension department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, has expressed his desire to co-operate with the Latin-American Chamber of Commerce and has offered the assistance of his department.

A committee has been formed to formulate the functions of the new organization and has elected Dr. A. Paullais, Councillor of Nicaragua, president; Senor Salvador Diaz, vice-president; Hellidaro Duenes, secretary, and M. Calderon, treasurer. Those elected to the board of directors were, Senora Maria Cruz, Senor Rafael Ibarra, Agustin T. Haro, Manuel B. Mayo, Frank J. Barry, Salvador Diaz and Pablo Baca.

It is asserted that thousands of dollars, in profits from the daily trade in this section, have been going to the Japanese merchants who exploit the Mexican products.

The next meeting will be held Monday at 143½ South Broadway, and will be open to the public.

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE BECAUSE OF ILLNESS

OIL WORKER OF MONTEREL-LO SWALLOWS POISON AT HIS HOME

Despondent because of poor health, Raymond Ames, an oil worker, ended his life last night at his home in Montebello by swallowing a quantity of poison.

Doctors worked for nearly an hour in an effort to save the man's life, after being notified by the man's wife that he had taken the poison. Ames was 37 years of age and lived at 110 North Fifth street, Montebello. The body is being held by the Ruppe Mortuary pending funeral arrangements.

STARS DEPICT MEXICAN LIFE

Venture Promotes Closer Amity

Senoritas Elvira Ortiz and Sara Chacon

TO PICTURIZE Mexico, its peoples, their lives and customs as it really exists, will be the impelling motive behind a new independent motion-picture concern soon to be established here, backed by local and Mexican capital. This was the announcement yesterday of Constantino V. Riccardi, associated with and local representative of Frank C. Drew, San Francisco attorney.

And to prove that the company is on the verge of beginning production activities, Mr. Riccardi introduced two of the southern republic's fairest daughters—Senoritas Sara Chacon and Elvira Ortiz—each admitting to being 20 years of age, and of unquestioned cinema popularity in Mexico.

Both girls are of the true Mexican type and are attractive to a high degree. With their raven-black hair, liquid eyes, enviable complexions and figures, and lips the color of a pomegranate, they promise to cause some of their American sisters to look to their laurels. Both are talented, as their previous activities with Mexican producing concerns attest.

Riccardi declared yesterday that while only pictures depicting Mexican life will be produced, and many exterior scenes shot in Mexico, the center of all producing activities will be in Hollywood, because of the facilities afforded.

Those behind the venture feel that the production of pictures showing life as it really is in Mexico will do much to promote a more friendly feeling between the United States and Mexico. Various American producing companies for years have been turning out pictures which antagonized the people of the southern republic, because almost invariably the Mexican characters were not true to life and tended to show that the citizens of Mexico are composed, for the most part, of bandits, cutthroats and others equally villainous.

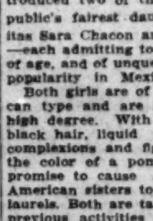
The Senoritas Chacon and Ortiz are from Mexico City where they are socially prominent, and both have starred in photoplays produced by the Torres Film Company and the Camus Film Company, this latter the pioneer producing concern of Mexico.

Further announcements concerning activities of the company will be made in the immediate future, Riccardi promised yesterday.

DECREE IS AWARDED ACTRESS

Pearl Lecaux Freed From Husband She Told Court Was Poor Provider

Mrs. Pearl Olga Stacy, better known by her stage name of Pearl Lecaux, yesterday was granted a divorce from her husband, Harry M. Stacy, a jewelry salesman, in Judge Craig's department of Superior Court. She charged that her husband failed to support her.



Pearl O Stacy

The two were married in May, 1917, and lived in Los Angeles. Mrs. Stacy said they separated after a quarrel in September, 1921, and she returned to New York to resume work on the stage.

The quarrel concerned money, Mrs. Stacy said. She related that she asked her husband for some money. He flew into a rage, she said, and told her that he would not give her any. At the same time, she testified, he drew out his bank book and showed her he had a balance of $1000.

Mrs. Stacy said her husband once told her: "No other man would ever marry you."

ANNUAL DOG SHOW OPEN TOMORROW

Large List is Entered Representing Almost All Breeds Known

Friday and Saturday will be "dog days" on the calendar of Los Angeles, for the annual show of the Los Angeles Kennel Club opens tomorrow at the Ambassador, with one of the largest entry lists ever compiled for a local canine exhibition. In all 493 dogs are entered representing practically every species known.

One of the feature dogs of the show is Prince, a highly pedigreed Russian wolfhound, brought here from Siberia by Miss Marjorie Carville, dance artiste who returned recently from an extended tour of the Orient.

Boston terriers are leading in the entries according to Sherwood Hall, superintendent of the exposition. Sixty Bostons are entered with wire haired fox terriers running second with forty-five entrants. Shepherds or German police dogs run a close third with forty-three, while fourth honors go to the Pekingese pups, represented by forty-two entries.

Other breeds include: Cocker spaniels, thirty-three, St. Bernards three, Great Danes four, Russian wolfhounds nine, pointers eight, greyhounds five, English setters five, pomeranians fourteen, toy spaniels two, toy terriers two, Brussels griffons nine, Italian greyhounds one, Irish setters seventeen, badger dogs one, whiffets two, Old English sheep dogs three, bull terriers fifteen, bull dogs thirty-five, French bulls seventeen, Eskimos one, collies twenty-three, poodles two, chows seventeen, doberman pinschers seven, Seelingham terriers two, Irish terriers twelve, West Highland white haired terriers four, Scottish terriers thirteen, airedale terriers twenty-three, smooth haired fox terriers five, miscellaneous nine.

Federal Aide in Fraud Case Cites Favors

Alfred T. Nelson, a government clerk at the sale of surplus Army goods at Camp Kearney in February, 1922, received many courtesies at the hands of some of the defendants being tried for asserted conspiracy to defraud the government, he testified yesterday before Judge James and a jury in United States District Court. These consisted, he said, of free automobile rides, the payment of his hotel bill at San Diego and at Santa Barbara, some joy rides to Tijuana and some visits to Los Angeles.

These were showered upon him, he said, by Ben Sugarman and some of the Greenburgs, defendants in the trial. Nelson occupied an adjoining room to some of the defendants at San Diego. Nelson said these things were merely "friendly courtesies."

Used as Target, Patient Wife is Seeking Divorce

A doll thrown at Mrs. Sophie Weiner by her husband, Louis Weiner, decided her to sue for divorce, she asserted yesterday in her complaint filed in Superior Court.

Before the doll episode, Mrs. Weiner declared, her husband chased her from home in her nightie, made her sleep on the floor, dragged her eight blocks from a party, dragged her from a department store, charged her with flirting, slapped her, stayed out night and gambled. She stood for all this, but the doll was too much, she said.

COLBURN OPENS DOOR TO BEAUTY

Throngs View Many Amazing Creations in New Store

Cinema Stars Pose in Furs From Ends of World

Firm in Modern Home After Twenty Years of Business

BY OLIVE GRAY

Comparable in beauty to the masterpieces created therein, and a veritable Louvre for treasures in fur, the new home of Colburn's opened its doors yesterday.

Between the hours of 10 and 12 and 2 and 5 o'clock, throngs of guests viewed appreciatively the luxurious quarters and were interested spectators of the fur fashion revue.

Twenty years in Los Angeles business have written the history of Colburn success, culminating in the edifice said to transcend in elegance anything of its kind.

Architecture and furnishings are empire in style, borrowing from the monarchical period all that was most chaste and adding all that is modern in comfort and convenience.

The main salon, affording a sense of almost cathedral-like spaciousness, is warmed to a genial atmosphere by means of royal blue velvert carpets, and the soft ivory of walls and ceilings is enhanced by a painted frieze in tones of sunny cerulean blues. Tables, chairs and consoles in polished walnut lend a home-like air, further emphasized by the absence of visible stock. Wall candelabra and inverted alabaster bowls suspended from the arched vault shed a chastened light, which bursts into high color upon huge urns of flowers and ferns and which come to focus upon the wondrous pageantry of the processional mannequins as they appeared upon the double stairway displaying to a breathless audience fur garments created by geniuses especially brought forth for the opening.

A FEW CREATIONS

Impressed most vividly upon the retina of memory were: The Butterfly, a wrap whose long, straight skirt of black caracul resembled the body of the gay flutterer, as the sleeves mimicked h shape its wings. The wings were of white caracul in striking contrast to the body. The Flame, a sumptuous wrap, also in caracul, the full sweep of the cape bordered in black, presenting to poetic fancy an effect of leaping tongues of fire encroaching upon a snowy field. The Stiletto, close-swathing the form in steel and dark silver peltry.

It was difficult for milady to choose from among the many presentations as mannequin after mannequin, each a cinema star, perfect in carriage and artistic pose, under the capable direction of Peggy Hamilton, appeared, paused for inspection and passed to make way for one equally engaging.

Stepping to music, each expressing in her deportment the spirit of the costume—gay, demure, puritanical, debonnaire—these stars received hearty commendation.

In addition to the original creations of the house of Colburn, many examples chosen by Mrs. Colburn at the international fur exposition held recently in Madison Square Garden were shown. While long wraps predominated, there was no lack of jacquettes possessing novel features; jacquettes formed from baron duke, from broadtial, summer ermine, natural and fancy caracul. One chic garment was created from a newly introduced fur, pewitsky, a sort of Russian squirrel; another, builded after the manner of the peasant's sacque, was of summer ermine dyed to a silvery tone.

STARS HOLD RECEPTION

Sables, ermine, seal and mole were present in perfection. The straight silhouette was especially emphasized, but many wraps disported the flaring flounce or a circular motion in the skirt. Millinery from Swobdi struck a high note in the harmony of each ensemble. The swagger stick, brought out by Mmes. Colburn, enlivened many costumes—a new and elaborated swagger stick not heretofore dreamed of. Throughout the salons a noticeable innovation was observed in the pillows of fur, leopard, tiger and seal, which rested upon chairs, lounges and floors, in comparison to the great rugs of polar bear, African tiger and other furry accessories.

The congratulatory floral pieces were lavish and lovely, many bearing particular reference to the occasion. For example, a white fox, of neck-scarf proportions, formed from white sweet peas.

At the close of the Fur Revue fourteen cinema stars held an informal reception. Donna Vanna, of the Greenwich Follies, who appeared in several strikingly handsome costumes, was especially applauded.

Guests were treated to a tour through the establishment where they were privileged to see furs in the making. Capacious cutting and fitting rooms, shipping halls, a French evening room, a treasure vault for rare pelts, and finished furs and a commodious storage vault wherein furs are kept below freezing temperature, thus being restored to pristine freshness and beauty, are among the conveniences.

Parking space for patrons, light, airy work-rooms and offices and a private nook where credits may be established and checks written, are among the considerate provisions in this exceptionally complete, and well-thought-out establishment.

Officers of the firm are Albert E. Colburn, president; Arthur W. Isaacs, general manager, and Mrs. Albert E. Colburn, vice-president.

No merchandise was sold yesterday at the new location, No. 716-718 South Flower street, but the business of Colburn's will henceforth be concentrated here. Fully 100 per cent more working and selling-space has been added in the new home.

MacCURDY IN CITY TO APPROVE OF PICTURE

James Kyle MacCurdy, well-known New York playwright, is in Los Angeles to approve the completed production of "Broken Hearts of Broadway" made by Irving Cummings from an adaptation by Hope Loring and Louis D. Lighton of MacCurdy's stage play of the same name.

SILVER FIRM PAYS EXTRA CASH SHARE

Rand Incorporated Directors Vote Dividend; Large Balance Remains on Hand

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 6.—Entailing a total distribution of $125,000, an extra dividend of 10 cents a share was voted at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the California Rand Silver, Incorporated, one of the properties of the Randsburg district.

The regular monthly dividend of 2 cents a share has also been paid, this amounting to $25,600. A total of $153,600 is thus distributed to the stockholders. Since it has been in operation, the mine has paid dividends amounting to $2,553,600 over a period of four years. The treasurer's report, received at the monthly meeting, shows that a cash balance of $454,000 remains on hand.

It is declared that even under the conditions of the Pittman Act, placing the price of silver at 66 cents an ounce, instead of $1, the directors hope to continue to operate the property at a profit.

During May the mine produced 7809 tons of milling ore and 1024 tons of shipping ore. The 400-ton mill made 680 tons of concentrates from low-grade ore of the average value of $18.94. The concentrates averaged $288.53, and the total smelter returns for the month were $238,298.51.

Alfred Harrell, president of the company, will attend a meeting of all silver producers of North and South America to convene at Reno in August, the purpose being to formulate plans to stabilize the price of silver.

WILL CHECK DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS

Local Collector to Use Field Force in Hurried Round-up

The extra field force of the local office of Collector Goodcell is to be utilized this month for rounding up delinquent Federal taxpayers.

With the opening of the summer season, many operators of beach concessions, summer resorts, public exhibitions and automobiles for hire, have failed to register and pay a special tax.

Collector Goodcell says his policy is to round up all these delinquents before July 1 next, the beginning of the new fiscal year, in order that the short-time penalty only may be imposed and the special taxpayer be enabled to begin the year by paying his current taxes. Delinquents who fail to obtain their special tax stamps before August 1 will be subject to both short and long-time penalties.

Two thousand distraint warrants for the collection of delinquent taxes of all classes have been placed in the hands of field deputies and are being served.

City Appeals Court Ruling in Water Bill

An appeal from the judgment of the Superior Court allowing the recovery by the Los Angeles Country Club Corporation from the city, as represented by the Board of Public Service Commissioners, of $756.04, asserted overcharge for water furnishe the club by the municipality, was filed yesterday in the local office of the State Supreme Court.

The case, involving the supplying of water for combined purposes of irrigation and domestic use to the Los Angeles Country Club, which covers a domain of 400 acres and keeps up a well-grassed golf course in addition to spacious tennis courts, attracted considerable attention when it was heard in April last in Judge Craig's division of the Superior Court.

The excess rate, it was shown in evidence produced by the club organization, was put into effect January 1, 1922. The sum which the court ordered remitted by the city included the separate items of $692.06 for water overcharge, $35.58 interest, computed from July of last year, and $21.10 court costs.

ENDS OWN LIFE NEAR CEMETERY

The body of C. Gerisch, 60 years of age of 5422 Eighth avenue, was found hanging from the limb of a tree in front of Inglewood Cemetery late yesterday afternoon by Constable G. W. Reynolds of Inglewood.

Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald found a receipt for clothes in the pockets of the deceased which identified him. No motive for the deed could be found among the papers in his possession, Reynolds said. County officials communicated with Curt Gerisch, 1055 West Fifty-fifth street, who said he was the son-in-law of the suicide. The body is being held at the morgue of the Inglewood Undertaking Company.

Woman Target of Mate's Gun, Granted Decree

Mrs. Sophie Barragan, whose husband, Peter H. Barragan, shot her twice July 26, 1922, got a divorce from him yesterday in Judge Summerfield's court. Barragan was sent to San Quentin for the shooting.

Mrs. Barragan said she was working in the laundry of the Beverly Hills Hotel when Barragan suddenly appeared.

"I heard you had a good time Sunday," he said, according to the testimony, and then fired.

The couple were married in 1901. Gates & Randles acted as Mrs. Barragan's counsel.

COMPANY LAYS RAIL TO TIMBER

Sugar Pine Interests Strike Sierra Nevada Belt

Other Concerns Plan Greater Lumbering Activity

Theater Chain Will Build or Buy in Fresno

FRESNO, June 6.—Construction of the Sugar Pine Lumber Company's railroad from Crane Valley dam to Central Camp, in the big timber belt of the Sierra Nevada, was begun yesterday after the completion of the line of the Minarets and Western Railroad from Friant to the dam.

The lumber company's road will be eleven miles long and will connect the center of its logging operations with Wishon, the Minarets and Western's terminus at Crane Valley dam. Timber will be brought out over the Minarets and Western to Friant, over Southern Pacific tracks to Pinedale Junction and again over Minarets and Western rails to the Sugar Pine mill at Pinedale, seven miles north of Fresno.

Laying of the Minarets and Western line was begun May 14 and the last spike was driven Monday. Locomotives and a number of cars for use on the line have been received. Other equipment will be on hand by the time the lumber company's tracks are laid. Logging and mill operations are to follow immediately. Ultimately Fresno street cars are to run to Pinedale and transfer passengers to gasoline cars on the Minarets and Western; the arrangement will give a quick all-rail passenger service from Fresno into the mountains.

CREWS TO BE PUT ON

Indicating a great activity in lumbering this season, to which the Sugar Pine company will be a major contributor, other concerns are announcing plans for extending operations.

With the sawmill of the Sanger Lumber Company at Hume, in the Sierra Nevada, working with one crew, announcement was made yesterday by George A. Hume, president of the company, that an additional crew will be put on this week. It will work a night shift. Three hundred loggers and sawmill men will be employed at Hume through the summer and the daily cut will be 150,000 board feet.

Pending reconstruction of the long-disused sixty-three-mile flume that will deliver the boards from the sawmill to the planing mill and box factory at Sanger, the lumber will be piled in the yards at Hume. Repairs on the flume are being made by a crew of 100 men and are expected to be finished in about two weeks.

Operations at Sanger will begin in about a month and 300 mill and yard men will be given employment there.

WOMEN IN FIELD MEET

Women of the Fresno State College have set aside tomorrow to demonstrate their athletic prowess. It will be their field day and graduating seniors from all valley high schools will be asked to attend. The event is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association and the Physical Education Club.

In the afternoon there will be a field and track meet, a tennis tournament, a swimming meet and a baseball game. The evening will be devoted to a pantomime and a social dance.

WEST COAST EXPANDS

Announcement was made here yesterday by Adolph Ramish, treasurer of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., that the company will buy or build a motion-picture theater in Fresno in the near future.

He said plans to purchase a Fresno theater have met with little success and that if a deal now on foot is not consummated, the West Coast concern will build in accordance with arrangements to be made by the San Francisco executives of his concern. No site for the proposed new playhouse has been chosen.

WIFE CHARGES PERJURY

Following the filing of an answer and cross-complaint by the wife, in which she charges perjury on the part of her husband, Superior Judge Strother will on Friday hear arguments on an order to set aside an interlocutory divorce decree granted March 31 to George A. Smith from Mary E. Smith. Smith has been formally charged with perjury in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hogan.

Mrs. Smith sets out in her cross-complaint that her husband swore falsely that he did not know her address at the time the divorce action was begun. She says also that he did not set forth the true facts in connection with the community property and that he deceived the court in order to get hold of "many thousands" of dollars not rightfully his.

Smith is a retired engineer of the Southern Pacific Company. Much property is involved in the dispute.

COUPLE REMARRIED

Fred Rambus, charged with an offense against his 14-year-old sister-in-law, yesterday was married to the woman he had believed to be his legal wife for a number of years.

The two immigrated to this country from Russia and soon were married by a Russian clergyman. They did not know they had to have a license. This oversight in the nuptials was discovered by Probation Officer Akers yesterday during an investigation of Rambus's request for probation on the statutory charge.

Akers immediately recommended that there be a new wedding and Rambus and the sister of the girl he is accused of having wronged were married a second time, in the presence of County Clerk Barnwell, with court officials as witnesses. Rambus is 32 years of age and his wife is 23.

ANGELENO MARRIES IN EAST

Frederick J. Wright, Jr., of Los Angeles, was married yesterday to Miss Marintha Bradley Patten of Watertown, Mass., according to dispatches from there. Wright was formerly in the employ of Barker Brothers here, and is well known in local amateur golf circles. He is also a member of the Walker Cup team which went to England this year. The newlyweds are now on their way to Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Victim's Taunts Are Paid for by Broken Jawbone

Shortly before noon yesterday, two bandits stopped James Douglas of 737 Central avenue, and forced him into a doorway at Seventh and Merchant streets.

They took $4 from him and when he taunted them with the small amount of money he carried, they attacked him and beat him almost into unconsciousness. Douglas was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from a broken jaw and other injuries.

A few minutes later, a solitary bandit, believed to be one of the pair that attacked Douglas, stopped Filbert Bonnare of 216 Boyle avenue near the intersection of Seventh and Santa Fe streets. The robber took $5 from Bonnare and then struck him several times over the head and face. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

Recluse Is Hit by Truck; Left Dying in Ditch

Found lying in a ditch at One Hundred and Second street and Moneta avenue last night in a semi-unconscious condition, R. McMullen, 65 years of age, a ditch digger living in a shack at Figueroa and One Hundred and Eighth streets, died shortly after being taken to the Receiving Hospital.

When his clothing was searched the apparently friendless and fundless recluse was found to have $963.72 in a secret pocket.

The man was found by C. Clark, 1063 West One Hundred and Fourth street. McMullen said he had been injured by a truck.

Detective L. G. White is investigating in an effort to find the driver of the truck.

FLOWER CLUB PICNIC

The Wild Flower Club of Southwest Museum will have a picnic supper at the Griffith Park picnic grounds Saturday evening, preceded at 5 p.m. with a lesson by Miss Belle R. Smith and followed at 6 p.m. with the Sierra Club annual campfire. Miss H. R. Spalding is leader.

No More Gray H
—Says Science

Wonderful Clean, Colorless Liquid Restores Original Color
Results in a Week

Science again has scored a triumph in the discovery of a very remarkable liquid known as Kolor-Bak. If you are gray, just apply this liquid to the hair and scalp and your hair will soon take on the actual color it had in the past. Not a trace of grayness will remain.

Kolor-Bak comes in the form of a clean and colorless liquid, containing properties which quickly restore the lost color to the hair and give it renewed vigor. And note that the one preparation is for all colors of hair. No special solution required for each color—no samples of hair required.

You will find also that with Kolor-Bak the hair has the same shade throughout. It does not appear streaked, faded or "dyed."

Every scientist, every physician, knows that gray hair is hair that has ceased to receive its normal supply of coloring matter or pigment from certain tiny cells (called follicles or papillæ) in the scalp, because these cells have become inactive from illness, shock of some kind, scalp disease, dandruff, infection, neglect of the hair, or lack of circulation, etc. But no matter what the cause of the grayness, it is simply amazing to see how it disappears when Kolor-Bak is used. It is a real substitute for the natural pigmentation.

Special Price Sale
6 Days Only
$1.29
Regular Price $1.50

For Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair
Kolor-Bak also works wonders in cases of dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. It cleanses the scalp and hair, but does not stain it in the slightest degree. Use it for its dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.
